EDITORIAL.

IT has never been the customary to dedicate the Maristonian to any person, living or dead; the Maristonian is dedicated to the attainment and preservation of Marist ideals; ideals which are revered and cherished by every Marist, be he man or priest, in every part of the globe. We would be failing in our duty, however, if we did not render homage and pay lasting respect to one who was the embodiment of Marist virtues and ideals, of high principles and moral standards, of life-long, self-sacrificing devotion to duty. Such a man was the late Rev. Brother Diogene, Superior-General of the Marist Brothers for the past twenty-two years. Elsewhere in this issue appears a panegyric preached on the life of Brother Diogene which conveys a true and lasting picture of his life of hard toil and brilliant achievement. When Brother Diogene asks of Venerable Marcellin Champagnat, Founder of the Marist Institute — and a man of identical ideals—“Have I done well?”, he will surely receive an affirmatory “You have done well”. We can do no less than acknowledge our debt of eternal gratitude to Brother Diogene.

A glance through this issue will suffice to show that with Marist Brothers' Colleges all is well. Never have they gained such brilliant scholastic successes; on the field of sport, even if our teams are not always victorious, our boys never fail to play in the true spirit of the game; and that is worth achieving. These pages also reveal with what thoroughness the Brothers uphold the Marist teaching ideals. In the field of sport, rugby, cricket, swimming, tennis, athletics, gymnastics and boxing are catered for; in the social arts, music and singing, dramatic art, debating, dancing, even, is not despised; classes in first-aid, practice in C.P.S. work; and the final moulding of manhood, a highly efficient cadet training, wherein the boys learn true discipline and acquire practical knowledge of the use of weapons of modern warfare.

That the Marist Brothers in Johannesburg continue to flourish we brook no denial. The Kock Street School is to be extended to accommodate the ever-growing roll of students; extensions at Observatory College are contemplated; the new College nearing completion at Inanda will be the most up-to-date in the country; and finally, the Brothers have plans for building in the near future a further school at Kensington.

We have every reason to be proud of our record of Marist Old Boys who are doing their bit on active service. Some six hundred, to the best of our knowledge, are on active service, many have paid the final price, many are prisoners of war, many have been wounded, and many also have been decorated for gallantry. To those parents and families of Old Boys who have suffered bereavement or received anxious tidings, we tender our sincerest expressions of sympathy, and we pray for the safe return of those who are still fighting for their country.

Proof that a Marist is always a Marist, if such proof is needed, is given by Sgt. Major R. Feinberg, who was present at a Marist Re-Union held in Cairo and attended by Old Marists from South Africa, England, Scotland, Australia and New Zealand, High Mass being celebrated as part of the Re-Union.

We acknowledge with thanks the kindly loan by the “Star” and the “Rand Daily Mail” of photographic blocks of various Marist Old Boys.

OBSERVATORY NOTES

THE PREFECTS

THE following boys were appointed Prefects for 1942:—

Dayboys.—R. Alperstein; L. G. Mc-Nicholas; D. A. Pretorius; S. Selkirk; P. E. Smith; K. O. van Reenen; A. M. Vrdoljak.

Boarders.—J. P. Cardoso; K. Folster; A. Pereira; R. Pickup; C. Schneider.

Several meetings were held during the year, at which the prefects were assigned their duties. They helped to foster enthusiasm in Inter-House activities and were responsible for the maintenance of tone and discipline generally.

STREET COLLECTIONS

Periodically Seniors are meticulously careful about the position of their ties and their general grooming requires more than usual attention. The reason? They have volunteered to help with the Street Collections and War Effort. They have been proud to have been of service, and institutions such as The Home for the Deaf and Dumb, St. Vincent de Paul Society, Nazareth House, Mazenod, Good Shepherd Home, have all benefited by their efforts.

Other funds, mainly connected with the war effort, have been helped. The Empire Day Tobacco Fund, the Air Force Comforts Fund, the Children's Day Collection, Keep the Door Open Drive for the General Hospital, the Red Cross and finally the Malta Fund, St. John's Ambulance and the Epileptic Employment Association.

RED CROSS SOCIETY

Last May the College was honoured with a visit from Mrs. Thomas of the Red Cross Society. This lady gave an interesting lecture on the Society, its aims and achievements. The outcome was that two classes—Senior and Junior—in First Aid were started at the College. The enthusiasm of the Lecturers and Demonstrator communicated itself to the pupils who followed the work with keen interest and to advantage.

Not to be outdone by the Boarders, the Day Pupils had classes for First Aid inaugurated by St. John's Ambulance, and these had a corresponding marked success, furthered mainly by the zeal of Oscar McQueen.

RED CROSS EXAMINATIONS

In connection with the Red Cross classes I am glad to mention that all the boys presented in the junior class have passed (cum laude) and in the senior class there was only one failure. Thanks are due mainly to Mr. Maisnick whose enthusiasm proved infectious.

The examining doctor, Dr. Schmahmann, complimented the classes on the excellence of their work and congratulated them on the percentage of passes. The classes are indebted to Matron O'Connor for extra coaching and useful hints.

