*Mary, men and angels sing,
Maria Mother of our King.
Live rosy Princess, live, and may the bright
Crown of a most incomparable light
Embrace thy radiant brows. O may the best
Of everlasting joys bathe thy white breast.
Live our chaste love, the holy mirth
Of heaven, the humble pride of earth.
Live crown of women, queen of men,
Live mistress of our song; and when
Our weak desires have done their best,
Sweet angels come, and sing the rest.*

DEDICATION

We dedicate the 1986 St David's College Review to our new College Chaplain, Father B. Brewer S.J.

Having spent the past sixteen years at St George's College in Harare, Zimbabwe, 14 of them in a senior capacity with special responsibility for school discipline, Father Brewer certainly has an understanding of young men, their lifestyles and problems. We are indeed fortunate to be able to benefit from his experience and expertise.

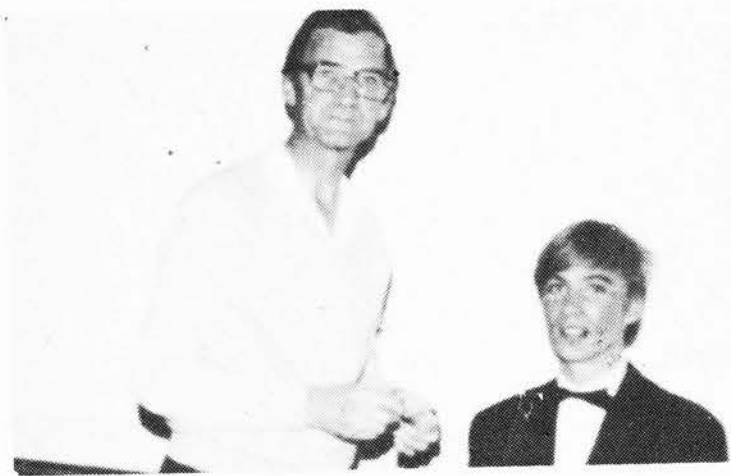

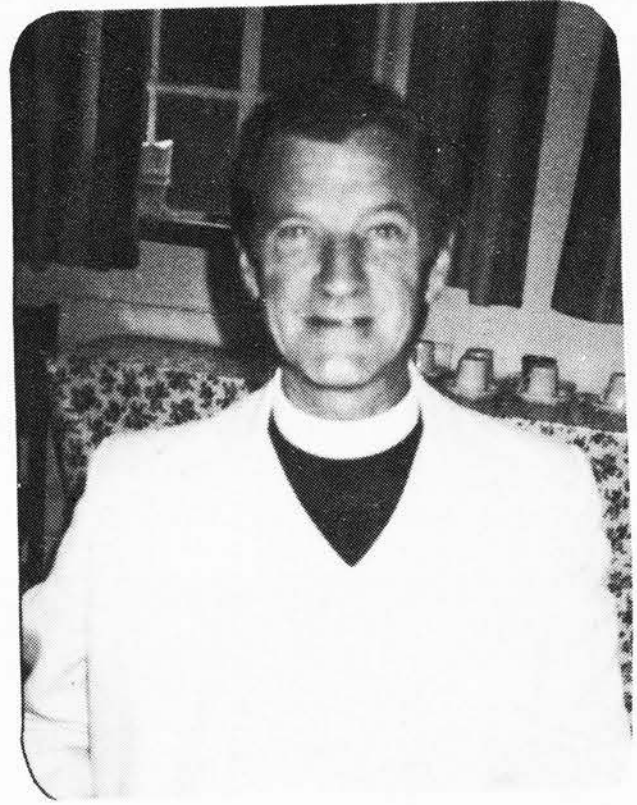

Father Brewer matriculated at St Aidan's, Grahamstown in 1952 and later taught for four years, during which time he gained his B.A. degree at Rhodes University. Father Brewer then went to the United Kingdom to study for the priesthood and was ordained in 1967. He served in numerous parishes before joining the staff at St George's.

In no time at all Father Brewer has integrated into the Marist Family at St David's College and has made his presence felt in all spheres of school life. Not only does Father Brewer see to the spiritual needs of the school community, but he also has a vital role to play in the field of pastoral care. Father admits that he has a special feeling for those youngsters with a sense of adventure that sometimes gets them into a little trouble and sees part of his task to help the boys recognise their inner strengths and weaknesses.

We thank Father Brewer for his interest, loyal support and active participation in the many and varied extra curricular activities that the College offers.

We welcome Father Brewer to our family and wish him a long and happy stay with us, acknowledging the important role that he has to play at our College that aspires to follow the example set by our founder, Blessed Marcellin Champagnat. Humility, modesty, simplicity and service are pillars of Marist education and in this respect Father Brewer is an example to us all.

MESSAGE FROM THE HEADMASTER

The prefects elect for 1987 chose a passage from 1 Corinthians 12 ("One body with many parts") as the theme for their Assembly held shortly after their appointment. Their reading concluded with the words:

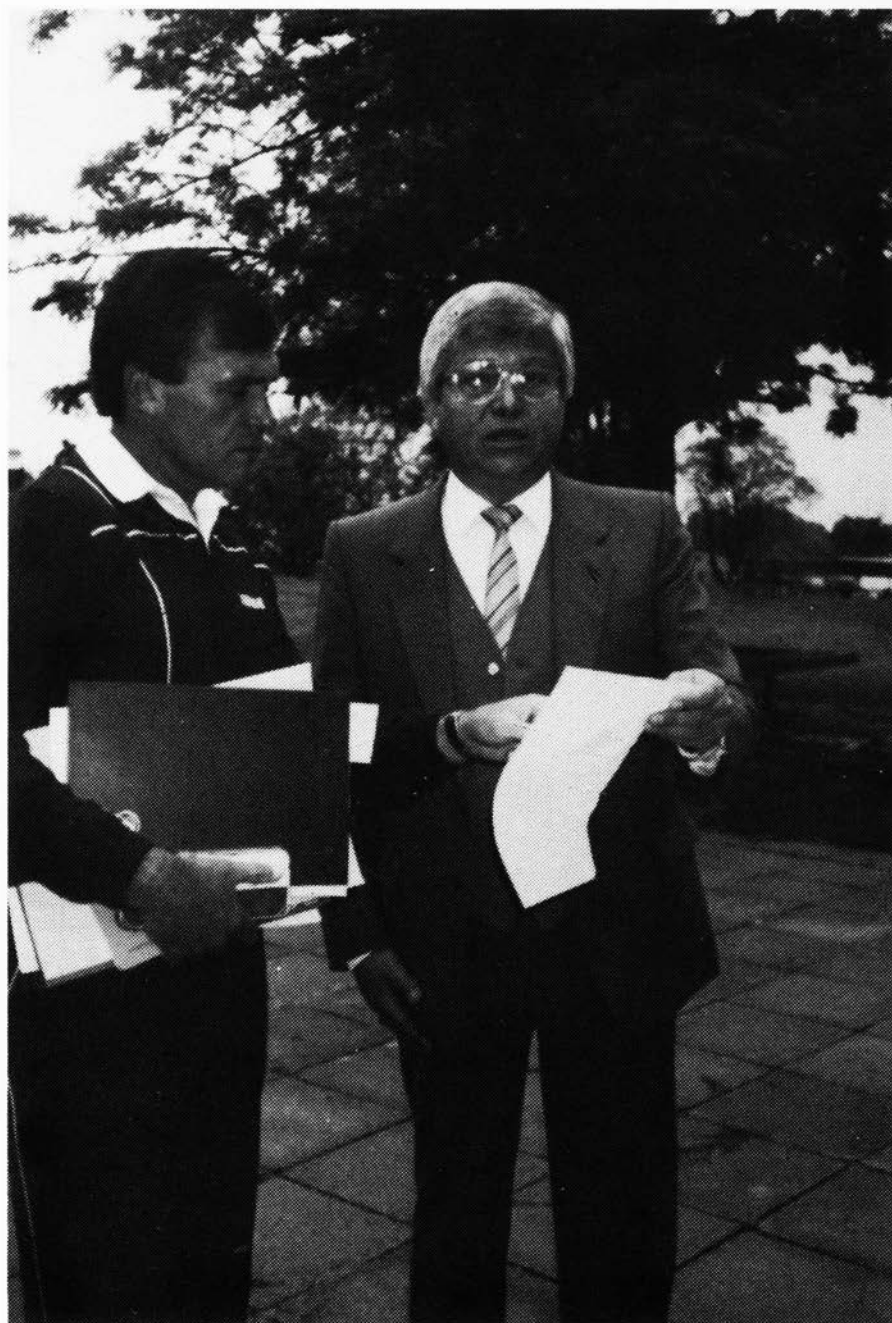

"And so there is no division in the body, but all its different parts have the same concern for one another. If one part of the body suffers, all the other parts suffer with it; if one part is praised, all the other parts share its happiness".

I thought it a most appropriate choice for the occasion. The passage served to remind both boys and staff that we all have an essential role to play in the continued well being of the College. It follows that this must also include the many other parts — parents, Old Boys, etc. — that make up the body of the St David's Family. It is through active participation and involvement, through sharing and caring, that a renewed spirit and unity of purpose will emerge.

1987 will undoubtedly bring with it greater challenges, which in turn will necessitate a great commitment on the part of ALL involved at St David's. This will give new meaning and direction to our College motto: "Confortare esto vir" — "Take courage and be a man"!

I wish you all a blessed Christmas and peace, good health and happiness in the New Year.

D. Boswell
Headmaster

Religious Notes

St David's College has always been and still is a Catholic school and great emphasis is placed on the religious atmosphere of the school, both inside and outside the classroom. To this end, 1986 saw the appointment to the staff of a religious co-ordinator for both the senior and junior schools: Mrs Smurthwaite to the former and Miss Jenks to the latter. It has been their responsibility to draw up and implement the syllabus appropriate to the different standards; and in doing so to cover all aspects of Christian knowledge. Each section of the syllabus is supported by well researched aids in the form of references, quotes etc. Working hand in hand with them is the new school Chaplain, Father Brewer S.J., who has replaced Monsignor Plesters who has retired after a long innings of faithful and devoted service. We wish Monsignor Plesters good health and a good rest. Father Brewer has his own office in the Senior School block and pupils are welcome to discuss any problems or matters of concern with him.

One is often asked: what is the state of religion in the school? Unlike secular subjects which are taught, learnt and examined without necessarily affecting the pupil himself personally, religion is more abstract. In religion you are dealing with a way of life, the principles and motives that govern it. It is a process of instilling Christian ideals on which the pupils can make right decisions and sound judgements. To expect immediate and concrete results is unrealistic. What can be done is to sow the seed and gradually nurture that seed. The nature of the task must of necessity begin in the home both by word and example — and the more important of these is example. How can you teach a pupil the importance of a relationship with God through prayer, the importance of attending their parish and receiving the sacraments if those he holds most dear, his family, do not regard these practices as important?

That being said, we can ask: what is St David's doing? Besides the religious classes given with great dedication by the staff, each day in the Senior School begins with a short assembly of scripture readings and prayers. Prayers are also said at the Junior School Line-Ups. On Friday mornings the Senior School have a longer assembly. Both staff and the different classes take it in turns to present their own assemblies based on a theme of their choice. Readings, hymns and appropriate prayers are selected. These assemblies prove a challenge to the participants and are interesting and inspiring for those listening. Every term each standard in the school has a class Mass and the opportunity for Confessions. There are regular First Friday Masses. On the first Sunday of the month during term time a Family Mass is held at which all parents are most welcome. Mass is held on other major occasions, e.g. Champagnat Day, the Feast of the Assumption, Ash Wednesday, etc. Several Masses are held jointly with pupils from other schools. Every morning in May, part of the Rosary is said in the Chapel. During Lent several classes did attend the Stations of the Cross. Altar Boys meet twice each week. Care is taken to prepare pupils for First Confession and first Holy Communion. At assemblies on Wednesdays the Junior School boys have very effective RE by way of school plays.

This year, the First Holy Communion will take place on October 26. Earlier in the year, thirty-five of the Standard 9 and 10 boys were confirmed at Rosebank Parish by Bishop Ormond. In the second term several guest speakers were invited to address the Standard 10 boys on a number of different topics. The resources in the RE Room have also been extended. Many new and relevant books are now contained in this room for reference by teachers of R.E.

Words alone mean nothing without action of some sort. In this respect the boys of St David's have been outstanding in putting Christian ideals into practice. The support given to Br Anthony in Slough, Operation Hunger, Children's Feeding Schemes etc is indicative of the goodwill that exists. Under the aegis of the Co-Workers various trips and expeditions were organised to enable the boys to see and experience life 'on the other side'. A lot has been done, a lot can still be done.

Father B Brewer S.J.
College Chaplain

MAY DEVOTIONS TO OUR LADY

In order to encourage devotion to Our Lady, both Senior and Junior School pupils were invited to meet in the chapel before school each day during the month of May, for meditation by way of the Rosary.

They were encouraged to follow the example of the life of Mary and to regard her as a loving Mother who prays for them and can be approached without fear.

ALTAR BOYS

Since the beginning of the second term, the two groups of altar boys have been meeting each week in the Chapel with delightful enthusiasm.

Their meetings include rehearsal of altar service, learning the names of the vestments, cleaning the chalices, making model altars, saying liturgies of the Word, reading the lives of the saints and helping in the general preparation for special Masses. Emphasis is placed on their own spiritual growth.

The altar boys are to be congratulated on the good example they are setting and thanked for providing the school with a group of reliable boys who can be called upon at any time to serve at the various school Masses.

A. Jenks
Religion Co-ordinator.

Marist Co-Workers

The Marist Co-Workers' movement has moved into its third year at St. David's and we can confidently report that it is a well-established part of the daily life of the College. Once the initial birth pangs were over the greatest danger was stagnation, but this was obviated by an infusion of new blood in the form of several new members of staff who are now fully committed Co-Workers: Fr Brewer, the College Chaplain, Mr T. Oliver, Miss A. Glenn-Thomas and Miss A. Jenks. Although Miss Jenks has formed her own Group in the Primary School, she also attends meetings and actively assists in the College Group.

I feel that it would be wrong to single out any single project as the highlight of the year, but I do feel that the visit to the Brothers' Mission at Slough should be regarded as the most important on our Group's calendar. The visit keeps both staff and boys in very close contact with the Brothers and the work among the poor to which their efforts are directed. This year the boys were accompanied by Fr Brewer, Mr Oliver, Miss Jenks, Mr de Souza, myself and Mr P. Collins, a teacher from St. Henry's.

In May we organized a soccer-cum-picnic day with our 'twin', the Witkoppen Farm School. Our Standard Six pupils challenged Witkoppen to two soccer games on their fields, so that our boys could experience at first hand the lack of proper amenities which the average black child suffers from. Mr W. Castle organised, with the generous assistance of McCullough and Bothwell Outfitters, the presentation of a complete soccer outfit to the Witkoppen First Team which was victorious. With generous donations from parents and friends we were able to treat the boys to a slap-up alfresco meal. Although I was overseas at the time because of a family illness, I was assured that Margaret, my wife, was more than an adequate stand-in. After the boys had eaten, our staff hosted the Witkoppen Staff to a cocktail party.

As reported in last year's College Review we had planned a visit each Friday by a group of our boys to Witkoppen during our Activities Period. This project is now well established. Here I am most appreciative of the assistance given by Mr Oliver and his friend Mr Nick Taylor, a Mathematics adviser to the Department of Education and Training. Both have given lessons to the pupils from both schools and to the Witkoppen Staff. During these Friday visits our boys do team-teaching as well as what they term "Homework First Aid". This means that groups of St David's pupils visit classes and assist the boys with any problems they may have had in their school work during the week. In such an atmosphere race consciousness does not exist.

The annual reunion of the various Co-Worker groups was held at St. David's on the first Sunday of May. During the discussions which follow Mass Bro. Provincial asked us to put a special emphasis on the spiritual side of the movement for the forthcoming year. Following this advice Mass was celebrated in the College Chapel on 15 August, the Feast of the Assumption. Groups from Linmeyer, Sacred Heart, Witkoppen and St. David's participated in the singing, and it was felt that this was the most suitable way of celebrating this day, as Our Lady is not only the patroness of the Marist Brothers, but also of South Africa.

In this review I shall not report on ongoing activities from last year or on Primary School activities which are dealt with by Miss Jenks.

At our Annual General Meeting in June, J.P. Genovese, G. Muller and J. Xenopolous were elected as the new Executive Committee. They replaced R. Alcock, R. Dolamore and S. Murray, who deserve a special word of thanks for the good work which they did during their year of office.

MASS OF THE ASSUMPTION

A special Mass of the Assumption on August 15, was held in the Chapel at St. David's. The best, most musical, Mass in years. Thanks to Fr Brewer, our Jesuit Chaplain and the singing of choirs from Marist schools at Inanda, Observatory and Linmeyer and by a super choir from Witkoppen Farm School.

After the Mass the children enjoyed a braai, slept at the school and were breakfasted well before they left for home. Extra blankets were kindly supplied by the Martha Washington Club and Sales House very generously provided shirts and blouses for the Witkoppen children.

Reports by children who attended

The Assumption Day Mass at St David's College last week was a really joyous occasion. The school chapel was packed with visitors from Marist Brother Linmeyer and Observatory, St David's and Witkoppen school. The Mass was said by Father Brewer, the school chaplain. The choirs from the school provided the congregation with some beautiful singing and many compliments were passed to the choirs.

Brian Steele

The informal get together held after the Assumption Mass at the cricket pavilion was, by mutual agreement of all those attending, a great success. The visitors from Witkoppen and ourselves found a compatible flow of conversation, again adding to the success of the evening.

On behalf of all who attended I would like to thank all Marist Co-workers for taking the time and organising this function — it was definitely worthwhile.

ST DAVID'S MARIST CO-WORKERS SOCCER MATCH AND PICNIC AT WITKOPPEN SCHOOL MAY 23 1986

Our Standard Six boys were made aware of the luxury of their own fields when they drew 1-1 with an U/13 soccer side and lost 1-3 to an U/14 side. Both games were played in very good spirit in the rocky and dusty highveld.