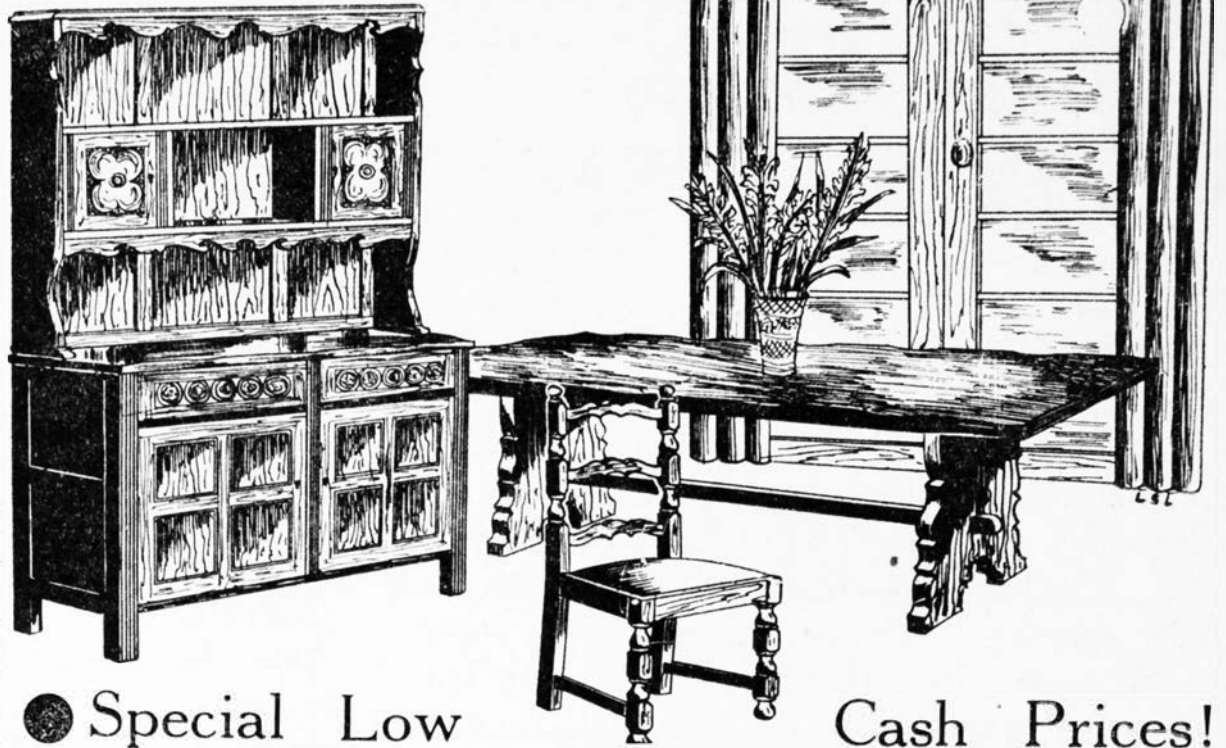

LADIES' COMMITTEES

The grateful thanks of the College authorities are due to Matron O'Connor, Mesdames Middlewick, Hurly, Martin, Kirchoff, Kelly, Haupt and Miss Murphy for their assistance at functions throughout the year. The co-operation of these ladies at the College Dance, the Swimming Gala, Boxing Tournaments and Athletic Sports helped to make these events the more enjoyable, sociable and successful. The College deeply appreciates their unstinting efforts.

COLLEGE BALL

ON Wednesday, 23rd September, the first College Ball, for students of the Senior and Junior Matriculation classes, was held in the Phylencha Hall. This intrepid break with tradition justified itself—and who shall say that boys at school should not have the opportunity of acquiring the social graces that they will surely find essential when they go out into the world?—and the evening was an unqualified success. The boys and their partners had spent many hours before the Ball practising the art, new to most of them, of dancing, and the success of their efforts was evident in the degree of skill in the "light fantastic" displayed on that night. An admirable sense of decorum was upheld throughout the evening, and one and all had the time of their young lives. It is to be hoped that this experiment, thus proved so successful, will become an annual fixture amongst the College activities.

Thanks are due to Matron O'Connor, Mrs. Haupt, Miss Mary Hurley and Miss Murphy who diligently busied themselves decorating the hall, and to the other ladies of the Committee who assisted with refreshments. Rev. Bro. Thomas is to be particularly thanked for providing a piano singularly in tune with the spirit of the "revellers." We are indebted to Mr. J. Richardson for acting as M.C. for the evening, to Mr. E. Aschman for his services, and to Mr. Penrose, Chairman of the Old Boys', and Mrs. Penrose, for acting as host and hostess of the evening. Bro. Edward was responsible for the arrangements of the dance and left nothing to be desired.

Among those present were the Bro. Provincial, Rev. Bro. Osmond, the Rev. Fr. Fisher, Mr. J. Geddes, Corporal O'Brien, Dr. Lewis and party, and a number of parents.

C.P.S. WORK

✓ THANKS to the efforts of Councillor "Jimmy" O'Connor we have become thoroughly air-raid-minded at the College.

The training of most of the incendiary fighting squads was the work of Mr. O'Connor. He spent hours and hours on this job and of course he was amply rewarded for his pains in the very smart and efficient appearance of the boys and girls. The Rescue work in the College Tower was spectacular and obviously provided enjoyment for the numerous volunteers. Altogether a wonderful show.

We have already carried out a full-dress rehearsal in dispersing the boys and have had two trial black-outs. In this connection the thanks of the College are due to the parents of the following boys for allowing them to take an active part in C.P.S. work while at the College:

J. Cardoso; R. Pickup; J. Matthee; D. Duchon; I. Shirley; A. Considine.

Generally speaking we feel that the College is prepared to do its best to protect those within its walls should the emergency arise.

RELIGIOUS NOTES

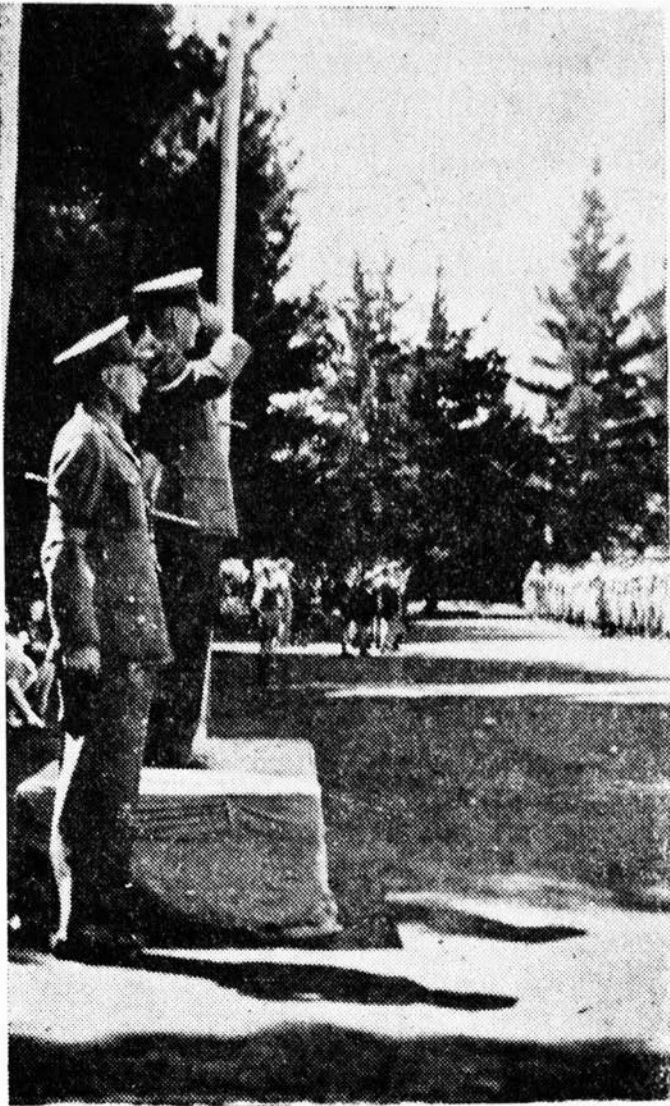

THROUGHOUT the year, catechism classes have been visited by Rev. Fr. Roux, parish priest of Yeoville, and his assistant, Rev. Fr. McNabb. Their visits, advice and criticism acted as incentives to teachers and pupils alike, and encouraged them in their determination to give satisfaction to the Vicariate Inspector, Rev. Fr. O'Callaghan. The examinations were carried out on September 17th and 18th. The Rev. Father expressed his satisfaction with the standard of the work, the thoughtful, balanced, self-expressed answers in the senior classes evoking special favourable comment.

In his report the Rev. Inspector stressed the imperative need of knowledge of God — knowledge to which all secular learning must be subject — for "what does it profit a man if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his own soul?"

Annual Procession. As in years gone, Catholic students of the College publicly proclaimed their Faith by participating in the Annual Procession of Johannesburg's Catholic Parishes. Leaving the beautifully decorated altar at End Street Convent, the procession wended its way via Siemert Road to Ellis Park where the assembled Catholic worshippers listened to eloquent exhortations in English and Afrikaans. Catholics were called upon to stir up their Faith, to enliven their belief in Jesus and in the Blessed Sacrament.

THE ANNUAL RETREAT

The Retreat, this year, was preached by Fr. Claude J. Collins, C.S.P. It was attended by all the Catholic boys of the College and by a large number of non-Catholics. Throughout the Retreat the boys showed an intense interest in the instructions.

Every day Holy Mass was celebrated in the College hall. Three instructions were given per day, and at the end of each day Benediction was given by Fr. Collins.

On the last day of the Retreat there was a general Communion for those who made the Retreat. Rosaries and medals were blessed after the final instruction and Fr. Collins bestowed the Papal Blessing on those present.

SODALITY NOTES

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin or the Prima Primaria holds a prominent place amongst the College Catholic activities. It is well known that the Sodalists form a select band whose aim is to set a good example and intensify the College Catholic atmosphere while propagating love and devotion to Our Lady.