After the games, a picnic lunch was enjoyed by all 465 pupils at the school: 600 bars of chocolate donated by Nestlé; 720 cold drinks by kind favour of Coca Cola and 900 bread rolls from Manna Bakery spread by our Standard 4 boys with margarine donated by S A Milling.

Seemann's Meat Products supplied 36kg of sliced polony and Randburg Fruit and Vegetable Discounters supplied apples, oranges and tomatoes — all at wholesale prices. The purchase of the fruit and polony was made possible by the support of our boys at weekly collections made by Mr Oliver.

70 of our boys were present. It turned out to be a good Friday for Witkoppen School. Mrs Eugenia Matlou reminded us that Black people were experiencing very sad and dark days in the townships around us, but that the love manifested in what we had done, gave them hope and would be long remembered.

Our referee, Mr Willy Castle, added to a happy day by presenting the winning Witkoppen team with a set of jerseys, shorts and soccer socks, most generously donated by McCullagh and Bothwell.

The Witkoppen Principal, Mr Sam Matlou and his staff, enjoyed a post picnic reception with the St David's staff, where plans for a hymn singing get-together were discussed.

We express our grateful thanks to all who contributed towards this most worthwhile experience.

St. David's, together with King David Linksfield and King David Victory Park collected 1,5 tons of chocolate flavoured Pronutro, with the help of the Catholic Order of The Knights of Da Gama. Kenneth Morley of Cerebos Foods, who is also involved with The Knights of Da Gama receive's the cheque from Colin Blou and Sharon Bonert head boy and girl of King David Victory Park while from left, James Coutinho, and Paul Swanson from St David's, and Tall Mendelsohn from King David and Ian Halliday, Andrew Acker and Mark Ford from St David's, look on.

JUNIOR CO-WORKER FUN-HIKE JUNE 28/29

The Junior Co-Workers organised a fun-hike with the parish children of Hartebeespoort and a group of pupils from Linmeyer Marist Brothers. Weeks prior to the hike, they feverishly collected money and sent out invitations to the children at Hartebeespoort.

The purpose of the hike was threefold:

1. To encourage the children to share.
2. To show that Christianity is a way of life — not something confined to Sundays and church — and that it should be enjoyed.
3. Character building.

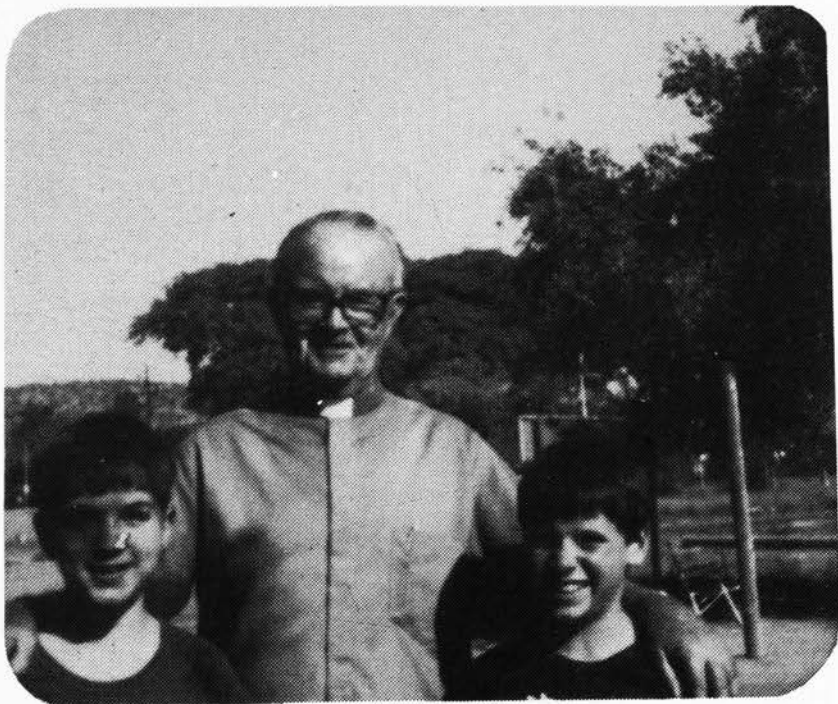

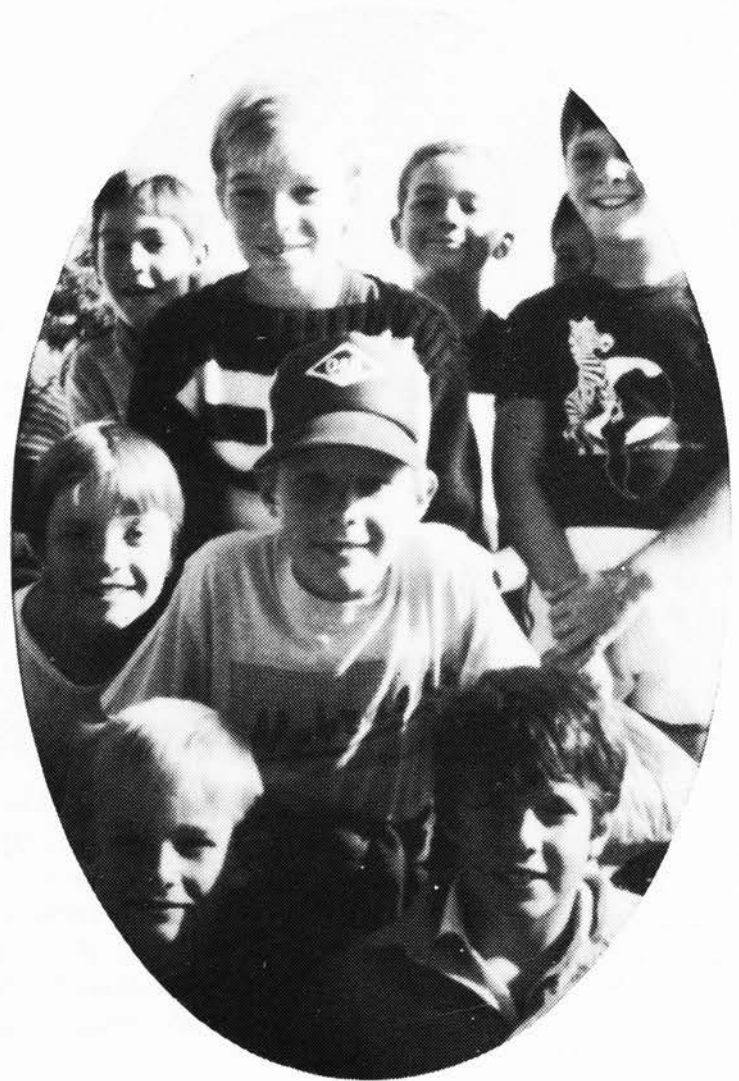

The weekend began with an outdoor Mass, followed by a nightwalk as far as the nature reserve. Then came the braai and video.

Sunday started off with a breakfast braai and a prayer service. Then those who were brave enough went up the mountain in the cable car. It was a very uplifting, peaceful experience as we sat in silence on top of the mountain, listening to the birds, breathing the fresh air, watching the concentration of a hang-glider as he prepared to take off...

The hike down the mountain served to toughen up on city boys and to stimulate their interest in nature.

It was great being out in the country, so it was with reluctance that we thanked Father Delaney and the Good Shepherd Sisters for their kind hospitality and returned home. We hope that the hike fulfilled some of its purposes and that the close contact with the beauty of nature brought the children closer to their Creator.

SLOUGH

Getting stuck in the sand is nothing new for travellers in these arid parts of Bophuthatswana, but doing so at 2.30 a.m. transporting a young pregnant girl nearing her time on the road to Bendell certainly is an experience worth relating.

Three elderly women and the grand 'kgosi' of our church here at Slough, Rva James Tawane had a short while before got out to push me backwards so that I could try the left fork of that particular road — little did we realise what sort of a track lay ahead. It was a mere 20m or so and again we sank deep into the Kalahari sands. This time it left the back axle touching the sand. We gathered some foliage, jacked up the truck and then more disaster struck: my battery was completely flat. Using my torch I saw that there were some tracks only 5m back and the ground was much firmer. My plan was then to push the truck back and on to that track in the hope that we could push-start. However, the Kalahari sands won this titanic heaving struggle, and there we sat. It was 3.15 a.m. and no moon. After a few minutes the women were suddenly terrified by the screams of nearby baboons and the wailing of jackals. We got into the truck until they moved off. Soon afterwards the pregnant girl started to have what seemed like a fit. It seemed as though the time for her baby had come, but she couldn't deliver it. Oom James then hinted at going to look for help, but being quite my senior, I dissuaded him. We decided to listen for roosters which could mean some help — we also needed water for the young girl. After an hour or so it began to get extremely cold and Oom James lit a fire from thorn bushes. At the first sight of the dawn I consoled the women and let them know that Oom James would be with them, and so I set off back for Slough. As I ran I came across quite frequent baboon tracks, apparently quite fresh, and I can assure you that my eyes scanned the countryside very sharply. Whilst running I also thought out a strategy of attack were they to attack me. It is amazing just how fine one's senses become in the stillness of that desert track. I once jumped for cover when I confronted a jackal, but luckily it was sunrise and he seemingly slunk off into hiding. As I kept running, I thought of the lives of the girl and the baby: would I get her safely to a hospital? ... would help reach them before I could get help? Please God, just a passing car — even a horse, or a donkey-cart nearby. I ran with renewed vigour when I met the crossroad that led to Slough. Soaked in perspiration I reached the first windpump, but it was dry. I ran on and ran on, not even lifting my head anymore as the sight of the long track seemed to make the road indefinite — once I was scared out of my wits by the shrill cry of a hornbill. Once or twice I stopped and listened for I thought I'd heard an on-coming vehicle — I recognised it as being the diesel pump at the village. I now began to run much faster, and by this time my legs were really aching. As I was approaching the last bend, about 2 km from Slough, along came a car. I waved it down, explained, and the driver, whom I knew very well, took me back to the mission. Thank goodness our four-wheel vehicle was still here, and both Brothers Richard and Anthony and the doctor. After my explaining the situation and giving directions, they then left, taking our workmen along to assist.

I washed and went off to teach for the rest of the day. Soon after I'd returned from school, our vehicle arrived back with the helpers and with three elderly women looking absolutely exhausted. Little did I know what distance I'd run: 23km. But more important, the girl had been taken on to Bathlaros and had indeed given birth (by Caesarian) and both were safe and well. The 23km run has left its mark in my memory: a two-and-a-half hour run keeps one fit in body; that the Kalahari sands are nothing to be played with; and a wonderful prayer — God loves a cheerful giver — give it all you've got!

Believe it or not, but I again answered a consistent knock at our front door at 2.00 a.m. the very next morning and again it was for a very similar situation. Thank goodness this case wasn't too serious to warrant another midnight trip along the same road, for her parting words of "Amen, Alleluia" were certainly reiterated loud and clear from my end — it seemed as though she was sleep-walking and in search of the bottle store: I wasn't going to be taken for another ride!

MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD PREFECT

MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD-PREFECT

It has been a great honour and a wonderful opportunity for me to have served as Head Prefect of St David's College during 1986. This memory will remain with me for the rest of my life.

Nine years ago, when I first arrived at St David's, I was not aware of what the rest of my school life would mean to me. The road seemed so long and steep. Now as I look back I realise that my life at St David's has been fulfilling and rewarding. I feel that I have, as have the other pupils of St David's, enjoyed a sense of belonging to an institution that I can be proud of — one that has been a second home to me, and, through the very closely-knit community, my fellow pupils at St David's have been my second family.

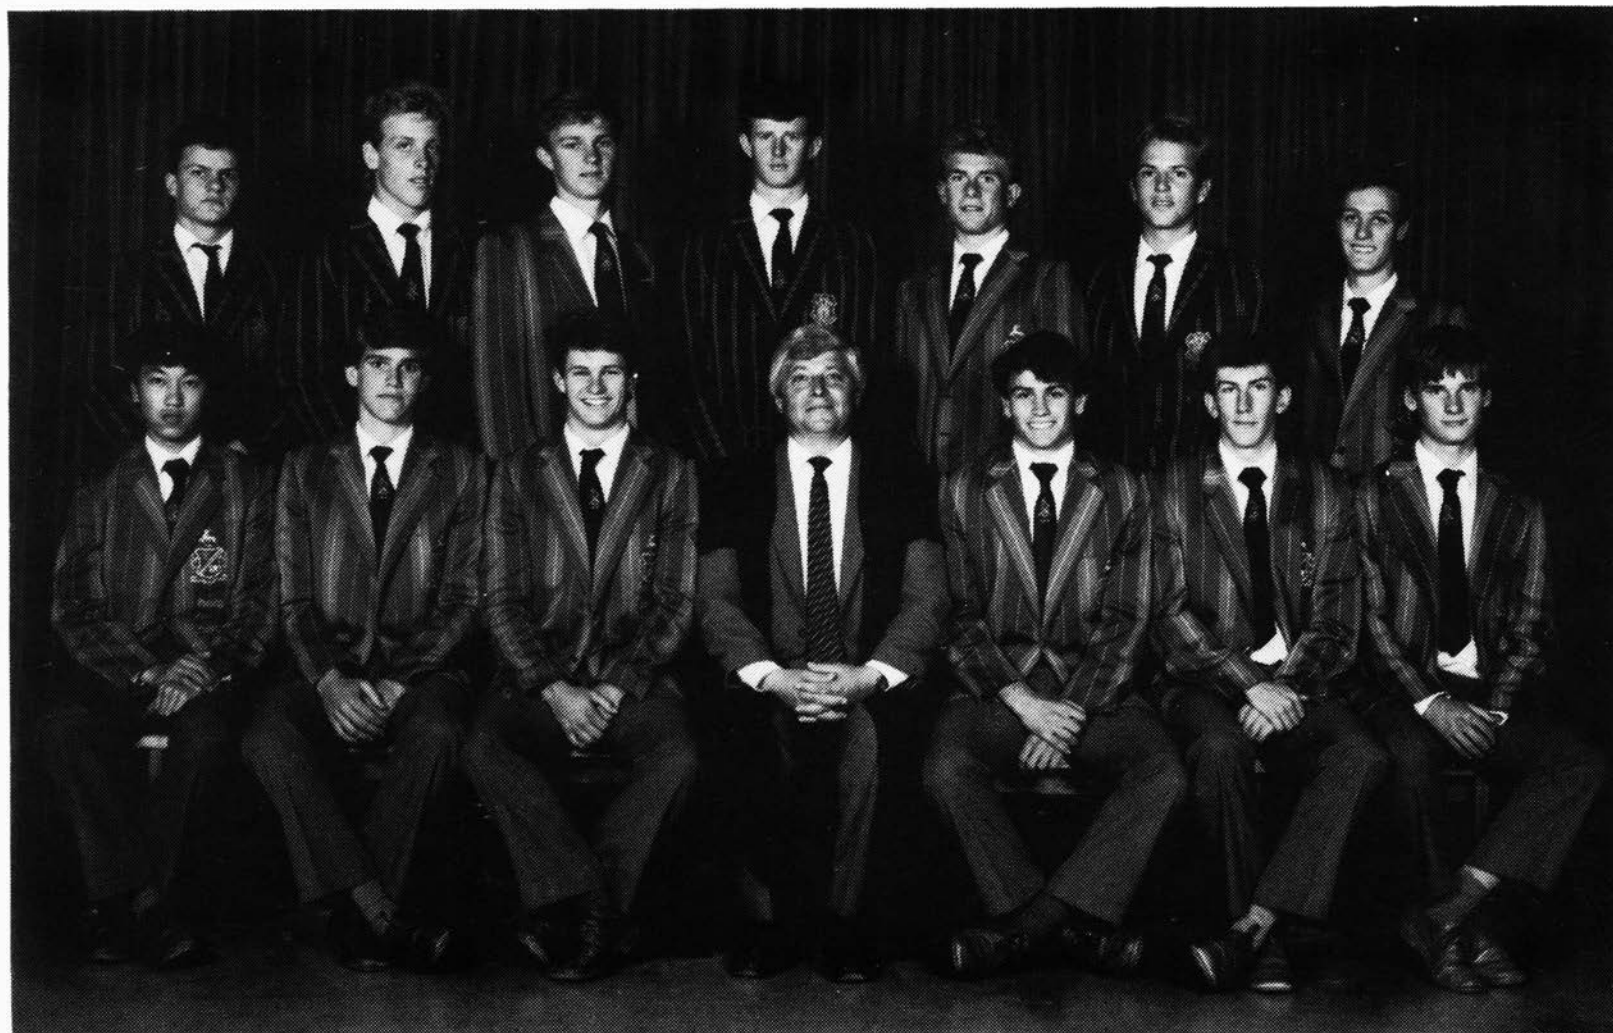

St David's is a relatively small school and therefore the pupil/teacher is far more personal than that of a much larger school. This allows for greater co-operation from both pupil and staff member, making the work seem less arduous and more personal.

St David's enjoys a good reputation and this is achieved by sportsmanship conduct and appearance of the St David's pupil, not only in the classroom and on the sportsfield but also outside the school bounds. I would like to thank all those who participated in the sporting and cultural activities thereby upholding the already good name of the College.

My sincere thanks go to Mr Boswell and to Mrs Elliot for making such a memorable year, for their support and guidance in so many ways, and to the staff and to the matric class for their confidence and loyalty and to the whole school for their enthusiasm and spirit. A special word of thanks to my Prefects and, in particular, the Vice-Head Prefect, Ross Alcock, whom I could always depend on for support and friendship.

This year the St David's family has been blessed with the arrival of Father Brewer, a support and a good friend to every single student. I would like to thank Father for all the advice and friendship he has given me this year. I would like to wish the College the best of luck for the coming years and may God bless you all.

Prize Giving

Our guest speaker this year was Sister Brigid Flanagan (Mother Margaret Mary)

Sister Brigid was Mother Superior at Parktown Convent and Provincial Superior until 1960. She was then appointed Assistant General of her order, the Holy Family, in Rome for twelve years. Since her return to South Africa, Sister Brigid has been Secretary for the Commission of Christian Education and Worship. We were very privileged to have Sister Brigid as our Speaker and we thank her for her very thought-provoking speech.

1986 MATRIC DANCE

This year's matric dance started like most others, slow at first, gradually building up pace until the final mad rush to get it all completed in time. The evening went off splendidly with teachers and pupils enjoying themselves thoroughly.

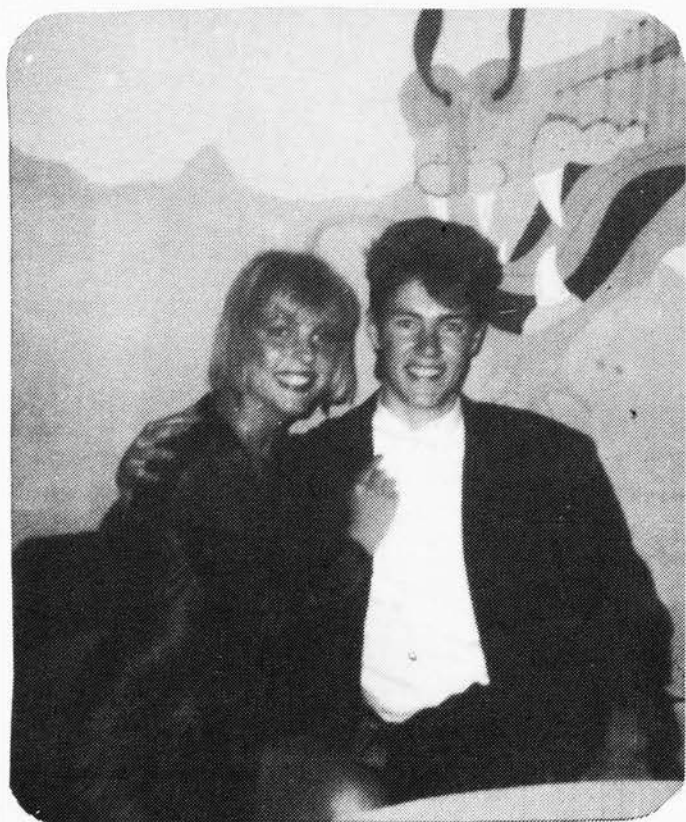

Thanks should most definitely go first to the mothers of the Standard Nines who prepared the food and arranged the tables, for without them there would not have been any dance. Thanks too must go to Mrs Elliot and to Father Brewer who spent a lot of time encouraging the boys and offering assistance wherever they could — their help was much appreciated.

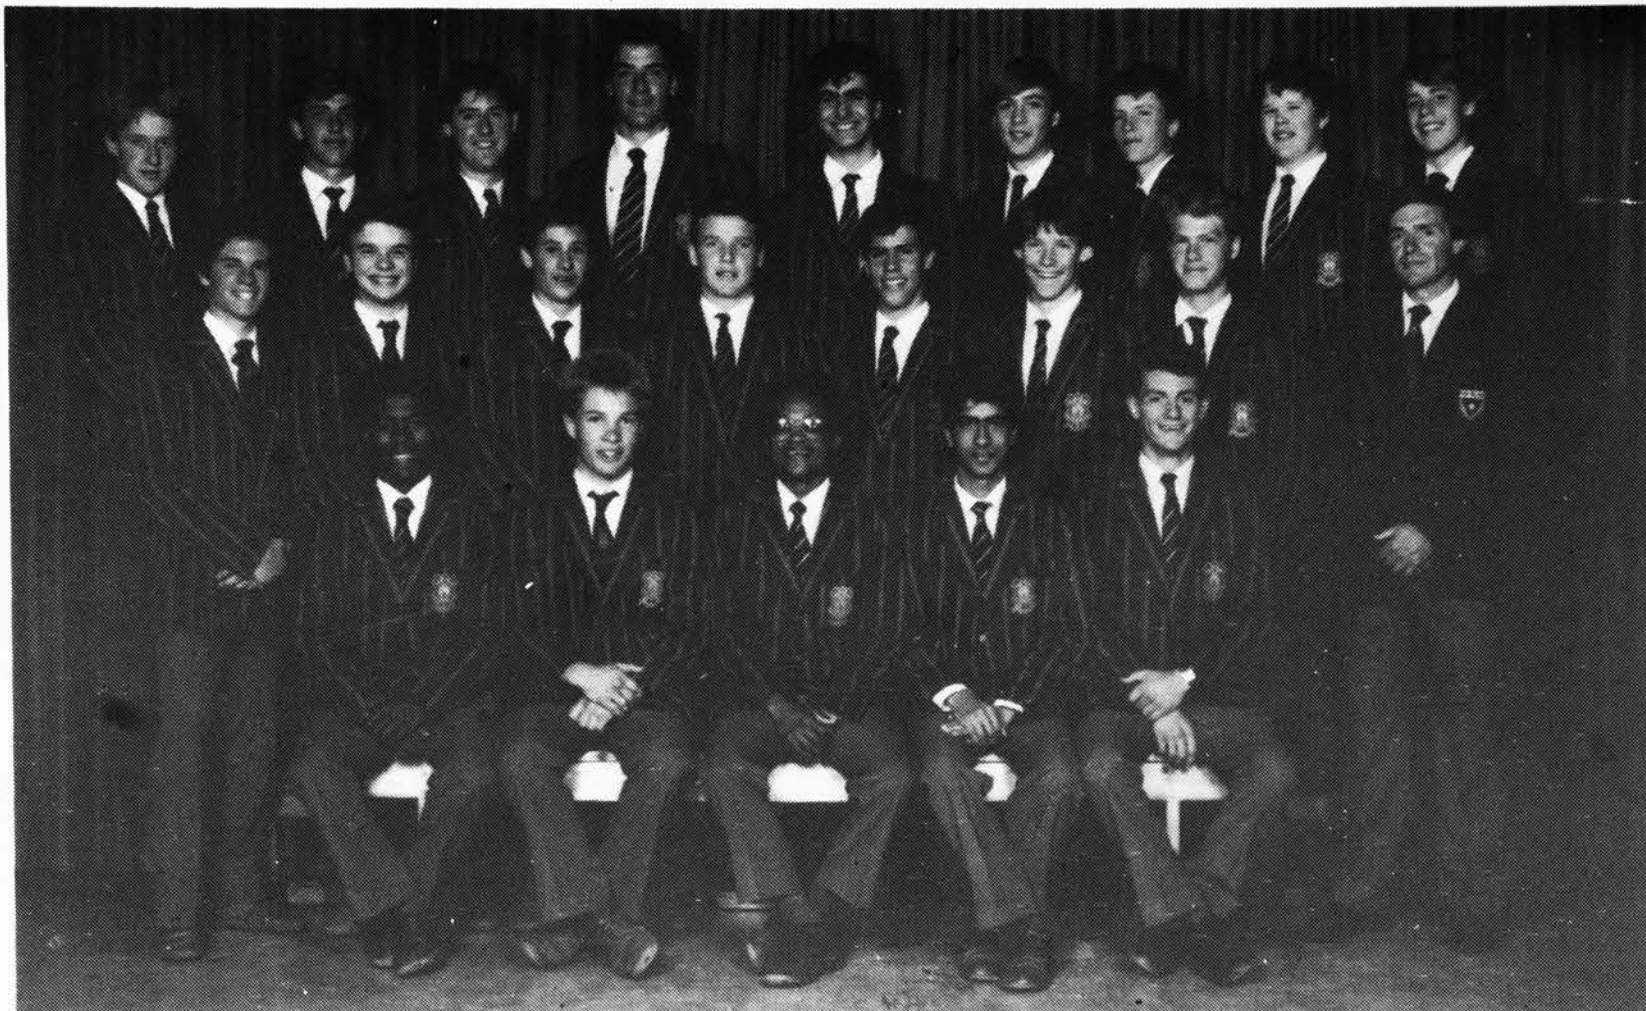

Last, but by no means least, I would like to thank those Standard Eights who did such a tremendous job as waiters — thanks guys!

THOUGHTS OF A MATRICULANT

O that this too, too dread exam would melt, thaw and resolve itself into a dew.
Or that the Universities had not fix'd
Their standards quite so high. O God! God.
How weary, dull and boring
Seem to me all this study, study, study.
Fie on't. Oh fie! that it should come to this
But two months hence - nay - not so much, not two -
So excellent my chances that were to this Distinction to a failure! Heaven and earth
Must I remember! Why teachers would praise me
As if I could obtain the six distinctions
That is required for glory - Let me not think on't.
Frailty - thy name is Standard 10.
But about my brains - I have heard
That guilty students getting down to work,
Have, by the very industry of study
Been known to pass with miraculous results.
For intelligence - though it can be hidden, will out
If fostered and well nurtured.
Let no one say I'm a fake - a rotten little fake,
Or have the right to call me 'bum'.
I'll not flunk Maths - and have to go to Star Schools
I'll not burn my sneakers.
Not for me the role of tragic hero -
And I will no more procrastinate.
The Divinity that shapes our ends
Knows that I can pass -
And I will do it now!

Excursions

STD 8 GEOGRAPHY EXCURSION TO GOLDEN GATE

After leaving school on the afternoon of Friday the 26th the Group of Geography students arrived at Golden Gate Highlands National Park after 4½ hour drive.

We drove to the Youth hostel and shortly afterwards went for dinner. After dinner we were taken down, by Combi, to the information centre for a slide show on the park and its Flora and Fauna.

The following morning we went on a small hike to see geological land forms. It was very interesting and led us towards a large cave called cathedral cave. To enter the cave one had to wade across knee deep ice-cold water and climb an iron ladder. The cave itself was quite an experience and gave me the impression of being inside a giant golf ball. We hiked back and had lunch. After lunch was another activity. This was an orienteering course, testing our mapping skills and taking us to volcanic dolorite dykes, old farmhouses and fascinating caves. This took up about 2 hours and afterwards we went back to the hostel for a braai dinner.

The next morning after a good nights sleep we were taken game viewing and saw a whole herd of wildebeast, impalas and zebras. We were shown carcasses of dead animals and also fossils of prehistoric animals and dinosaurs. We then went alseiling. There were two slopes, a small practice slope and a larger one. We finished alseiling and went back to the hostel for lunch. After lunch we said our farewells and thanks to the Game Wardens and began our journey home after having had a most amazing weekend.

Thanks must also go to Mr. de Souza for Organising the trip and Miss Glyn-Thomas and Miss Cook for accompanying us.

OUTDOOR PURSUITS : GOLD REEF CITY EXCURSION

On Friday afternoon during the second term, Mr de Souza and Miss Glyn-Thomas together with the boys of the outdoor pursuits activity set off for an afternoon at the recently opened Gold Reef City.

A short wait for our guide to arrive, and we started the tour. During our tour, we were to see such things as the "Meccano Shop", gold pouring and smelting, the mint, tribal dancing, the amusement park and a model, in a large hall, of a gold mine and its refinery.

The mint houses many old machines and behind one particularly large machine could be seen a man, minting special Gold Reef City copper coins. We were also shown the machine that was used to mine the first Krugerrand.

The highlight of the tour was a trip down Number 14 Shaft to a depth of 220m. Our guide underground showed us the workings of a pneumatic drill and a pump used for pumping water out of the mine. We were also shown dynamite in a protective wooden box as well as a first-aid post with safety posters. On returning to the surface we decided to watch tribal dancing. We were led into a large Marquee where drum beats deafened us and dancers put on a display of dancing, chanting and yelling.

At 17h30 after thanking our guides we left Gold Reef City with a better idea of Johannesburg as it was 100 years ago.

UNFORGETTABLE MOO'S

A shocked expression came across on the faces of the twelve St David's scholars and three teachers as they came to their campsite in the Magaliesburg on Saturday afternoon, March the eighth. Their tents and gear was raided by cattle.

After their long, enjoyable hike in the mountainous region of Magaliesburg they returned to find their tents wrestled down. At first the tired people thought that the wind had done it. But after approaching the tents they noticed the appalling state they were in. The tents were torn and wet with cud, they were chewed on, creased and served the cattle well for an appetiser.

The camper's clothes were strewn untidily around the camp. Food was destroyed and eaten. The students and teachers were left with a little food to share amongst themselves and had no shelter.

But apart from this disaster the students seemed to enjoy their weekend. Early morning hikes and jogs, cool swims in the mountain pools, enjoyable games played in the dark and the scenery were just a few of the things the boys enjoyed.

The camping trip was a school activity (Outdoor Pursuits) organised by Mr A. de Souza wanting the boys of St David's to experience the outdoor life. And this experience will be remembered by all who shared the wonderful trip to the Magaliesburg.

STANDARD 8 GEOGRAPHY TOUR

On May 28 several Std 8 pupils left on a Geography tour to the Eastern Transvaal. We were accompanied by the Geography teacher, Mr De Souza. We were told to bring hiking boots and to be prepared to work. This was no understatement and work started the moment we arrived, when we were deposited half way down the hill at 21h00 and told to find the camp by following the road in the dark. So in this fine outdoor spirit we started our four day tour.

The camp was to be found just above Barberton in the hills surrounding it at a height of 1600 ft above the valley floor. The camp was built by Mr De Souza's father and was part of a three camp hiking trail. The camp was in the true hiking style with only cold water, no electricity, no microwave and worst of all, no television. In true camping style we all slept out around the huts for the three nights we stayed there, regardless of the cold.

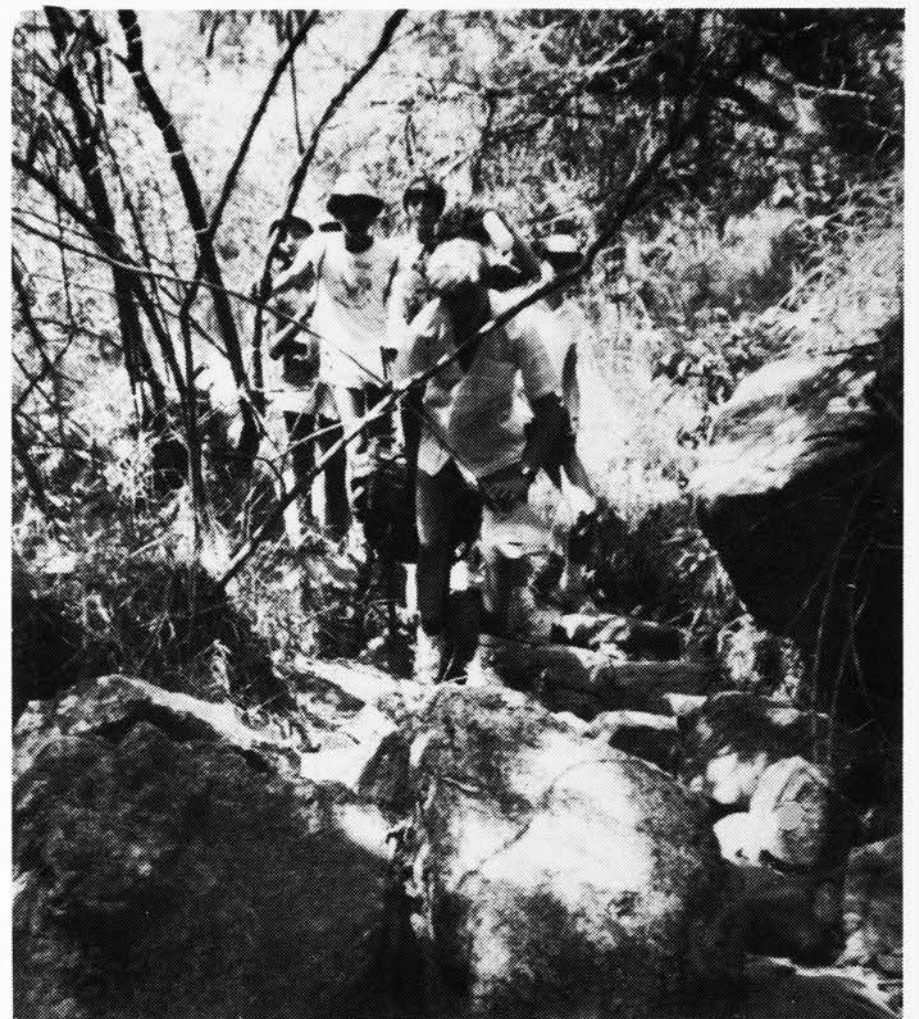

The next day we started actually touring the countryside. For the following two days we visited a variety of places and were surprised at just how productive the Eastern Transvaal is. On the first day we visited the Sheba Gold Mine, one of South Africa's richest gold mines. We were given a personal tour of the old and new diggings and were even allowed to go underground to where the actual mining was taking place. Later on we moved over to the other side of Barberton where we visited a tea plantation. There we were shown the whole process of making tea, from the seeding of the plant to the drinking of the tea. The day ended when a geologist was present to explain and define the formation of the land forms found in that area.

The following day was to better the past one as we set off to an early start to go and visit the Sawmills where once again we were given a personal tour and shown the entire process of turning a large tree into a set of perfect, smooth planks. We then carried on further to visit the Sudwala Caves where we took part in the tour which turned out to be an eye opener as few of us were aware of its fascinating history.

The last activity was the Nelspruit Weather Station. There we learnt of the research project carried out by them. It involved the spraying or seeding of the clouds in order to induce them to rain. The highlight of that I think was when we were allowed to sit in the cockpit and ground pilot a lear jet belonging to the weather station. The day was finished off with a large campfire where we cooked up a real feast. We were also privileged to have one of our campers, Lorenzo Mossa, come of age (turn 16), and he was presented with a cake by Mrs De Souza.