The reception of new members took place on the Feast of the Annunciation of Our Lady, a day very appropriate to remind the Sodalists of their mission to lead others to Jesus through His Mother, Mary. Father McNabb, the College Chaplain, addressed the candidates before the reception on the necessity of forming their character, acquiring good habits while at school, and thus, by example rather than by precept, extend their apostolate amongst their schoolmates. Devoutly and sincerely the candidates pledged themselves to remain faithful sons of the Blessed Virgin and maintain the rules of the Sodality of which they were about to become members.

The election of Office-bearers for the year took place at the first meeting, the ballot being in favour of the following:—

President: K. Folster; 1st Assistant: L. McNicholas; Secretary: J. Cardosa; Treasurer: C. Leurs; Sacristan: C. Schneider.

Right through the year the meetings were well attended, and the practices of devotion carefully recited. At the proposal of the Sodalists Masses were offered for various intentions — Old Boys who had died on active service, Rev. Bro. Blidan, who had taught a good number of the Sodalists, and the soul of Lieut. Van Hezik, a former Sodalist, who had died as the result of an air crash.

The good example set by the 1942 Sodalists, especially of those about to leave school, will, it is hoped, be carried on by the other members and produce abundant fruit in the future.

CADET NOTES

THE Cadet movement, like every other movement, cannot remain static. It must advance or recede. Fortunately, the war has given a much-needed impetus to Cadet training so that Cadets were never so popular nor, perhaps, so efficient.

The College Detachment has made great headway this year. Besides three full companies of infantry, there is now a platoon of signallers and an additional platoon is being trained in the use of the Bren Gun and Trench Mortar. The total strength of our detachment stands at 498.

Our sincerest thanks are due to Captain W. Forget, a Uitenhage Old Boy, and his instructors from Command for their invaluable help during the training year under review. Thanks to the untiring efforts of our staff officer, Capt. A. Cooper, there is every likelihood of our somewhat antiquated Four-Point range being converted into a Twelve-Point range in the near future. Despite the present handicap our Cadets continue to do well in shooting. In the 1941 Imperial Challenge Shield the detachment was placed 8th in the Honours List — the first 50 detachments in South Africa and the average obtained by our 1st team was 95.75 per cent. The "Maurillus Cup," kindly presented by Mr. J. Keene, now serving up North, was won by Student Officer A. Pereira. In the local Cadet Bisley, Sgt. K. Livingstone and O. Rossi gained trophies.

Since June the band has been under the efficient tutorship of Bro. Edward. In the Inter-Cadet Band Competition they gave a very creditable display, Drum-Major S. van Niekerk being outstanding.

Wednesday, October 14th in the presence of a large crowd of parents and Old Boys. Colonel Van Dam, Officer Commanding the Witwatersrand Command, took the salute and complimented the detachment on its steadiness and its efficiency. He complimented the Officer Commanding on the activities of the detachment and expressed his great pleasure at the presence of the signallers. In emphasising the high standard attained by the band he recalled the long and proud record of our Cadets, the 53rd Detachment, which could trace its history back to the old Republican days.

At the conclusion of his address Colonel Van Dam presented the "Old Boys' Trophy" to Platoon No. 1 of "B" Company, Student Officer Ralph Pickup.

The Inter-Platoon Competition was held on Monday, October 12th in the presence of Lieut. Colonel M. T. S. Papenfus, D.F.C., Officer Commanding 71st Air School, by whose kindness the examination was carried out by the officers of his Command.

At the Cadet Efficiency Parade which was held at the Wanderers during the first week of the third term the College Detachment led the Mass Battalions in the march past. Student Officer K. Folster took charge of the College Battalion and Officers present commented very favourably on the manner in which he and the other Student Officers carried out their duties.

THE INTRODUCTION TO THE COLLEGE OF THE MORTAR AND BREN GUN

Some time ago at a meeting of officers of the Witwatersrand Cadet Detachments it was suggested by Major Hislop, that instruction in the use of the Bren Gun and Mortar should be introduced in the schools, in order to allow the older boys an opportunity of gaining some knowledge of gunnery. The Officer Commanding our detachment readily accepted this opportunity of instilling knowledge of modern weapons into the senior boys and in consequence, arrangements were made by Capt. Beckley to send some of his instructors to the College.

The Junior Matriculation pupils were selected for the course, consisting of about twenty lessons, at the end of which the boys should be capable of using the weapons in actual practice. The class was divided into two sections, one of which would follow the Mortar course and the other would be taught to handle the Bren. These sections were placed in the capable hands of Sgt. Major Louwrens, Staff Sgt. Botha, Staff Sgt. Von Veen and Sgt. Olthoff of the Instructors' Corps, and both instructors and pupils have shown an enthusiasm at the commencement of the course which augurs well for the results.

Mr. O'D. Callan, the staff member in charge of this squad, has recently enlisted and is at present stationed at Potchefstroom. We wish Mr. Callan, good luck, God's blessing and safe return!

flags arrived, the cadets were issued with the "Morse Code Table" and made very fair progress, but we still lacked the essential instruments such as helio, buzzer, lamp.

1942. The Defence authorities gave us the benefit of instruction from their Instructional Staff who brought the necessary equipment with them. Signalling, however, cannot be assimilated in one hour per week tuition.

We were allowed to send two boys to a special course at Auckland Park in July, G. Webber and G. Harvey. They both did remarkably well and secured their Crossed Flags, gaining 9th and 10th places out of a squad of 35, many of whom had been doing signalling work for years.

When our flags arrived we decided to concentrate on Morse Flag—the Donkey Work of Signallers—and after a period of instruction the Corps was divided into two squads, A and B, following a strict test in which 12 qualified for the A squad.

The Signalling Practical "Helio" given to our Corps and other units was an undoubted success, and but for that we could not have ventured to enter for the "Collins Shield." August, 1942 equipment: 2 helios and flags.

We received lamps and buzzers on the Saturday before the test for the "Collins Shield", and in spite of these drawbacks our cadets did extremely well in their examination.

To-day we have the necessary equipment on a very small scale. 1 buzzer, two helios, two lamps, and every morning we have work on the buzzer. The results are very gratifying and we look forward to next year when we can compete on equal terms with other units. I would like to thank Student Officer G. Webber and Sgt. G. Harvey for their efforts to further the cause of Signalling at the College.

The results of a signalling course held at the School of Signals, Auckland Park, have just come to hand. We congratulate Sgt. O'Donovan on coming "First" with full marks out of a class of 67, also Student Officer Webber on his good work at the course. Simleit also qualified, while Head and Anderson only failed by 3 marks in one subject out of the eight, a minimum of 96 per cent. being required in each subject.

TRANSVAAL CATHOLIC SCHOOLS' ASSOCIATION

ON Saturday, 30th May, the College was "Invaded" by members of the various Religious Teaching Orders when the Annual Conference of the Transvaal Catholic Schools' Association took place. This Conference was attended by representatives of the Christian Brothers, Marist Brothers, and Sisters of Loreto, Ursuline, Mercy, Holy Family, Dominican, Notre Dame, Assumption and Holy Rosary.

Holy Mass was celebrated by Bishop O'Leary, after which His Lordship expressed his appreciation of the work being done by the members of the Association on behalf of Catholic education. At the General Meeting which followed various problems connected with the teaching of youth were discussed, and suggestions were put forward for the usual Summer Vacation Course.

Instructive lectures were delivered on Child Psychology (Marist Brother), Dry Bones and the Spirit in Teaching (Notre Dame Sister), The Teaching of Arithmetic (Christian Brother), and Matriculation Mathematics (Marist Brother).

Rev. Fr. O'Callaghan, O.M.I., in his address on the Teaching of Catechism, stressed the importance of personal sanctification in the life of the religious teacher.

To the dynamic power and untiring zeal of the Chairman is due the success that has attended the work of the Association during the past year.

A cordial vote of thanks was accorded to the Rev. Superior and Brothers of the College for their kind hospitality, and it is to be hoped that the Conferences of ensuing years will take place in the same kindly and sympathetic atmosphere and surroundings. The Brothers placed their College, their grounds and themselves at the disposal of the visitors, and they spared no pains to make the Conference a success.

CRICKET, 1942.

CRICKET in the College is still fighting an up-hill battle. Several seasons have elapsed since we fielded a really successful eleven. To those who have watched our cricket for some time a lack of self-confidence is the evident cause of this lapse. Thus, even when we have a good chance of proving ourselves, the beginning of a game always finds us at a disadvantage. It is obvious that the first step towards success is the shaking off of this complex and to this task the whole College is applied in real earnest. There is every indication at present that the 1943-1944 season will be the turning point.

Match winning, however, is not the only angle from which to view this great game—indeed it is the least important. Our cricketers know this, and therefore the moral, social and educational values of the sport are not lost to them. In other words they play the game in the right spirit.

The absence of a match winning bowler was badly felt and although J. Webster, D. Goss and D. Pretorius bowled well in all games, we were not strong enough to prevent a good side from compiling a winning score. W. Pretorius, J. Webster and K. van Renen were our most successful batsmen, but far too much rested upon their shoulders to permit them to play freely. This was a tremendous pity, for, with a little less tail in the eleven, there is no doubt that some very fine scores would have been credited to this trio.

The following are the results of the matches played in 1942:—

Versus King Edward VII School:—

King Edward's 228 for 5 declared (Kirk 62 n.o.; Powell 59; Webster 3 for 38).

Marist 102 (Pretorius 37; Nupen 4 for 25).

King Edward won by 126.

Versus Mayfair:—

Mayfair 154 (Kaple 48. Thomson 3 for 30).

Marist 53 for 1. Match drawn.

Versus Jeppe High School:—

Marist 99 (Pretorius 48. Bloom 6 for 37). Match abandoned on account of rain.

Versus Parktown High School:—

BOXING NOTES.

By Jack O'Malley

BOXING is an athletic exercise, a recreation bringing both pleasure and profit to its devotees, for it develops such traits of character as confidence, coolness, determination and perseverance. What other sport can boast of developing such fine qualities in growing manhood? In these days when a knowledge of self-defence is needed more than ever every man should be an adept in the use of his fists. Although the boxing game demands many hours of physical training and a certain degree of self-restraint the idea is not to develop abnormal muscles or brutal strength but to gain speed and stamina. The motto of every boxer should be "To hit and not be hit." In this terse phrase is crystallised the sum of the principles of skilful boxing and the accomplishment of this double feat is the whole science of boxing in a nutshell. To attain this dual efficiency straight, hard hitting must be developed for attack, and clever guarding, quick footwork and skilful body-swaying for defence. When mastered, this style is delightful to watch and is the surest path to a victorious boxing career.