The next morning we hiked down the mountain, with Mr De Souza following in the combi. Mr De Souza took us on our final treat to an almost unseen abandoned Gold Mine that he and his family had discovered.

Our expedition was over and we returned to Johannesburg. We all agreed that apart from interest sake, this tour was totally worthwhile as well as excellent fun. Our thanks to Mr de Souza for a most enjoyable time.

Art Exhibition

THE ART EXHIBITION

What an enjoyable evening was had by all who attended the Annual Art Exhibition! What pleasure it afforded to see so varied and so excellent a display of artistic and creative talent on the part of our pupils.

The Art department had gone to considerable trouble to display paintings and craftwork in an interesting and effective way. Their efforts paid dividends, for one was able to stand and view an individual painting or group of paintings without feeling that one was obscuring anyone else's view.

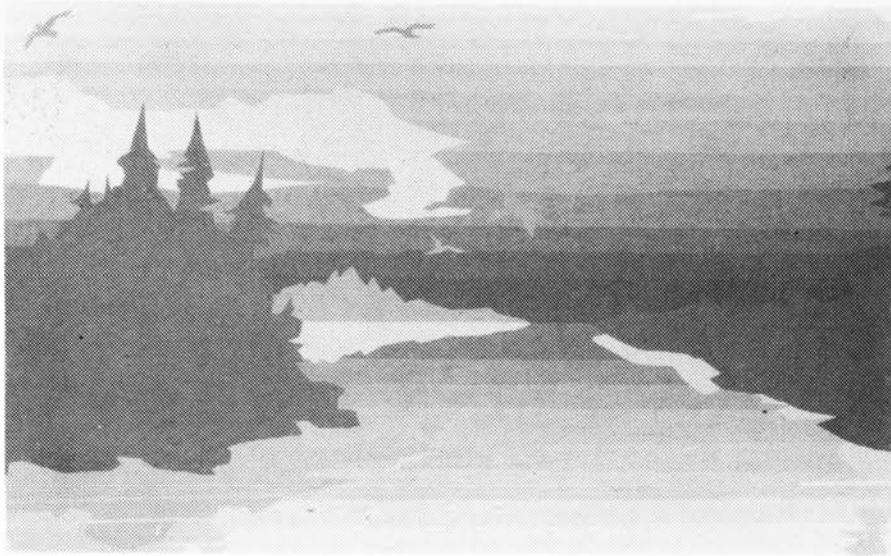

The standard and overall quality of the work displayed was excellent, as were the numerous different and very individual approaches to subject matter. It is to the credit of both Senior and Junior Art Departments that they foster this development of individual creative talent and avoid a stereotyped approach/image.

The Senior Art Trophy was awarded to Christian Zimelka by Gail van Lingen who had the difficult task of choosing a winner from a number of very good entries.

The Art Department and the pupils are to be congratulated on their effort and achievements at this exhibition. Our thanks also to those who provided the tasty snacks for the evening.

SHALL DEATH HAVE DOMINION?

Lights flickered on and off like shooting stars on a moonlit night. Through the beaded curtains came the muffled sounds of forlorn people, piercing the slots with their nickel coins, hoping, hoping, always losing. yet the joy they found in these metal machines helped to numb the pains of war. A ruthless hand spun the wheel of fortune, twisting the cords of the puppet. The wooden bowl spun, coniving its way around like the earth on its axis — that little lone ball going round and round, never going forward — never gaining ground.

Careless laughter from careless women filled the ears of those desperate soldiers. Many sat staring vacantly ahead, befuddled with dope and booze, finding refuge from those bloody memories. In war there are those who fight because they have to; there are those who fight for freedom; and there are those who fight because they enjoy it. There are those who do not want to fight; but they prosper from those who do. Two of these sat amidst the burning cruelty of this merciless war, sat like kings amidst their miserable subjects, with jewels for eyes and a thirst for blood. They were the commanding force behind those battlefields, soaked with the stench of blood, dense with the souls of the dead.

Outside the rain pattered on the rusty tin roofs singing a song of melancholy. The stars grew in a forest of darkness — a forest saturated with the blood of war; the stars watching over those who hadn't yet met their doom in those darkest nights. The flash of a neon light stabbed through the air, cutting like a knife, sparkling in the soldiers' eyes, crouched in the alley.

With the wave of his hand and silent prearranged signals the rest of the platoon moved unobtrusively towards him. He glanced cautiously over the lifeless road. Then like a cat he leapt across, seeking cover in the shadows of the other side. As if choreographed, the platoon followed in perfect timing, the pitter patter of the rain setting the pace of their beating hearts. Slowly and silently, one by one, they entered the beaded curtains forming rows on either side of the clay walls. A commanding figure pointed silently to the various sliding doors, sending soldiers to the entrance of each. Behind them, in their concealed quarters, sat the men who had made this mission necessary. The tableau was set. Suddenly, unexpectedly, a man came stumbling through the beaded curtains — shocked by the scene he turned to run. The soldier to his left sprang to life, grabbed a tuft of his pitch black hair and pulling him back plunged a knife, viciously into the small of his back. Falling, he lay lifeless on the floor. The mission must go on. Each soldier, grabbing the door he was assigned to, flung it open with ruthless synchronisation and sadistic urge. Their automatic rifles exploded into action. Glass smashed! Blood flowed! Women screamed!

Silence!

In the silence which now prevailed their agony echoed. Death and destruction fluttered around them. Everyone in the gambling parlour lay lifeless on the floor.

The kings too, lay dead among their lifeless subjects their rule at an end.

Death was now the rulerDeath shall have dominion.

MAN VERSUS HIS OWN INVENTION

Parents are trying Reaching out to their children
But the television looks on laughing,
Drawing the children into its net.
Man is slowly being destroyed,
Being buried by his own device.

Could we not destroy this monster?
Could we not, for once, read a book?
Could we not bring families together again?
Could we not talk?
We could understand each other
We could love!

Is this a losing battle that we fight?

DIE VREESLIKE MEDISYNEMENSE

Het julle ooit opgemerk hoe gou mense is om jou sleg te laat voel? Dit gebeur veral as die praai oor die siekte gaan. Daar is altyd iemand ander in die kamer wat 'n erger ondervinding as joune gehad het; en om 'n groter indruk te maak, vertel hulle soms verskriklike wolhaarstories van hulle operasies of die dokters.

Ek onthou toe ek nog ewe praai hoe ek steke in my kop moes kry. Alhoewel dit vreeslik seer was, was ek meer bevrees oor die hospitaal- besoek.

My jong vriend was daar toe die ongeluk gebeur het en hy het my alles volledig beskrywe wat ek kon verwag.

In die motor, hospitaal toe, het my verbeelding al hierdie stories herleef. Die dokter moes eers my kop met 'n mes en 'n vurk oopsny; toe kom 'n haatlike verpleegster met 'n reuse naald, spykers en 'n dik tou om my kop toe te maak.

Toe ons die deur van die hospitaal bereik, sou ek graag op enige ander plek op aarde gewees het. Geen wonder dat ek amper die hospitaal onderstebo met my lawaai gegooi het nie.

Maar verbeel jou net — daar was geen spykers of vurke nie — net pynlose inspuittings, vriendelike dokters en mooi verpleegsters, wat my kop reggemaak het.

'N WOLHAARSTORIE

Ek het 'n eienaardige vriend wat vindinryke wolhaarstories kon vertel. En om te dink dat hy my bang wil maak! Wel, miskien kan hy my 'n bietjie bangerig laat voel. Hier is 'n voorbeeld van een van sy wolhaarstories:

'n Week gelede terwyl ons twee gesels het, het Gertjan, my vriend, gevra wat ek die vakansie gaan doen. Ek het gesê dat ek ongelukkig my vakansie tyd in 'n hospitaal moes deurbring. Ek het verder gesê dat die dokters my mangels gaan uithaal. Gertjan het my aangekyk asof hy 'n spook gesien het. Hy het toe 'n wolhaarstorie an my vertel.

Gertjan was vroër ook in die hospitaal. Sy blindederm was baie seer. 'n Verpleegster het hom binne die operasiekamer gegooi. Die dokters het hom op 'n harde bed gesit. Almal het rondom hom gestaan en kyk. Skielik het 'n man hard gelag. Hy was waarskynlik die hoofdokter. Hy het soos 'n mal professor gelyk. Sy hare was nie eers gekam nie en sy tande was uit! Kortkort het hy gegiggel.

Sekondes later het twee mense die kamer binnegestap. Die een met 'n byl, die ander met 'n hamer. Die professor het gesê dat die een jou met 'n byl doodmaak as jy te veel skreeu en die ander jou op die kop slaan voordat die operasie begin. Toe het die man met die hamer hom op sy kop geslaan.

Twee maande later het Gertjan wakker geword met geen hare nie en 'n vreeslike hoofpyn. Hy kon vir twee dae nie sien nie.

Ek het besluit om die wolhaarstorie nie te glo nie en nou gaan ek steeds hospitaal toe.

AND STILL THE EAGLE REIGNS

The cottage is the final frontier, the frontier that is the demarcation zone where man will continue to fight his battle against nature. The majestic flight of the fish eagle shows he dominates the skies and wiley character, the fox, rules the land. The cottage lies at the foot of the final vertical ascent towards the summit; the summit — untouched by humanity and tirelessly guarded by Mother Nature. This is the place where Mother Nature gave birth to many great rivers which flow many miles towards the sea. The summit is commonly known as "The King's Throne".

The cottage is the last monument to man's existence. Many determined men have slept there before their ascent, but no one has returned. The cottage is ruggedly built out of wooden poles and bonded together by river clay to give greater resistance against the elements.

The two men toiled tediously towards the cottage. They climbed the creaking steps and curiously pushed open the door. The single-room cottage was ominously dark. Each man was alone in the darkness with his own thoughts. They stood awhile to allow their eyes to get accustomed to the darkness. A terrified roosting bird flew out of the cottage and shrieked a warning that there were new intruders in the kingdom of the eagle. The men, like so many others, paced restlessly around the cottage. At last they rested and prepared for the final assault — against the mountain — against the eagle's kingdom — against Nature itself.

After three days of rest and recuperation, they set out to achieve fame and to conquer what no man had conquered before. An eagle hovered in the sky and seemed to laugh at the probable fate of the doomed men. The men left. The cottage returned to its lonely vigil on the last frontier.

Two weeks went by and there was no sign of the two men returning. Then the figure of a single man could be seen staggering towards the cottage. The man groped his way, entered the cottage and stumbled on to a chair. His face was stitched with fatigue, his limbs weary. The only evidence of the joy in the man's heart showed in his eyes that shone with triumph and glory.

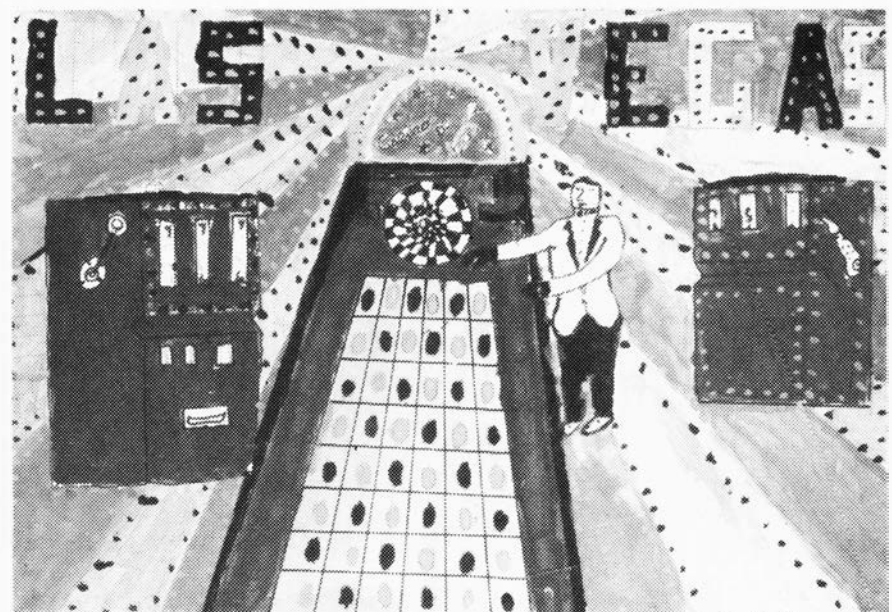

He lifted a pen and began to write on a piece of paper: I, James Ingram, reached the summit on 25 March 1899, by pure will and perseverance. I was the first man to conquer the unconquered. I was able to succeed with the help of my willing and unfortunate partner, William Henry, who died during the ascent. God rest his soul

The man put down his pen and lay down on the bed. That bitterly cold and revengeful night he died with a smile on his face and joy in his heart.

A sudden gust of wind blew the piece of paper off the table on to the floor and out of the door. It began to snow. Half a metre of snow and solid ice covered the paper. The man's triumph was to remain a secret.

The eagle hovered in the sky.
And still the eagle reigns

ETERNAL SPIRIT OF THE CHAINLESS MIND: — LIBERTY THOU ART!

The right to be free has been an intense desire in mankind over the centuries. History itself recounts countless instances of people pleading, begging and ultimately fighting for their freedom. Man has always felt the need to be superior to others, for whatever reason. This, together with mankind's innate greed and selfishness has led to the oppression of human beings by other human beings.

Man's desire to be free from the shackles of oppression can be traced back over many years; all the way back to biblical times. The Old Testament in the Bible relates the story of the Israelites who were oppressed by the Egyptians. They were used as slaves and generally their divine right to freedom was mercilessly abused. The Bible goes on to relate how the Israelites were finally set free by God, through Moses who led them on to the promised land. Unfortunately, the children of Israel became corrupted and were almost as bad as their former masters, the Egyptians. This example is typical of the way in which mankind fights for freedom, gains it, and then proceeds to fit into the shoes of the oppressors, by lacking compassion for fellow human beings.

A more suitable example is that of the French Revolution in 1789. This revolution came about as a result of oppression dating back to the middle ages. Peasants were ruthlessly oppressed by wealthy people known as "lords", who owned large tracts of land. Feeble attempts were continually made by the peasants to overthrow their oppressors, but to no avail. On 14 July the French peasants stormed the Bastille — the streets of Paris flowed with blood. The king was guillotined along with his beautiful, but uncaring wife and the peasants gained their freedom. What did they do? They proceeded to abuse their newly-acquired freedom and power. Soon afterwards the autocratic government was toppled, more blood than ever before was spilt in the streets of France. A few decided to use their new found freedom for their own ends and they, in turn, became the oppressors of their own people. They soon became worse than their previous oppressors, the 'lords'. This is yet another example of man's innate and despicable desire to rule over and be superior to his fellow man.

This trend has been followed throughout history in almost all the countries of the world where revolutions have taken place. A more recent example is that of Nigeria in West Africa. Nigeria was colonised by the British. When Nigeria was granted independence and the British people withdrew, the leaders of Nigeria took over the running of the country. But they also indulged in an extravagant lifestyle at the expense of their own people. This shows again that the colour, creed and race of people make no difference because we are all born with a desire to rule over others, just as we are all born with the desire to be free from such oppression.

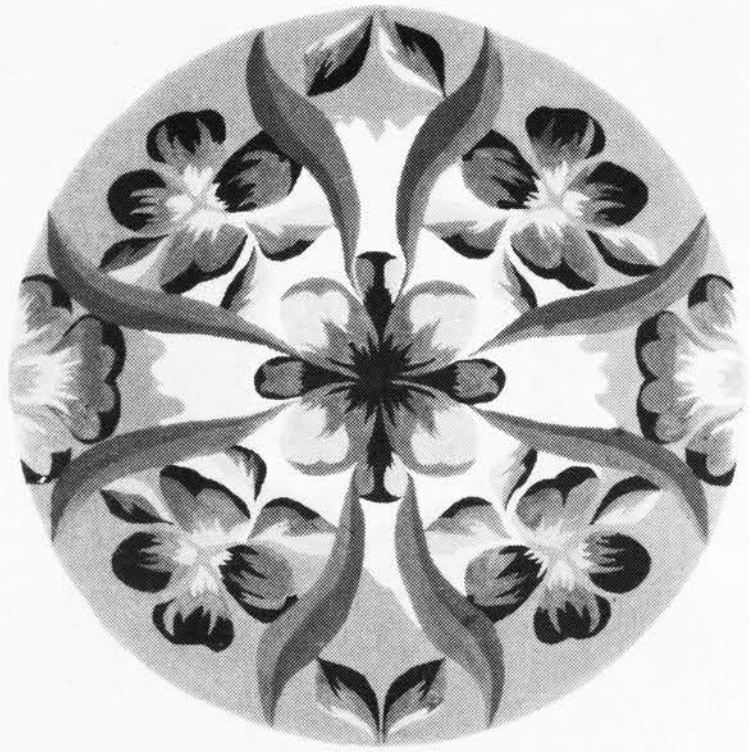

Coming nearer home, we are all aware of the unique situation in South Africa in which Black South Africans are discriminated against by the White Government simply because of the colour of their skin. Numerous attempts made by Blacks over the years to be free from the repressive laws of the country have met with little success.

Would it be justified then, to assume that Blacks should abandon all attempts to strive for freedom and self-determination simply because there is a fear that history could repeat itself in South Africa, and they could end up emulating the example of the former masters?

But the desire for freedom transcends everything else. All men have pride and dignity which cannot allow them to accept willingly the humiliation of being bullied by other human beings. Libertyspirit of the chainless mind!

Competitions

Junior Best Speaker

The Junior Best Speaker Competition was held on Wednesday, 4 September at 19h00.

There were eleven very enthusiastic and talented entrants and their speeches covered a wide range of subjects. Christopher Cox opened the Competition with his speech entitled 'Fail your way to success', Roderick Stirling told us about 'Body Building'. Vincent Gore delivered a serious speech on 'Technical Barbarism', concerned with the conservation of animals. Paul Jackson enlightened the audience on 'Communication'. Frederick Barnard delivered an interesting speech on the 'Supernatural World'. J.P. Genovese made us aware that 'Sharks' were not the terrifying creatures we suppose them to be. Greg Turner made us re-live the horrors of 'The atom bomb over Hiroshima'. Brian Steele talked about 'The Sensation of Speed', and Christo Moraitis asked us to consider 'The Super Athlete'. 'Nostradamus' was the title of Mohammed Darsot's speech and our last speaker was Fabio Taddei who spoke on the topic of 'The Statue of Liberty'.