College boxers were kept active during the year. The Zone Tournament was held in the College Hall in March. Williams, Kotze, Morris, Gouveia and Belus qualified for the finals and Williams won a title.

Southern Suburbs was entertained at the College. Although it was a successful function from every point of view it was not exciting enough because, at the last moment, the visitors found themselves unable to match most of our senior boys. Shortly afterwards we were the guests of Colonel M. T. S. Papenfus, D.F.C., at Milner Park when a team of College boxers competed against the Air School. The event proved most popular and all our boys were successful.

Later in the year we were invited to compete against the St. Patrick's Scouts at La Rochelle. An interesting programme was submitted and our boys won most of their bouts, Trotter, Williams, Morris and Gouveia being outstanding.

We entered a team for the Heilbron Cup for which a record number of 204 entries was accepted. Our boys fought very well to come third. Gouveia won the 100 lbs. championship, whilst Morris and Jones were runners-up in their respective divisions.

We have to thank the officials from the various boxing associations who came to the Tournaments at the College, also Mr. Joe Marshall for donating a medal as usual, and Messrs. Jack Morris and Jack Eustace for seconding our boys at the Tournaments.

OBITUARY.

Shortly after the opening of the second term, Mr. Richard Lees Ingles passed peacefully away after a long and severe illness patiently borne. By his death the College staff has sustained the loss of an industrious and popular member who served it faithfully and well over a period of almost twenty-two years.

Mr. Ingles joined the staff as music master on October 14th, 1920. Very many Old Boys will remember him for that extraordinary fidelity to duty he always displayed. Every morning at 6.30 sharp, winter or summer, Mr. Ingles was present for his first lesson. The late-comer learned to expect a sharp reprimand, tempered with a touch of kindly Scotch humour, that invariably followed a breach of duty. He had made a success of his own life by hard work and application to duty and he saw no golden road to success for the present generation. Even up to a few months before his death he observed the same rigorous routine. Bravely he bore his sufferings, his one regret being the forced inactivity of the last few months.

To his sorrowing wife and three sons, Old Boys of the College, we offer our sincere sympathies. May he rest in peace.

The news of the death of Lionel Coetzee after a brief illness came as a great shock. Lionel started at Koch Street some five years ago and later spent two years at St. Henry's, Durban. On his return he was enrolled at Observatory and his gentle disposition endeared him to his chums in Standard Six. A large number of pupils attended the funeral at Brixton Cemetery where six of his classmates acted as pall bearers. Our deepest sympathy is extended to his sorrowing parents, brothers and sisters.

We extend heart-felt sympathy to the relatives and friends of Benefactors, Parents and Old Boys who have died during the year.

COLLEGE ADOPTIONS

OUR College is a refuge for all stray dogs. Big dogs, small dogs, dogs of all colours, mongrel dogs and thorough-bred dogs, invade the precincts of the College. It may be that they are attracted by the dining-room or the large kitchens or encouraged by the College's benevolent air of hospitality, but whatever it is they come and in doing so bring both pleasure and annoyance to the classrooms.

When one of these strays strolls casually into a classroom, usually undetected by the teacher—who probably has his hands full with his eternal struggle to instil some degree of learning into his charges — a hitherto apathetic class is immediately aware of the new arrival and takes a lively interest in its welfare. Food is proffered on all sides and every form of blandishment tried to attract his attention. He probably selects a particular pal beneath whose desk he shelters, either because there he received the juiciest morsel or the most affectionate caress, or merely because the occupant has a way with dogs. Discovery sooner or later by the teacher is inevitable and is followed either by summary eviction or permission to remain, depending on the mood and charity of the teacher, and work is resumed—with gratitude for the welcome interruption.

Then we have the resident animals, official and otherwise. The official residents, the cats, are the "key-men" of the College, doing their bit on the home front, keeping at bay the incursions of their hereditary prey, the rodents.

We must not forget the flocks of pigeons and hosts of small birds who have built their nest within the shelter of the College buildings, who regard the peaceful "quad" as their privileged territory and who in the course of the years have adopted the College as their sanctuary. We would not be without our dumb friends or our feathered friends. They are part and parcel of the College atmosphere.

THE QUAD.

Dust! Such dust, red dust,
Brown dust, gritty dust,
Dust in clouds, in gales,
Dust in your hair, your throat, your nails.
Dust!

In seething, sneaking, sinuous ways
It permeates all our days
Till fair white shirt or page of book
Soon bore its rusty ill-fared look;
Till coughs and colds the scholars shook
And serious steps the Brothers took.

For if it rained, oh mark it well
Swift red rivers would start and swell—
And if the choice were mine to make
I rather dust than mud would take!

Then on one sunny, happy morn
New sounds to the patient ear were borne.
Dust?
Its death-knell rang in every clang
Of shovelled pitch, as fast the gang
Worked oe'r its burial ground!

Now not a sound destroys
The still grey quiet, no longer boys
Chew tar or follow after—
With ringing shout and merry laughter—
Each move of men or their machines.
No more mischievous boyhood leans
To 'tarry' jokes and ill-starred fun
And, blissful thought, the day is done
For dust!

For if the wind should rise and play
What dust there is is only grey!
There are, of course, some outside rooms
Where threat of the red still largely looms
But Fate, slow Fate, sure Fate
Bids those teachers only wai—t
Help must come, soon or late.
When ashphalte, too, will spread around
And bury the monster underground.

ANNUAL SWIMMING GALA.

THE Annual Swimming Gala was held in the College baths on Saturday, 28th February. Contrary to practice in the past, the event was staged in the morning, and whether or not the novelty of this procedure and the freshness of the morning accounted for greater efforts, the fact is that the Gala was remarkably successful. No fewer than fourteen records were set up — sufficient evidence of the keenness and quality of our swimming.

A complete series of events for under 11 competitors was for the first time incorporated in the programme, thus affording smaller boys the opportunity of proving their worth and adding to the tally of their House total. Among these juniors quite a wealth of talent was revealed and good times were recorded, so that there is every reason to expect that the high standard of swimming in the College will be maintained and even improved upon.

As in the Athletic Sports, team events proved to be by far the most popular. Tremendous enthusiasm reigned and the spirit of competition for House supremacy was evident throughout the morning.

The new record holders are:

AFRICA'S BEST

RUGBY, 1942 SEASON

1ST FIFTEEN

THE season opened with a run of victories, four matches being won in succession. During the fifth match two serious injuries were sustained and the remainder of the season was marred by repeated injuries. In consequence frequent experiments had to be made in the matter of filling "key" positions and this had an adverse effect upon the standard of play. Apart from that the team gave some very fine exhibitions of Rugby at its best and the consistently good scrumming was a feature of the second half of the season. There is a dearth of really outstanding three-quarters at the moment but with the very fine material among the juniors this defect should soon be remedied.

The following represented the College during the season:—

K. van Reenen (Capt.), H. Donaldson (Vice-Capt), C. Costa, W. Warmback, J. Warby, R. Pickup, J. Grohovaz, D. Goss, W. Pretorius, K. Folster, R. Alperstein, A. Pereira, R. Chandler, P. Melville, J. Webster, G. du Plessis, S. van Niekerk, G. Saber, R. Wood, E. Dugas.

Points for: 130; Against: 63.

2ND FIFTEEN

The College's Second Fifteen had a most successful season, and their success was due mainly to the keenness of the players, deadly tackling being a feature of every match.

The following were called upon at various times to represent the First XV: Du Plessis, Selkirk, Saber, Gemmell, Pretorius, Wood, and Dugas.

The chief scorers were Selkirk, Dugas, Matthee, Gemmell and Bufé. The fact that the last three mentioned were three-quarters is ample proof that the rugby played was always open and on most occasions delightful to watch.

The forwards played a hard game, never slackening till the final whistle, and although the three-quarters did most of the scoring, honours must go to the forwards who by their excellent team work paved the way to victory.

Players: Full back: Morgado; Three-quarters: Saber, Rudolph, Matthee, Pretorius and Gemmell (Capt.), Bufé; Forwards: McDonald, Wood, Selkirk, Smith, Alperstein, McNicholas, Dugas and Van Rensburg (Vice-Capt.).

Results of all matches were as follows:
v. Jeppe High, Won 8—0; v. Jeppe High, Lost 0—5;
v. C.B.C., Boksburg, Won 8—0; v. C.B.C., Boksburg, Won 32—6;

v. S.A.A.F., Drew 8—8; v. Helpmekaar, Lost 27—7;
v. Helpmekaar, Won 10—6; v. K.E.S., Lost 0—9;
v. Forest High 1st XV, Lost 5—16; v. Krugersdorp High, Won 20—3.

INTER-HOUSE RUGBY

A series of 18 matches in all was staged in the under 13 division during the season. Membership of a House team belonged exclusively to the rank of inexperienced players who had not gained a place in the usual College under 13 teams.

Boys who will one day don the Marist jersey were thus initiated into the rudiments of the handling code in such a way as to promote enthusiasm, loyalty, team spirit and friendly rivalry. That these qualities were imbibed by the players was abundantly evident from the keen weekly turn-out. Rare indeed were the occasions on which a team had to take the field without its full quota of men and many the Friday afternoons when six or eight House reserves were obliged to content themselves as mere spectators. In this respect especial mention must be made of the O'Leary House team who showed an unparelled keenness, their turn-out being perfect on all occasions. It was this rather than their good rugby which secured for O'Leary the coveted position of Log Leaders and gave them, when the season was yet young, a well-merited superiority over the other Houses.

The games were contested with sufficient evenness to make them really hard ones and therefore the more enjoyable. The Houses are indebted to the services of four good young captains who were remarkably successful in keeping their men up to scratch and getting the best from everyone.