Our adjudicators, Father Brewer and Mr Smurthwaite, had a difficult task. The speakers spoke with confidence and had done their research. Prizes were awarded as follows:

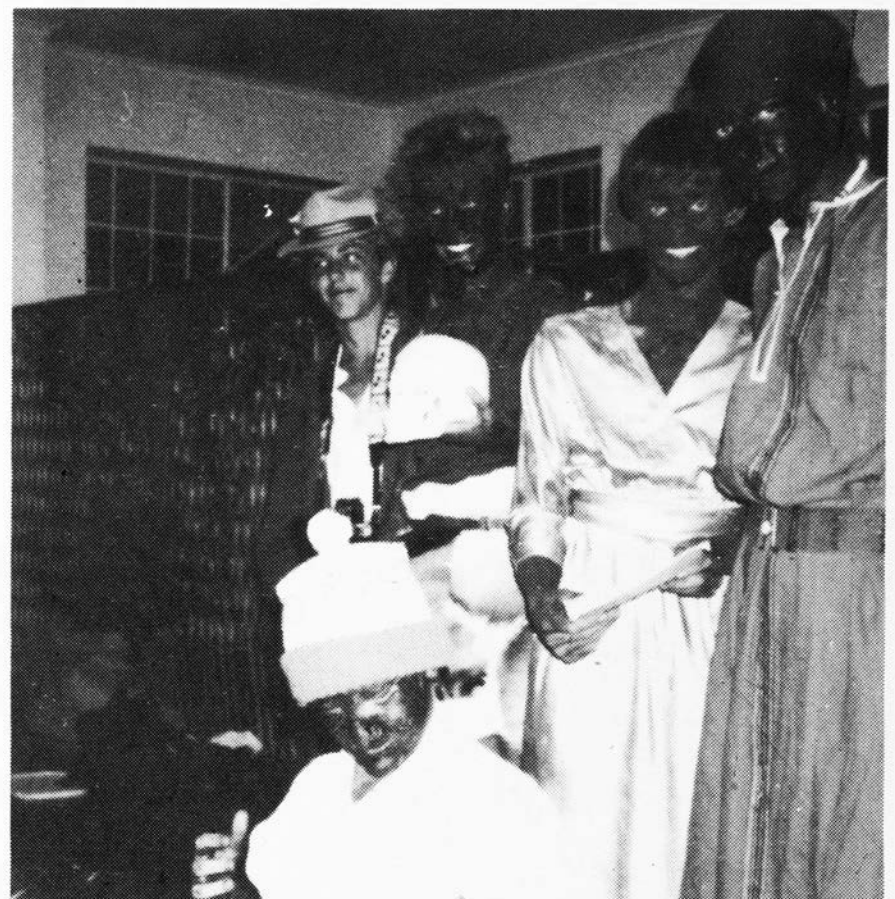

First place	Greg Turner
Second place	Paul Jackson
Third place	Fabio Taddei

We would like to thank the parents who attended, giving their sons their support, Father Brewer and Mr Smurthwaite, and the Catering ladies who provided refreshments.

Senior Best Speaker

The Senior Best Speaker's Competition was held on 19 March. There were not so many entrants this year but the standard was very high. Kay Shue-nyane told us about the evils of alcoholism and driving under the influence of drink. Jeremy Carr showed an expert knowledge of Salvador Dali. Stephen Murray amused us with his speech entitled 'Woman — God Bless Her!' Billy Forssman's rendering of his views on "Prophesies" was of a very high standard and Jason Xenopoulos, our final speaker, spoke on 'Apartheid'. All the speakers spoke with fluency and showed a sound knowledge of their topic. The impromptu speeches were well delivered and the judges had a difficult task. The Best Speaker's Cup was awarded to Jason Xenopoulos, Stephen Murray was awarded 2nd prize and Billy Forssman was awarded third.

Our thanks to our adjudicators Mrs Smurthwaite and Father Brewer and to the ladies who supplied refreshments.

Inter House Play Festival

The Inter House Play Festival was held on Wednesday 26 February and boys from Standard 6 to Standard 10 took part. In her summing up our adjudicator, Mrs Fraser, congratulated the boys on finding such a varied selection of one act plays. Osmond opened the evening's entertainment with 'The Bat' — a well chosen play with an all male-cast. Benedict followed with 'Happy Days for Harrison Gumedi' and then came College with 'Get Well Soon'. The final play was 'All Friends Together' performed by The Bishops. The standard of production, direction, voice projection and acting improves every year and many of the boys show talent in the field of drama.

We thank parents for supporting their sons and our Festival. We thank Mrs L. Stirling for providing refreshments and we thank our adjudicators Mrs J. Fraser, Mrs M. De Wet and Father Brewer an adjudicator's job is not a happy one.

Agreement was reached and the following awards were made:

The Mask (Best Costumes)	The Bishops
The Goblet (Best Set)	College
The Tree of Life (Best Actor)	H. Lea and P. Grindley
The Brother Philip Plate (Winning Play)	Osmond
The Cup for the Best Producer	Osmond

HAMLET

The production of Hamlet took place in the school hall on June 4 - 6. Boys from Standard 6 - 10 took part. The Sandton Chronicle described the play as 'a huge success' as indeed it was.

The production was in modern dress, and this enabled the cast to identify more easily with the characters. The sets, created by Anton Pruij and Derek Wijtenberg, were outstanding. By their hard work, patience and talent, they transformed our stage into the Castle of Elsinore. The lighting, the brain child of Marc De Nicola, was very effective and helped to create the atmosphere and added a very dramatic effect to the ballet which was our interpretation of the 'play within the play'. Stage Manager Jan van den Handel, and his stage crew worked efficiently and must be complimented on their hard work and organisation.

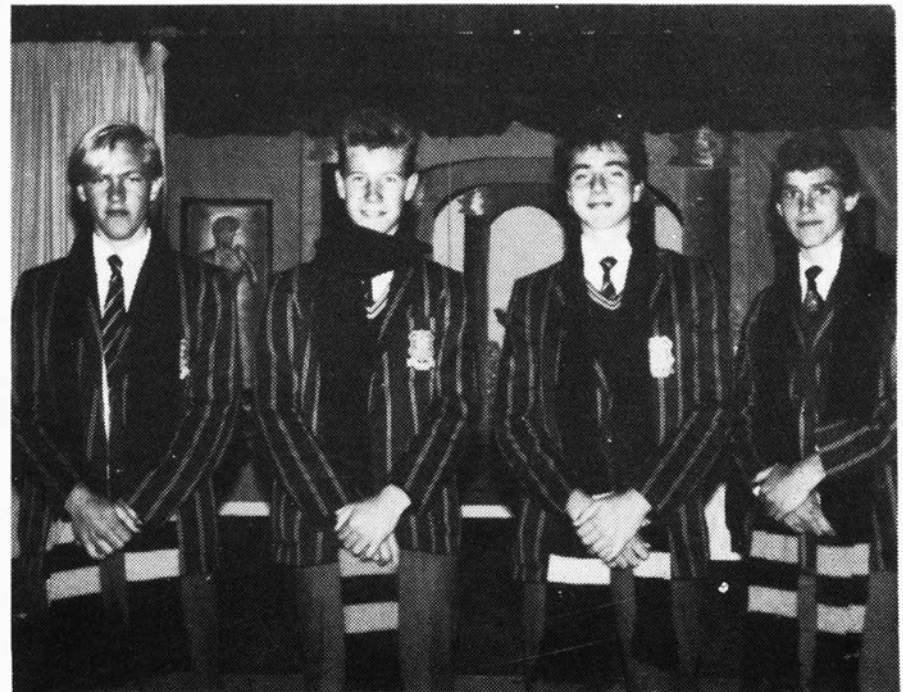

The cast was tremendous. It is difficult to single out particular actors because all contributed to make 'a truly professional production'. However, special mention should be made of Hilton Lea, Std 7, who played the role of Hamlet — a long and difficult part. Hilton's interpretation and performance earned him the praise of all. Jason Xenopoulos played a very convincing Claudius, Sandy van Baalen entertained the audience in his role of Polonius and obviously thoroughly enjoyed the part. Billy Forssman performed very well as Laertes and the grave diggers were a great source of amusement with their South African accents. Our Rosebank Convent girls, Clare O'Donoghue and Anna Walton, who played Gertrude and Ophelia added their feminine charms and talent and were very good indeed, as were our ballet dancers, also from Rosebank Convent.

The time and effort put into the production was very rewarding. We worked hard and thoroughly enjoyed ourselves. We found out what it meant to work together, to set ourselves high, professional standards and to stick to them.

Our thanks to Father Brewer for all the help he gave us — both physically and morally. Thanks also to Miss Joseph, Mrs Stirling, Mrs Caister, Mrs Neil and Mrs Murray who did the makeup. Thanks to the catering ladies and staff who provided the refreshments. A final word of thanks to Brother Provincial and all the Brothers, parents and friends for their support.

Inter-House

The 1986 season was an exceptionally short, but enjoyable one. No doubt the most outstanding feature was the performance of Gavin Behr in the U/13 age group, who took six records — well done.

The final points position read as follows:

Benedict	: 697
The Bishops	: 513
Osmond	: 443
College	: 437

Age group winners:

U13	G. Behr
U14	G. Garcia
U15	E. Ralph
U16	G. Orr
Open	D. McDonald

Congratulations to the following athletes who established new records

M. Obel — U15 hurdles

G. Behr — 100m, 200m, 800m, hurdles, discus, shot put.

Inter-School meetings

Due to the short season only two meetings were held. Both were enjoyable and the team acquitted themselves well.

(1) vs St John's	:	St John's	244
		St David's	182
(2) vs St Martin's/Saheti	:	St David's	230
		St Martin's	124
		Saheti	84

At the end of the season the following age group scrolls were awarded:

U13:	G. Behr, M. Germishuys
U14:	G. Garcia
U15:	M. Obel, E. Ralph, D. Wood
Open:	D. McDonald, A. Partridge

P. Grindley was awarded the Sandton Mayoral Trophy for the hardest trier.

A special word of thanks to all the athletes who contributed towards making it an enjoyable and successful season. To Antony Partridge for his competent leadership of the team and that small but loyal band of parent supporters. To conclude my sincere thanks to Fr. Brewer, Mr De Souza, Mr Heale, Mr McFadden, Mr Moore, Mr van Renen and Mr Webster for their invaluable contribution during the season.

BASKETBALL

The Basketball teams were dedicated and their performance was excellent. The teams showed a lot of spirit and their success was not in the winning of games, but the participation of the boys.

Congratulations to G Orr and D Loo who were selected for the Transvaal Colt Team which participated in the Inter Provincial Basketball Tournament in East London.

We entered one senior and one junior team for 1986 and played against Forest High, Sir John Adamson, The American School, KES and Jeshiva College.

A special thanks to the mothers who helped with the catering for our home matches.

1986 Hockey Report

For the first time in many years Hockey as an optional sport was introduced. With the enthusiasm of the pupils and the encouragement from the coaches a very successful season was concluded.

The future hockey potential of the school looks promising. With relatively inexperienced players at the start of the season we saw determination result in measured success. Caution was exercised in the selection of teams played during the season. A rematch with Parktown during the season resulted, for the Seniors, in better play and team spirit. The Junior side almost managed to remain unbeaten throughout the season, often playing teams much older than themselves.

Our congratulations go to all players and we trust the 1987 season will prove more successful. The results are as follows:

SENIORS vs	Parktown	2-3	JUNIORS vs	Parktown	2-2
	Mondeor	4-9		Potchefstroom	0-0
	Forest High	2-2		Hyde Park	5-0
	Sandown	2-2		CBC Boksborg	3-0

Cricket

First XI

The first term of 1986 saw a young First XI produce some exciting and match winning cricket under the enthusiastic leadership of Ross Alcock. Of the 11 games played, seven were won, three drawn and one lost.

Dedication at practice, tight bowling, efficient fielding and some disciplined batting were pleasing features of this side. Full credit must go to all the matrices, namely R. Alcock, R. Dolamore, S. Murray and A. Partridge, whose enthusiasm and support of the younger members was outstanding.

Many noteworthy performances were produced as can be seen from the results below. Mention in particular should be made of the fiery pace bowling of R Alcock and the outstanding wicketkeeping of Stephen Murray who were well backed up by Richard Dolamore, Anthony Partridge and Peter Sapseid.

It was most pleasing to see the U/15 players in the team come to the fore towards the latter part of the season — when Mark Allen, Brian McFadden and Brian Steel all scored half centuries and E. Ralph produced some good bowling performances — all these players show a lot of promise.

At the end of the first term, cricket scrolls were awarded to Ross Alcock (reaward), Richard Dolamore, Stephen Murray and Anthony Partridge, all of whom have represented the First XI for three years with unselfish dedication — their contribution has been invaluable. To conclude, congratulations to the whole team who were a pleasure to coach and who demonstrated enthusiasm and a positive attitude in all respects — they played the game.

Under 15 and Second XI

During the season the Second XI and the Under 15 XI did not always have a fixture so when the latter did not have a fixture a combined XI was selected. Overall, the U/15's had a very good season and a number of the original side were promoted to the First XI: Brian Steele, Edmund Ralph and Mark Allen. Brian McFadden had already been in the First XI in 1985.

The season's results were:

Under 14A

The U/14A cricketers have plenty of talent within their ranks. Unfortunately, other than a few inspired performances, the team did not perform to their true potential. We must now look to capitalize on our inborn talents and develop our basics into mature cricketing flair. As we move into the senior age-groups, more will be expected from us, therefore we need to be prepared with a total commitment.

It is this team commitment that will come early to the U/14A's. They are particularly keen and supportive of each other. Without doubt the team unity and spirit will always keep these boys on the winning side. However, we are down to play cricket and only committed practice, backed by our keenness will see us becoming a well rounded side. I believe the U/14A's will develop into a formidable side in the future.

Cricket scrolls were awarded to Craig Ashby, Ivo Rugani, Greg Turner and Pascal Garrioch — congratulations!

F D Tilley
 Coach

Under 14B

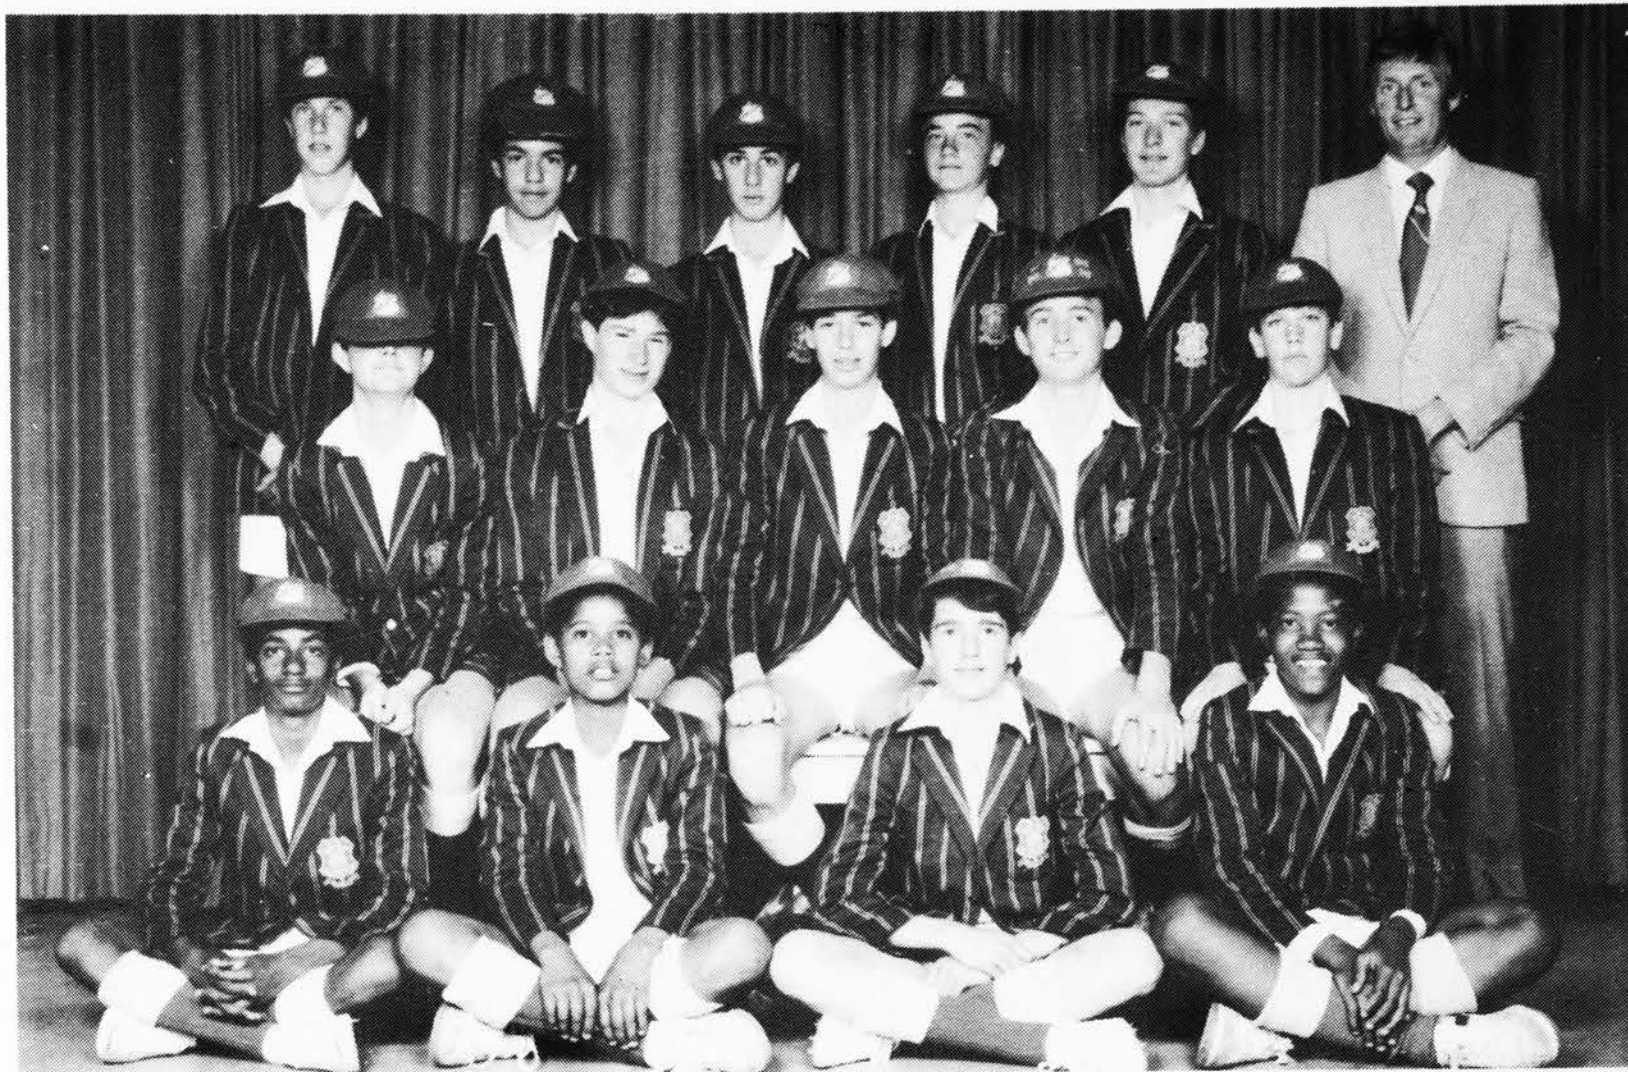

The U/14B Cricket side generally fared well this season and retained a good spirit throughout practices and matches. They won half their games but in those that they lost, they by no means disgraced themselves.

Because there were extra players always available for a game, the boys were keen and this rubbed off onto their fielding and bowling. Special mention should be made of L. Pagan who captained the side in the 1986 season. Not only did he bat well in most games but removed the oppositions wickets with much ferocity. In the match against Roosevelt he took out no less than seven of the "enemy". M. Cathrall was close behind the captain in bowling ability and R. Berardo whose batting average was somewhat erratic, certainly proved himself in the game against C.B.C. Pretoria with a score of 74.

Well done boys!

Rugby

First XV

The captain of the successful 1974 British Lions' rugby side in South Africa is quoted as saying: "Winning is not everything in rugby — it is the only thing". While one must admire Mr McBride for his competitive spirit, if this concept was applied to the 1986 First XV it would appear that it was not a very good season. On the contrary, the 1986 season was in fact a most enjoyable and rewarding one in many respects — the players' character and determination coming to the fore.

Fielding only three representatives from the 1985 season, this young and inexperienced side found themselves outweighed in every game without exception. Despite this handicap the players demonstrated determination and courage, particularly in the latter half of the season. A look at most of the scorelines reinforces this as most losses were by narrow margins.

A light pack of forwards stuck to this task admirably while the backline developed into a reliable defensive unit and played some exciting running rugby as the season progressed. The Captain, Ross Alcock, was an inspiration to the rest of the side while many players showed great improvement as the season ran its course.

At the end of the season rugby scrolls were awarded to Ross Alcock (re-award)
Grant Jabour
Greg Lamb.

In conclusion full credit to a totally committed side who trained hard, played to the best of their capabilities and who set an excellent example.

C Templemore — Finlayson

Second XV

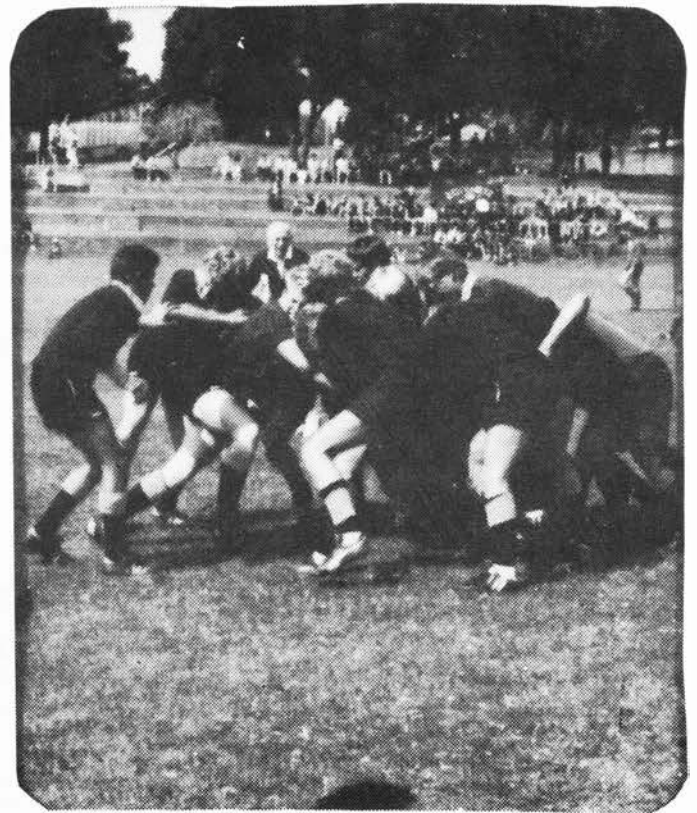

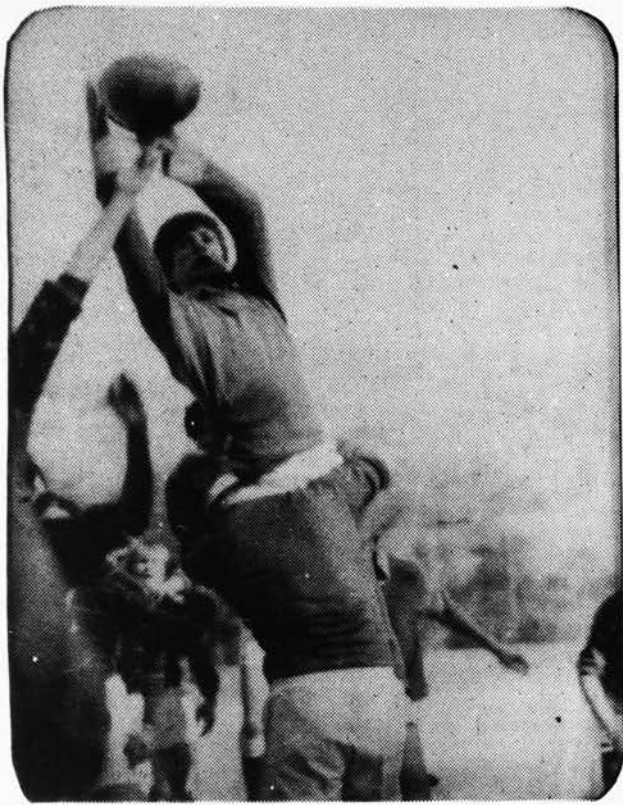

The Second XV, an extremely small side composed largely of Standard 9 players, experienced a rather indifferent season. The sheer size of the opposition assisted by poor tackling and a lack of support proved to be a major weakness. However, the majority of these players will be available next season and with more dedication, application and determination there is bound to be an improvement.

U/15 Rugby

The U/15A Rugby Team started the season with a completely different side to last year. Although there were many new team members they showed great enthusiasm and team spirit. The main force of our attack came from our forwards who excelled in the tight formation. The backline at first lacked penetration but due to reorganising and commitment they proved an asset against Edenglen and Roosevelt. Highlights of the season were beating St Martins 8-4, CBC Boksburg 37-15 and Roosevelt 10-7.

U/15B

The U/15B Rugby team enjoyed a good season losing only two of the fourteen matches. The forwards and backs played very attractive running rugby. Most of the points scored were from backline movements. The U/15B were a very well balanced side with great potential for future years. Highlights of the season were beating Athone 32-9 and Mondeor 14-4.

The U/15 Age Group as a whole showed good team spirit, aggression and commitment and with these attributes should prove formidable opponents in future years.

The U/15 team members have asked to express their thanks to Mr Webster, Mr Solomon and Mr Moore for coaching them, and to Mr T Oliver for managing the side.

I would like to thank all the players for participating and making this such an exciting and enjoyable season. Last but not least, a very special word of thanks to Mrs Allen and the mothers for the excellent catering.

An unbeaten side! Opposition such as Hyde Park, St John's, Mondeor, C.B.C. Pretoria, Roosevelt and others. This was by no means an easy task. Winning and losing are part of everyday life on the sportsfield, but to remain unbeaten in true sportsmanlike fashion is a great feat. Congratulations.

The opposition amongst the larger schools, and in particular the government schools, was always heavier and taller. But the bigger they were the harder they fell through gutsy tackling and often desperate defence.

On a critical note, practices at times were not taken as seriously as they should have been. Motivation was something which each individual did possess, but very often too much coaxing was needed for the individual to show his real colours.

Unexpectedly hard games against King David and Edenglen gave the side the wake-up they needed and this proved very positive when we played Hyde Park and St John's.

I have purposely not mentioned any individual because each performed his task as well as the others; I feel it would detract from the team effort which each player contributed to. However, a special word of congratulations to P. Garrioch and A. van den Heever who were Captain and Vice-Captain respectively for leading their team with such determination.

Under 14B

The U/14B rugby side fared very well this season; 7 matches won, 3 lost and 1 drawn. This is a good record for any team.

There were talented players in both the forwards and the backs but if anything let them down in the end, it was lack of fitness. Rugby is a team game and in order to give of yourself 100%, total fitness and a commitment to the game is needed.

The captaincy changed hands fairly often but this did not have a negative effect, but rather gave an opportunity for others to try out their leadership qualities. Those given the opportunity were Geddes, Moy, Berardo, Blignaut, Boltman and Hackner.

Under 13

We can be particularly proud of our U/13 rugby players. Having started the season with limited skill and knowledge, they developed into a very successful age group. It was their total commitment to hard practice, the keen competition between the players and a particularly good sense of sportsmanship that brought in the results. The A Team were constantly pressurised by the B Team players turning in good performances. With this sort of depth within an age group, the future holds good for St David's rugby. A special word must go to the boys who for the whole season, played half games, or sat out in order to allow other players a game. The reserves in the B Team epitomised the spirit that ran through the whole age group.

The age group won well over half of their matches. However, there is still room for development. As we move into higher age groups, more is going to be expected from us and we must be prepared for it. I have no doubt that the keen application will carry them through to higher levels. There were particularly consistent performances by captain Gavin Behr and Mark Stayious in the A Team, but they were backed by a totally committed team. In the B Side the team effort throughout the season was a pleasure to see. Well done to all of you!

Swimming

The swimming season was a successful one, considering the number of swimmers that St David's has. The swimmers trained hard and showed good team spirit. The U/13 team produced some very fine swimmers in G Crowe, S Wach, V Gore and M Slattery.

The following boys received their age group scrolls:

Interhouse Gala

The gala of 1986 proved to be very successful and entertaining with two precontested records being broken. G Crowe broke 50m U/13 butterfly and W Muller broke 50m U/14 butterfly record. During the gala another five records were broken:

50m U/13 Freestyle : S Wach
50m U/14 Breaststroke : D Layden

4 x 25m U/13 medley relay	: Osmond	: 67,70
4 x 25m U/16 medley relay	: Benedict	: 60,88
4 x 25m Freestyle U/13 relay	: The Bishops	: 60,15

It was a pleasing sight to see so many participants and supporters who helped make the 1986 gala a memorable one.

The results were:

Benedict	: 515
Osmond	: 294,5
College	: 291,5
The Bishops	: 267

Our sincere thanks for the invaluable service provided by the catering ladies. A special word of thanks to the swimming staff and Mrs Sandra Marr for her coaching skills and assistance.

First and Second Team

The results for the First Team were disappointing, due to their lack of experience and commitment. The Second Team did surprisingly well considering that the team consisted of new players. They won all three games that they played.

U/15

The U/15 side had a good season. What they lacked in the number of players, they made up for with determination and spirit. Players that had a good season were S. Johnstone, R. Retzlaff and P. Hayward.

U/14

The U/14's had a very successful season, losing only one game to Parktown. A very talented and enthusiastic team beat KES 9-0 and St Stithians 7-0. D. Layden, P. Vidas, P. van den Heever, K. Hardy and W. Muller showed great potential and played exceptionally well.

U/13

After a slow start due to lack of experience and skill, the U/13 side improved to such an extent that they won the last four games. At a knockout tournament held at Highlands North, they lost to Highlands North 2-3, Edenvale 2-4. They beat KES 3-1 and Edenglen 5-2.

Inter-house Waterpolo

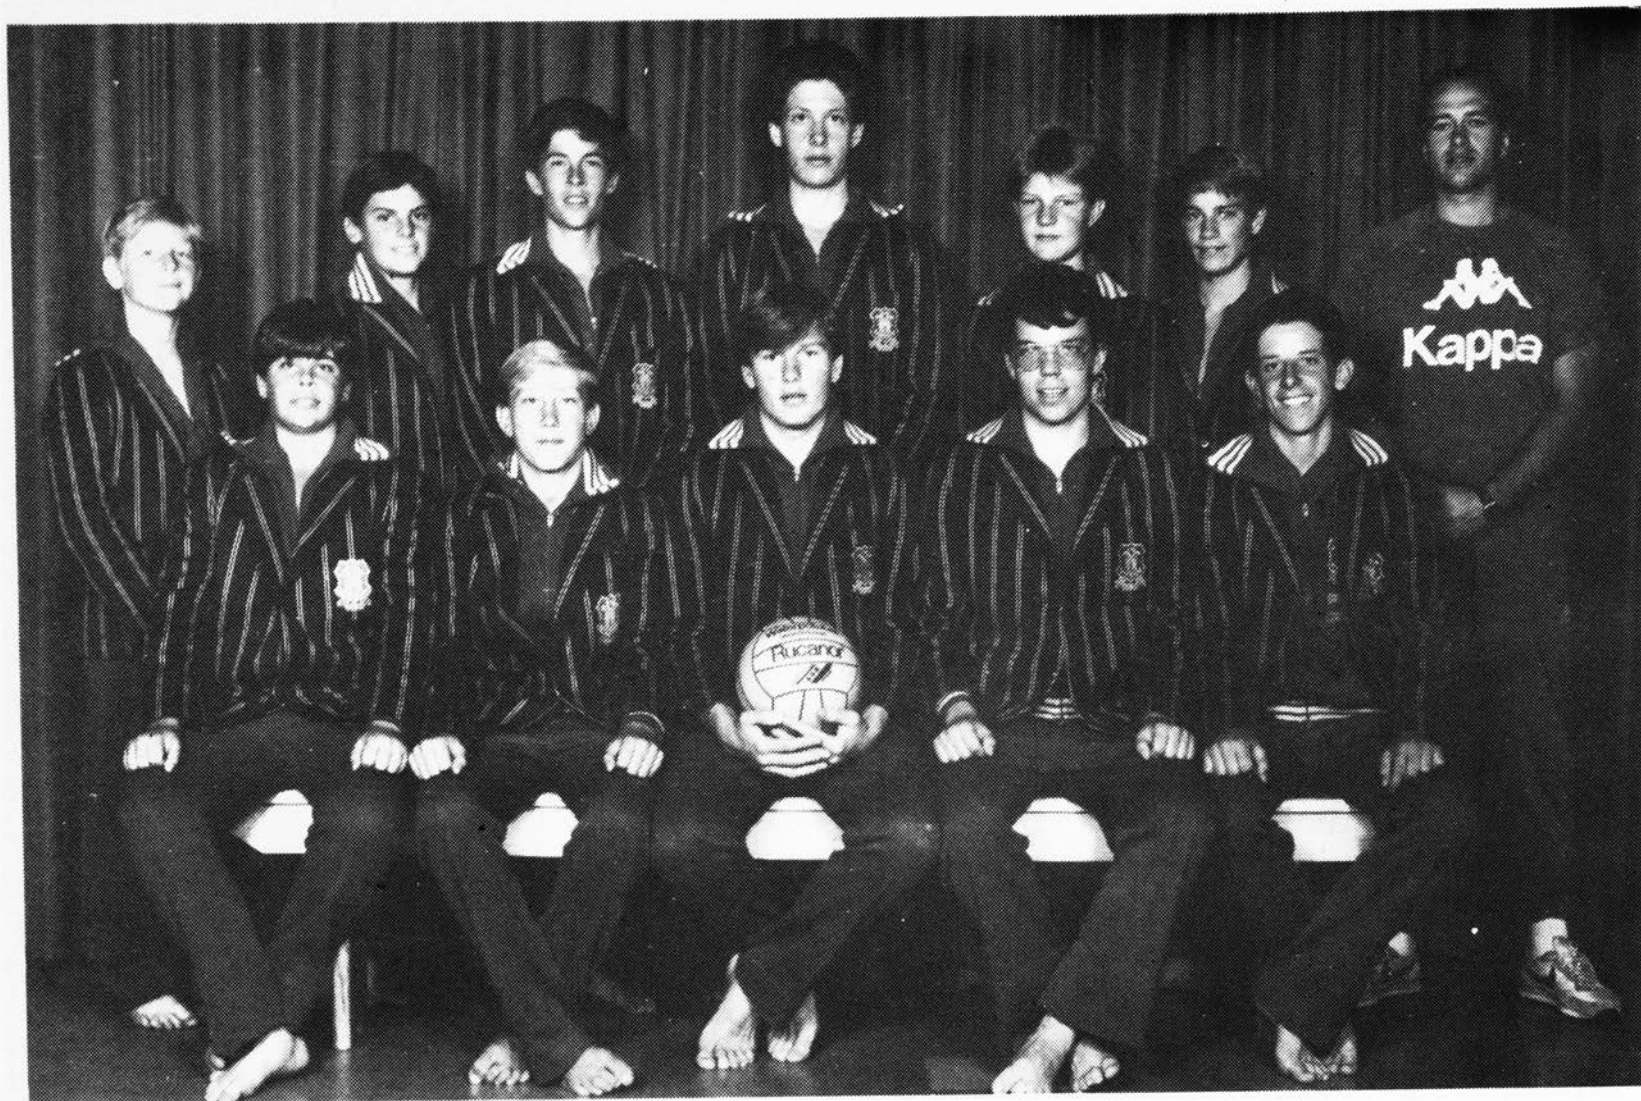

The Inter-house waterpolo games were played during breaks over a period of two weeks. A very high standard of play resulted in some exciting moments and hard games. Congratulations to Benedict for winning both Junior and Senior events.

The waterpolo results at St David's have improved considerably since 1985. For the first time in five years we were able to produce seven sides — 1sts, 2nds, U/15, U/14A, U/14B, U/13A, U/13B. Credit must be given to the players for their enthusiasm in attending practices early in the morning. (A special thanks to the parents who dragged themselves out of bed at the crack of dawn to bring their boys to practice).

A big thanks to Mr David Solomon who was a valuable asset in helping coach the senior sides. The results for the year are as follows:

JUNIOR SCHOOL

Prize Giving

Our annual Prize Giving took place on Sunday 9 March 1986 and our attractive venue under the Jacaranda trees was once again enhanced by a perfect afternoon. Our guest speaker was Sister Brigid who spoke on the role of a Catholic School in our country. Sister Brigid's strong and enlightening message was enjoyed by all.

The Catholic Doctrine and Scripture prizes in the Junior School were presented by Father Brewer, our College Chaplain. Junior School class prizes were presented by Sister Brigid.

The first prize and Costa John Memorial Trophy for academic achievement in Std. 5 was awarded to Adrian Fivaz. Congratulations, well done and keep up your good work, Adrian. The second prize in Std. 5 went to Vincent Gore and the third prize to Michael Slattery.

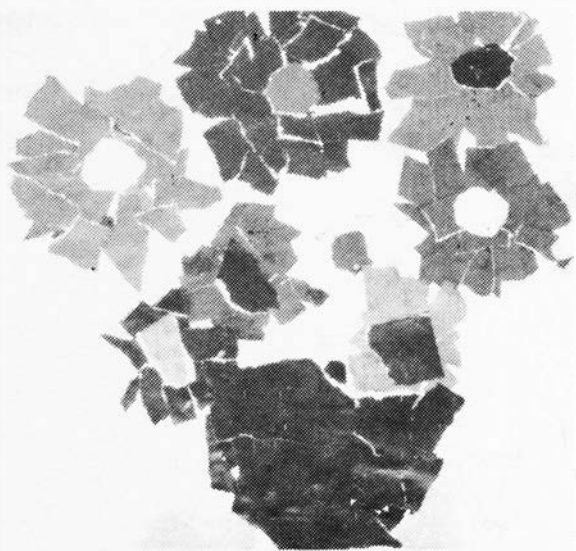

The Dux Trophy, presented by the Brothers for the best all-round pupil in Std. 5 was awarded to Vincent Gore — well done, Vincent.

There were three new Dux Trophies presented in the Junior School. The Dux Trophy for Std. 4, the Old Boys Association Trophy, presented by Mr Bergman went to Wanda Shuenyane. The Dux Trophy for Std. 3, the Brother Gerard Trophy, went to Brian Hodgson-Jervis. The Dux Trophy for Std. 2, the Giuricich Trophy, went to Vaughan Wickins.

The Junior Good Fellowship — Medley Trophy, awarded to the best all round pupil in work, leadership and sport in the under nine age group was awarded to Craig Bailey. Well done, Craig.

The Wendy Schaafsma Academic Floating Trophy for the best pupil in Std. 1 went to Allan Spooler. Well done, Allan.

The Pearson Chess Trophy for the Chess Player of the year was awarded to Kern Wilson. Well done, Kern.

STANDARD FIVE LEADERSHIP TOUR

It was 05h30 on January 21 when the Standard Fives left school for the 1986 leadership tour to Parys. There was a great feeling of excitement amongst us as we eagerly looked forward to the adventurous days ahead. No one really knew what to expect, but everyone's imagination was running wild with what little knowledge each one had heard from the previous year's standard five class. After a two hour journey, we arrived at our destination and were shown to our dormitories, where we were given five minutes to unpack and get ready for a lecture on rock climbing, kayaking and the basic safety rules of the tour. Lunch was followed by a quick swim and then we were divided into three groups, each of which did something different for example, kayaking, orienteering and lifesaving. Dinner was at six and we had to wash our own plates afterwards. Lights were switched off at nine o'clock.

Our daily routine was to have an hour of PT which was followed by breakfast at 08h00. The three groups eagerly set about the tasks of kayaking, rock climbing and life saving. Some of us boys found rock climbing very exciting and in our eagerness to reach the top, accidentally lost our footing and ended up where we started from. This experience gave us an insight of what a mountaineer goes through in order to reach the peak of a mountain. On our return we went on a short orienteering course and settled down to a hearty meal. Unfortunately while we were eating a storm broke out and we had a power failure for one and a half hours. We eventually went to our dormitories at ten o'clock.

The following day was much the same except that the groups changed around to alternate in the various activities. Kayaking proved to be the most exciting adventure of our camp. Each of us was eager to get a kayak for himself so that we could individually feel the power and stimulation created by the the movement of the flowing water. Although there were great squabbles between us everyone eventually had a turn in the kayaks, which was quite funny to watch and participate in. During the day we also learnt how to pack a rucksack, all about snake bites and went on a big orienteering course. We were also shown slides on kayaking, drugs and alcohol as well as a film called 'High Ice'. By now we were very tired and thankful to go to bed.

As this was the last day of our camp some time was spent in cleaning and tidying up the bungalows. All our other activities proceeded much the same as usual in kayaking, and team work to accomplish certain things over obstacle courses. After packing our bags we proceeded to thank Mr and Mrs Hiscutt for their hospitality and kindness throughout the camp. We also thanked Mr Castle and Mr Kotze for taking us on this tour, which was a very pleasant treat for all of us so early in the year, as it would normally have taken place much later in the school year and thus it created great team spirit amongst the boys.

INTER-HOUSE QUIZ

This year the Inter-House quiz was delayed to 24 September as Edmond and Brian Hodgson-Jervis who represented our school in the Rotary Inter-Schools Quiz Competition won their preliminary round. In the finals they competed against the top eleven schools on the Witwatersrand and came second in their section and fourth overall. Our congratulations to both boys on being fine ambassadors for St. David's.

For the sixth successive year Adrian Steed was the Quiz Master for the Inter-House competition. Osmond represented by Edmond and Brian Hodgson-Jervis, Russell Hubbard and Anthony Cooled from start to finish. College who were in fourth place for most of Round One fought valiantly to take second place. The results were as follows:

Osmond	104 points
College	92 points
Benedict	82 points
The Bishops	66 points

Congratulations to all the boys who competed and many thanks to Mrs Steele and the Ladies Catering Committee.

Mrs. G. Anderson.

Christmas Pageant 1985

Our annual Christmas Pageant took place in November 1985. After many weeks of hard work, our presentation of "Carols by Candlelight" was staged. Once again we were blessed with a perfect summer evening and parents and boys alike appeared to enjoy the celebration of the coming Christmas.

At the time of writing, preparations for the 1986 Christmas Pageant are well under way. The boys have already put many hours into rehearsals and we hope for an enjoyable, successful presentation in November 1986.

STANDARD THREE'S — TRIP TO THE EASTERN TRANSVAAL

The alarm rang. All the standard three boys had to get up for their tour of the Eastern Transvaal. All aboard the bus with our bags packed we waved good-bye to our parents. The bus driver, James, gave us a lecture about not kneeling on the seats and not throwing papers on the floor etc. The engine started — we were on our way.

Our first main stop was the Fish Hatcheries at Lydenberg, where we were shown a film and then had ten minutes to run around and look at the small dams. There was one particular dam where five fish lay dead on the edge of the water. Then onto the Long Tom Pass, where we saw a replica of the Long Tom cannons used by the boers. At Lone Creek Waterfall we walked up a path leading to the waterfall and photographed the scenery (with all the fancy cameras we had borrowed from our dads!) Here we enjoyed our home packed lunches after which we boarded the bus once again and set off for the Sabie Forestry Museum. We were shown different kinds of wood and the tools used for cutting wood.

The following day we set out at 7.30 a.m. to reach Bourkes Luck Potholes and Museum. We raced down the path across the bridges and took photographs of the round holes which had been worn into the rock. The Museum was fascinating with all the stuffed animals, all of which looked very realistic. Then onto Pilgrims Rest with all the old houses.

On day three we started off with a nature trail at Swadini, where we saw the Blyde Dam and a film about the fish eagles in the Okavango Swamps. Our guide Lyn pointed out different trees to us e.g. The Rain Tree, Sycamore Fig and the Maroela. The African tribes were superstitious about the Rain Tree as from a distance it looked as if little drops of water were falling from the tree. However it was actually frog hoppers sucking the moisture from the tree and sweating to keep themselves cool.

A very interesting visit was made to the Reptile Park where we saw many different snakes in their cages and watched a demonstration on the handling of snakes.

The big moment had arrived — we were heading on into The Kruger National Park. Everyone's eyes were focused on the bush. We spent the night at Pretoriuskop and had another early morning to get to Skakuza for breakfast. Here we visited the museum which was a sad sight. They had taken baby animals out of their mothers womb and preserved them in a liquid. The museum also showed the knife, sheath and lion skin of Harry Wolhuter — one of the first Game Rangers at the park. The rest of the day was spent viewing game such as lion, leopard, bushbuck, zebra, elephant, giraffe, spotted hyena, duikers, klipspringer, Sable antelope, hippo, warthog, baboons, vervet monkeys, birds of prey, guinea fowl and francolins. We had been extremely lucky.

Our final stop was at the Sudwala caves after a super breakfast at Belfast of hamburgers and chips. None of us had ever been inside these caves and were amazed at the huge stalactites and stalagmites which were more than 15 million years old. There was a tour of 7 hours to see the crystals, which unfortunately we did not have time for.

The tour had reached an end and we were back to school after a wonderful experience which we look forward to doing again.

OUR THANKS to Mrs. Bowles and Mrs. Whitfield for giving us this super opportunity.

JUDAS

“What time must we be at school, m’am?”

“What shall we do if someone is absent?”

These are the type of questions asked on Tuesdays when the class producing the Wednesday play for assembly have their last rehearsal.

The enthusiasm of the junior pupils for their assembly plays is infectious so that the class teachers seem to have as much fun producing the plays as the pupils do — even though it involves considerably hard work.

The plays are an excellent mode of instruction and character building — providing visual and audible stimulation and improving the self confidence of the actors.

The boys seem to live the characters they are acting, as was illustrated when 2-H had their turn.

“Ma’m, Judas hasn’t arrived!” — Judas was one of the main characters.

“Nor has the High Priest!”

PANIC!

The teacher was sure that these characters would arrive. Then five minutes before the assembly was to start, she was panicking too.

There was a quick audition and Alexis Apostolidis bravely agreed to stand in for Nhlango Nyembe as Judas.

All went fairly well; and the next day the teacher received a letter from Nhlango:

“Dear Miss Jenks

I’m sorry I didn’t come to school yesterday for the play.

The car I go with was stolen so I couldn’t come.

THE STORM

It was a calm, sunny clear day. The Sky started to change, it became dark and threatening. The clouds formed together and sealed like wax. At first there was a breeze and then it rose to a gust. Soon it was a gale in full cry.

The environment started to change with swaying trees, clattering doors and rattling windows. The wind grew stronger still, reaching its peak. Lightning appeared, flashing and cracking in full glory. The thunder rumbled, grumbled and began to clash. Everything began to vibrate.

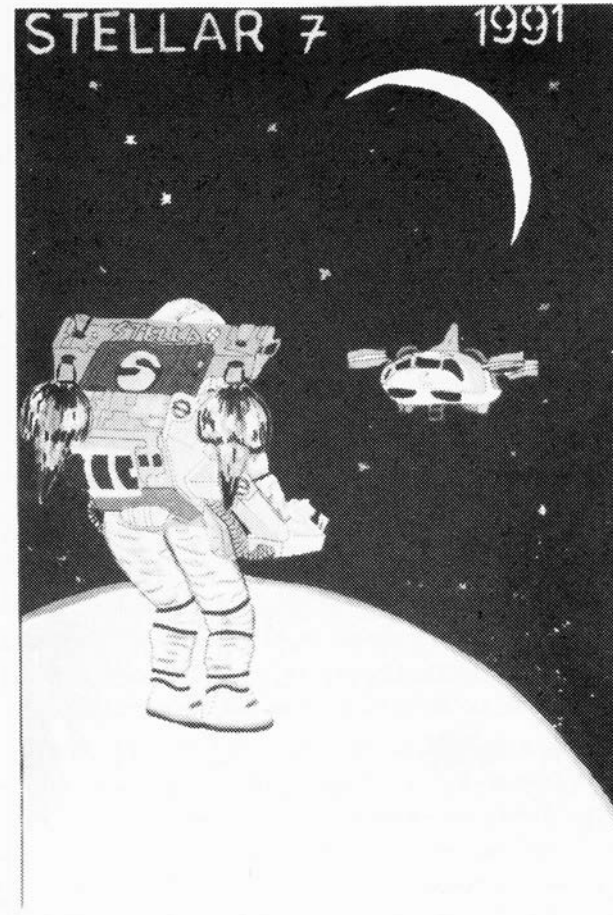

Soon a slow, soft drizzle began. The trickle changed to a tumbling. The rain came lashing down. Soon the streams formed rivers. Slowly the storm disappeared the same way it had come.

DIE RUIMTE

Lank gelede het die wetenskaplikes die sterre aanskou. Die ruimte was vir hulle 'n raaisel. Vandag het ons vuurpyle met afsonderlike dele elk met hulle eie aandryfmiddels. Daar was ruimtemanne daarin wat na die maan toe gegaan het. Die maan, wat om die aarde wentel, is 'n eensame plek wat vir jare ongehinderd, behalwe deur meteoriete, deur die ruimte sweef. 'n Paar jaar gelede het 'n paar ruimtemanne op die maan geland terwyl mense op die aarde aandagtig hulle aanskou het. Hulle het maanstof versamel. Hulle pogings om lewe op die maan te vind was vergeefs. Hulle het die swak swaartekrag ontsnap en terug na die aarde gekeer.

A STRUGGLE FOR SURVIVAL

A mother dingo is killed and her three pups are left to fend for themselves. The pups are terrified and don't know what to do. They stick close to the dead body of their mother.

Night settles in and the pups look for a good place to sleep. In the Australian outback storms are few and far between so when rain comes there is plenty of it. This happens just at the wrong time because the pups are lying in a dried up river bed. But now the river turns into a raging torrent that sweeps the pups, gasping and choking, further downstream. They all grab onto a rock but the rock becomes slippery and the pups carry on with the hazardous journey.

Ahead, there is a thundering noise and the water disappears down a waterfall. At the bottom are jagged rocks which seem to be waiting to tear the pups to shreds. The pups, expecting their fate, are just about to be swept over, when their legs get caught in an old piece of tattered string which has got caught among the submerged rocks. They manage to scramble to the shore. All three pups drop, exhausted, on the bank. The following morning the pups wake, glad to be alive after their journey.

The pups are found by a farmer and he gives them to his children who bring them up to be strong, healthy dingos.

ESCAPE FROM EAST BERLIN

I was only a child when the Berlin Wall was constructed. Dividing the city into two, the wall ran right through a park, separating me from the place I had played in when I was young. During my school days, I was a plane fanatic. After my university education I became a pilot for an East Berlin air service.

I stayed in a block of flats overlooking the wall. From my flat, on the fifth floor, one could see the American sector of West Berlin. During one of my flights a passenger told me that he was going to escape to the West. A week later I received a letter telling me that he had escaped.

For about seven months we wrote to each other. One day he sent me a letter telling me about a new flying machine, that had been introduced to West Berliners. It was called an autogyro. It was a simple little thing which had wings like a hang glider, a metal tailfin, a seat, joystick and an engine.

Reading the letter, an idea came into my head. If I had an autogyro, why not fly over the Berlin wall? The autogyro is too small to cause any trouble concerning an invasion of air space.

After working with my friend, and an organisation that gets people from East to West, we smuggled parts of the gyro, a machine gun and several grenades to my flat. I added a metal case that would hold the weapons. This was attached to the side of the seat. A silencer was fitted to the engine. This was fitted so that when crossing the wall, as little noise as possible would be made. The wings were lined with metal fibres rendering it bullet proof.

The plan was as follows: two ladders would be placed next to the guard boxes. The guards would be overpowered by two men, dressed as guards. The searchlight operator would be taken out in the same manner as the guards. When the two guards patrolling their twenty metres reached the right, the spotlight would be shone in their eyes. This was my signal. I was to fly over the wall and to use the weapons when necessary. From my flat roof, I was to fly over grass, an electric fence topped with barbed wire, a land mined strip of grass, the wall, topped with spikes and barbed wire, a land minded strip of grass again, a fence, grass, a fence and then I would be free. A truck was to take me to a house in the US Sector of West Berlin. All this was to happen at night.

I was very tense, my pulse was racing and perspiration was pouring down my face. Everything went well. Then my signal came. I took off and flew; guards on another box saw me — they started shooting.

Bang! Oh no! A bullet hit the engine. It started to splutter. I was heading for the minefield. This was the end of it all. Suddenly I caught a tailwind that was strong enough to get me across to freedom.

I had a rough landing on the other side, and got a bump on my head. We drove to a house where we celebrated. Now I have freedom forever.

BUSHTRAILS

Ek het om vyf uur opgestaan en my klere aangetrek. My vader het my na die skool gebring waar ek en my maats vir die ander kinders gewag het. Toe was ons in die bus vir 'n uur en 'n kwart totdat ons by die plek in die Magaliesburg se berge aangekom het. Ons het vir drie dae daar gebly en twee lesse elke dag gehad. Die kos was baie lekker en ons het sarsie bal en sokker gespeel. Ons het na skyfies van slange en alle soorte diere gekyk wat in die berge is. Ons het twee geelkobras gesien en 'n aap wat op die rug van sy ma gesit het. Op die eerste dag het een van die eenaars 'n mol gevind. Op die laaste dag het ons met kussings baklei. Die eenaar het vir ons gesê dat ons vir 'n halfuur buite in die koue moet staan. Ek het baie Afrikaans geleer en ek het dit baie geniet.

NIGHT

It was a cold, misty night. I was alone. I heard the wind howling and then suddenly I noticed I wasn't alone. I heard the front door creaking open. Then I heard what I thought were drips of water. I got out of bed and got my cricket bat. But then suddenly someone was coming up the stairs. I hid in the darkest corner. I had my cricket bat ready. I hoped that this Thing would not come into my room (but my room was the room leading from the stairs). Then my door swung open! I nearly screamed but I had lost my voice. A terrifying green Thing came into my room. It had teeth a metre long and six fingers on each hand with nails two metres long. I swung my bat at it, but my bat just went straight through the Thing. He laughed a deep spikey laugh, and then I noticed it wasn't water that was dripping. It was blood! I screamed again but it was no use. I noticed that the blood was from my cat because the tail was still in the Thing's mouth. I thought, if my bat could go through the Thing so could I. I ran and I managed to get through. I ran down the stairs and tried to open the front door but the Thing said in a deep voice "It's locked". I ran to the kitchen and tried to open the back door. Again, the deep voice said, "Its locked." Just then the phone rang. It distracted the thing so I tried to knock the door down but I nearly broke my arm. Once again the Thing said "Its locked". This time I didn't care I bashed the door down. Then the police arrived and they searched the house but found nothing. One of the policemen, however, found the Thing in real form. It was lying in my bedroom saying "Please help me". I started crying but I found it was dead. Thank God.

THE HAUNTED HOUSE

There is an old, grey house far away in the green valley and nobody knows who lives there or what is in it. One day a hiker went out and down to the valley. He never returned. They sent rescue teams out. They never returned. One day my mum said: "It's all the work of that grey house, I'm sure of it".

Now, I'm the leader of a gang and I called them all together for a meeting in the hideout. There are five members, six including me. They are Lee, Cliff, Warren, Stefan and Steve. We decided to go down into the valley ourselves. We were quite near the house when suddenly, "Crash!" A window pane broke. The ground began to shake and then cracked! We all fell in and it closed! We then saw steps. We walked up! A door opened. We were free again. How lucky we were!

A NEW HOME

A pair of black shoes was lying in a box in a shoe shop waiting to be bought. In came Jimmy and his mother to buy new shoes. The lady brought out many pairs of shoes for Jimmy to try on. After trying them all, Jimmy liked the black ones best, so his mother bought them for him.

At last, thought the shoes, we are out of the box, and we hope to have much fun. Jimmy put on his new shoes and skipped to school, where he met his friends and played soccer. The bell rang and Jimmy ran to the classroom where they worked hard until the bell rang for break. They all rushed out to play; Jimmy kicked stones, ran through puddles of water and muddy flowerbeds. It was time to go home, the shoes were wet and heavy with mud. Mother tried to clean them as best she could and gave them some polish.

That night standing next to the fire, the one shoe said to the other: "If this is what they call fun, I would rather have stayed in the box on the shelf."

A STORY ABOUT A BEAR

His big brown paw stole their honey and the bees swarmed out. The bees got very angry with the bear and they stung the bear. As the bees were stinging the bear he ran and jumped into the nearby pond and he took a stick with a hole in it and went under water and breathed through it. The hole was just big enough for the bees to fit in so they flew in to it and they found themselves in the bear's mouth. The bear decided to fill his mouth with water and drown the bees. So he filled his mouth with water and spat the bees out and they all drowned.

THE ALIEN LANDING

It was a dark, rainy night. The airstrip was flooded with light — the control room was full of people talking excitedly. The first spaceship from outer space was being given orders for landing!

Jim Baines looked out towards the strip and thought back on how only two weeks ago he had made contact with Nkider, while he was using his radio transmitter. They had become very good friends. Now he would soon be meeting him when the ship landed. Nkider's voice was at that moment asking the ground-control to clear them for landing. He sounded really worried — what was all the water they could see from their ship? Jim answered that there was no water — they must be mistaken!

Nkider was now frantic — their ship was out of control — it was going down fast, it was aiming straight at the water. There was a gurgling sound and then silence. Jim looked out from the control windows. There was NO water, only shiny little puddles of rainwater. To his horror he realised what had happened!

The aliens must have been only a centimetre high and they and their ship had sunk in one of the many rain puddles.

THE DRAGON HUNT

I am Sir Dominic and I'm about to tell you my adventure of how I became a king. It all started like this. I was a very handsome teenager. A pigeon came fluttering down with a message. It said "I want you who get this message to be a Knight of the round table King Arthur". I was so happy I ran and told my family and in two hours I was with the other knights. Two months later there was a urgent meeting to say that there was a dragon in the hills. Who kills the dragon can marry the princess. Many knights and I tried and I killed the dragon. Married the princess and here I am dieing.

AIR — SEA RESCUE

One day some people went out in a dinghy. At first all went well until..... suddenly a gale like wind blew up and the dinghy started to fill with water. The crew were greatly distressed as they could clearly see that the dinghy would sink. One of them started to bale the water out of the boat while another sent a wireless message to an aerodrome to send out a helicopter. In time a flying dot was spotted on the horizon and far away a whirling sound was heard. The man who had sent the message began shouting and waving his hands. Had the men in the helicopter seen them? They had! The helicopter came up close and dropped a line. The first man strapped himself up and was lifted into the helicopter, then the second man and third. Then the helicopter chopped away to the aerodrome. When they got back to the aerodrome they found no one was hurt so the ambulance nearby stayed parked where it was, unused.

Ram Slam is very hard to bomb up. Ram Slam is very powerful. One day Ram Slam bombed up a big army tank. People like Ram Slam because they can always call him when they are in danger and when they need help.

Ram Slam is on the good side and some times the police try to catch Ram Slam but they never get him.

One day Ram Slam went under water and the people who controlled Ram Slam got scared when they were under water. The people that controlled Ram Slam turned on the turbo and they zoomed through the water. When they got out of the water they found out that they were in South America. It took them about an hour to get there.

The people found out that Ram Slam was the fastest of all jets, aeroplanes, helicopters, and boats.

The people who controlled Ram Slam were, Tommy (captain), John, Michael, Kathleen and Sandra. They stayed in America for a week and so the seventh day they came back home to South Africa.

After an hour they were back in South Africa and all the people were very happy to see Ram Slam again.

Cricket

Cricket: 1985/1986

Once again a very long and enjoyable season for all our cricketers. The boys have once again excelled themselves with their individual performances and their team spirit. A number of exciting games were played and they were all enjoyed by parents who supported their son's matches. The school has 11 primary teams playing cricket and this gives a large number of boys the opportunity to play cricket even though they play a number of A teams in their fixtures.

The two 'C' teams entered in the leagues played cricket of a very high standard and proved to be a great success.

Congratulations must go to G. Evans who was selected as Vice-Captain of the Transvaal B team for the Perm Inter-provincial Cricket week. J. Cawell and I Rugani were also selected to play for the Private Schools team during the Treadwell week.

All the boys must be congratulated on their behaviour and tremendous spirit shown throughout the season. On behalf of the boys I would like to thank the parents for their support throughout the season and also the ladies catering committee for providing the teas and refreshments during the season.

A total of 113 games were played during the season. A summary of the matches follows:

Cross Country:

Cross Country is becoming very popular and a number of schools are hosting events on some very strenuous courses. We managed to take part in a number of cross countries this year and also held our first inter-house cross country which was very successful and will become a regular event on an athletics calendar. There were a number of outstanding performances by our runners, particularly our Junior Team which ran very well in most of their meetings.

Chess

Three teams from the Junior School were entered for league matches organised by the Southern Transvaal Primary Schools' Chess Association.

The Junior Team played steadily throughout the season and as a result of their dedication, the boys won their Section. This involved the team in a further 5 matches against schools as far afield as Discovery and Highveld in the South.

The Senior A Team acquitted themselves well and came third in their Section and the Senior B team were placed fourth.

Many of our players show great promise and this is due to the fine coaching and constant interest in our boys shown by Mr & Mrs Pearson. Our grateful thanks to our coaches who so generously impart their love and knowledge of the game to our boys.

Congratulations to Kern Wilson, who has been invited to play in the Best Boy/Best Girl Chess Tournament. The results of this tournament are used to select representatives to play for Southern Transvaal in the inter-provincial tournament. Good luck Kern!

We are also indebted to Mrs Walton, for her constant support during the season and to Mrs Visser and Mrs Jackson for providing refreshments for the home matches. A word of thanks, too, is due to Mrs Rose, who spent considerable time organising and confirming matches for the teams. We miss her and wish her and her family every happiness in their new home.

To all the boys who turn up regularly for chess practices, thank you and keep up your attendance. To all the teams, well done and good luck for next season!

Tennis

Junior School Tennis

Three teams were entered once again in the Primary Schools League and one in the U/10 Alswang League.

In brief this is how the teams have done this year.

A Team played 6 games won 5 games and lost 1 game.

B Team played 7 games won 6 games and lost 1 game.

C Team played 7 games won 1 game and lost 6 games.

U/10 Team played 4 games won 2 games and lost 2 games.

As can be seen the A and B Teams did exceptionally well. Congratulations boys. The C and U/10 Teams which consisted mainly of junior players gained very valuable experience and should do well next year.

I would like to thank Peter Parkinson the coach for all the valuable assistance he has given all the boys not only the boys in the teams.

For the first time this year the Junior and Senior School Inter-House Tennis Competitions were held on the same day. This proved a very good idea as the children and parents enjoyed watching the older boys play and the House spirit was very evident. The Junior results were as follows:

1st College	: 24 games
2nd Benedict	: 21 games
3rd The Bishops	: 20 games
4th Osmond	: 19 games

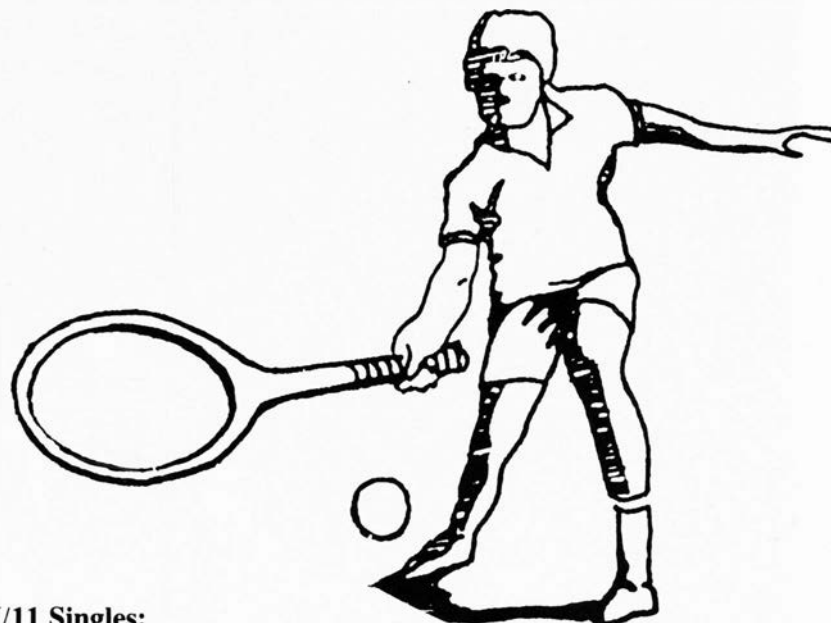

The 1986 School Championships were held on Sunday 14 September and once again proved a great success with some excellent tennis. The U/11 and U/12 Doubles were marathon matches and most people felt that it was a pity that one couple had to lose. Congratulations to all the boys who reached the finals. The results were as follows:

U/10 Singles:

Rupert Conway beat Craig Bailey 6-0

U/10 doubles:

Repert Conway and Duncan Smuts beat Craig Bailey and Richard Farber 6-2.

U/11 Singles:

Alan Bevelo beat Peter Roberts 6-4, 6-1.

U/11 Doubles:

Alan Bevelo and Vaughan Wickins beat Peter Roberts and Christopher Hodgson 4-6, 6-5 and 6-4.

U/12 Singles:

Jason Moy beat Cormac Sullivan 6-3 and 6-4.

U/12 Doubles:

Jason Moy and Cormac Sullivan beat Fergus Slattery and Russel Hubbard 6-2, 4-6 and 8-6.

Open Singles:

Caine Herr beat Jamie Cowell 6-2 and 6-0.

Open Doubles:

Caine Herr and Jamie Cowel beat Gabriel Simaan and Michael Swanson by default.

I would like to thank Mrs W. Schaafsma, Mrs C. Hildyard and Mrs P. Carlisle for helping with the teams. My thanks also to Mrs. P. Visser, Mrs. G. Stubbs and George who helped with the refreshments.

Soccer

Soccer Results 1985

Once again a successful season was enjoyed by most of our teams. The highlight of 1986 was the selection of Jamie Cowell and Patrick Rennie for the Southern Transvaal Schools Soccer Team. They must be congratulated on their performances during the season and the part they played in the Southern Team winning the Inter-Provincial Tournament.

Unfortunately the Catholic Schools Knock-Out was cancelled due to the shortness of the second term. Hopefully this will not be the case next year and we can look forward to some exciting games.

Results of the Southern Transvaal Schools Knock-Out:

U/9A	vs Rembrandt Park	L1-0
U/10A	vs Rembrandt Park	W 2-1
	vs Bryanston	W 3-0
	vs Montrose	W 3-0
	vs Glenhazel	D 1-1
	vs Glenhazel	L 3-1
U/11A	vs Bedfordview	L 1-0
U/12A	vs Bryanston	W 4-2
	vs Risidale	L 2-1
Open A	vs Rembrandt	L 3-0

1986 has not been a year of great financial gain by the P.T.A. but it has been a year of spending from funds gained during 1985.

The P.T.A. over the past few years has worked in two year cycles, the odd year being one of finance being accumulated by means of the Spring Fair (or fête) and the even year one where the profits raised are then put to good use at the College.

My committee and I were very fortunate to inherit a surplus of R35 000, of which, I'm also pleased to report, to date we have spent R25 000 of these monies on various new and maintenance projects around the College.

The most important facet of the year for the P.T.A. has been the success of the Marist Family Day in June. The day was organised with the full knowledge that it would not be a major fund raising day but was intended to promote Marist Inanda as a College where you would be proud to send your son. As a promotional day the event was a resounding success, as the name implies as a "Family Day".

A disappointment to the P.T.A. has been the lack of support for the 250 Club. For a mere R10 per month a member stands the chance of winning R500 and the funds accumulated are assurance for future P.T.A.'s being financially secure to assist the College with projects for the betterment of our son's education.

In 1985 I served as Deputy Chairman of the P.T.A. under Mike Cronje. He was a very hard act to follow but to my delight I have had a very strong committee with me who have all got the College at heart. To single out any individual would be wrong of me, but if I may be excused for journalistic licence of a quote by Sir Winston Churchill, I wish that we did not have to rely on so few to do so much for the College.

Times are hard, and there is not sign of any economic improvement ahead but regardless of this situation the P.T.A. is committed to raise funds and support various projects around the College and for this I thank you for your support.

God bless those few for all they do.

B.L.J. Lambert. Chairman

1986 Tuckshop Report

Our hardworking tuckshop mothers have once again shown a tremendous spirit in keeping the tuckshop open and running. It has been a difficult year for some of the convenors with so many mothers returning to work and so few mothers willing to spend a couple of mornings in the tuckshop.

To all you convenors and your helpers we extend a sincere thanks for your kind and helpful co-operation. With your patient and willing help the tuckshop has remained a service that the students really appreciate.

Wendy Steele and Leslie-ann Stirling

Swop Shop

Swop Shop has shown a steady income in 1980.

We would like to encourage more parents to visit Swop Shop before buying new costly clothing — it really is a tremendous save in these expensive times.

Thank you to all our long-standing, staunch, reliable mothers, and matron, who once again have contributed to the running of Swop Shop.

A very special thanks to Ann Fitt, who leaves us this year — she has managed the financial side for Swop Shop - we will miss you.

If there are any new mothers out there who would be willing to spare a few hours only a term to assist us please give me a ring.

Catering Committee

As 1986 draws to a close St. David's Catering Committee once again sees the end of a very busy year. The numerous Senior and Junior School sporting and social functions have, as always, been catered for by the hardworking team of mothers I am privileged to work with.

My sincere thanks go to Wendy Steelé and Penny Visser who have assisted and supported me in every way - and also Liz Murray, Pam Alcock and Bea Caister, as well as the many other mums who so readily "lend a hand". To Mary von Guilleaume, and her helpers who have organised the Mass teas - my thanks to you all.

George Mphepho, Julius T. Nanbe and the kitchen staff are amongst those who work so willingly and I for one, often wonder how we in catering would fare without them and their able assistance.

1987 will be upon us in no time and I once again appeal to mothers to come forward to assist us on the catering committee; it is a rewarding and a pleasurable way of meeting and mixing with other mothers at St. David's.

May the Festive Season be a joyous one for you all.

God bless
Leslie-ann Stirling. Chairlady - Catering