During the season an Inter-House Fifteen was selected to do battle with the College under 13 B, which good side defeated them 6—0. There are coming players in this Inter-House team, which was as follows: S. Kramer (O), R. Eskapa (O), L. Brown (V), V. Henry (O), M. Mayer (G), P. Isaac (B), A. Nunes (B), R. Dyall (O), E. Duchon (O), W. Herb (B), E. Yeoman (O), C. Dyer (O), J. Quirke (V), H. Econimides (G), K. Ross (G); Reserves: F. Paiva (O), J. Quantrill (O), N. Hepburn (B).

BOARDERS v. DAY BOYS

This annual fixture was played at the end of the season and consequently both boarders and day boys were in good trim after the strenuous training and excellent coaching given by Bro. Conall.

The Boarders felt assured of victory as there were nine regular first team players on their side as opposed to only three first team players in the Day-Boys team. The Day Boys, however, were stimulated by the stiff opposition, and in the event, we saw one of the fastest games of the season.

The Boarders won the toss and after the kick-off it became evident that the Boarders had supremacy in the scrums, but the Day-Boys were not rattled. They adopted fast, open tactics with hard tackling. The game moved from end to end of the field and after 15 minutes play Chandler seized the ball, swept through the Day-Boys' defence and scored a good try.

Shortly after Costa converted a penalty, giving the Boarders a six-point lead. After half-time the Day-Boys, determined to level matters, pressed hard, and after a skirmish outside the twenty-five yard line of the Boarders, a penalty was awarded the Day-Boys and converted by Van Renen. Hard knocks were given and taken in a most sporting spirit.

Grohovaz was dangerous throughout and made valiant attempts to score for the Day-Boys but was well marked. This concentrated attention to one player gave Selkirk an opening and he scored a try, after which the score was equal.

Costa was outstanding for the Boarders and had it not been for his efforts the Boarders could not have earned a draw. The success of the Day-Boys proves that in rugby combination and understanding are essential to the making of a good side.

ATHLETIC SPORTS, 1942.

The 49th Annual Athletic Sports meeting was held on Saturday, 28th March, and was favoured with brilliant sunshine and a hard and fast track. A large crowd of parents, friends and Old Boys lent befitting importance to the occasion. Khaki was much in evidence and it speaks volumes for the loyalty of our Old Boys that amidst the preoccupations of sterner realities, they still find time to assist at the functions of the College.

The setting aside of the second half of the Sports entirely to House Team events was an innovation which proved a success. These relays, ranging from under 11 division to the Senior men of the College, were tremendously popular and produced the keenest competition of the day.

The Inter-College Callixte Shield, competed for annually, was this year surrendered by Observatory to Koch Street, who last won the trophy in 1934.

The following records were set up:—

100 yds. Under 13, M. Kalmek in 12.1 secs.

440 yds. Under 15, E. Sieberg in 56.6 secs.

COLLEGE CONCERT

On the 8th May the College produced a concert. Spurred by the desire to obtain a radiogram for the boarders' dining room, prefect Cardosa cajoled, threatened, hunted down talent and made it party to his project, and generally infused his own enthusiasm into the whole school. To him as organiser and producer the greatest measure of congratulation and thanks is due.

The junior boarders opened up with the "Mountains of Mourne," Schneider followed with a song and his golden voice portends well for his future as a singer. The College Rythm Boys (Hetem, Lewis and Du Plessis) not only took the stage after a tap dance by Cominos, but could have held it all evening.

Standard two were great in a mimed background to the Walrus and the Carpenter which they recited with plenty of action. Miss Mary Tomkins, a lovely dancer, followed with a Gypsy dance and gave place to the solemnity of Mark Antony, which threw the spotlight on Cooper, a lad with undoubted talent and a glorious speaking voice, but oh! the motley throng! I doubt we could find to-day the world over the equal of those loutish Roman commoners whose every sound and movement threw the audience into convulsions.

The junior boarders' choir singing "Bless this House" opened the second half of the programme. Miss Mary Warmback, Miss Shirley Plaskett and Mary Tomkins played a large share in it and the College Rythm Boys were only allowed to retire after many encores. By the time the celebrated Burlesque Players took the stage, the audience was ready for the treat of the evening — the Burlesque Ballet.

Pretorius was splendid as was his supporting cast, but never before had such a Prima Ballerina been seen! (I hope never again). The audience rocked with mirth as he lightly balanced 250 lbs. of solid schoolboy upon the firm base of a size 10 foot and smiled his painted smile beneath a frilled bonnet. Schneider was the Hero, McNicholas, the Villain, Smith, his wife, and Pickup, Papenfus, Alperstei, Selkirk, Silva and Hart formed the graceful troupe which fitted around the main trago-comedy.

Schneider was the Hero again in the Midnight Mail, Pickup, the Heroine, McNicholas, the Villain, and Selkirk, the Midnight Mail.

Selkirk was supreme, stepping gingerly across the stage, drawing at the end of a string—a Hornby train, rushing through the night to end the villain's career.

It was a grand show and I hope more of its kind will follow. The sum collected was £22 and the sincere thanks of the boys are extended to all who supported it and to Mrs. Thomsett who so kindly donated £10 towards their radiogram.

I am given to understand that the radiogram (costing £50 in all) now stands in the dining room and plays a noble part in drowning the clatter of knives and forks!

THE DEBATING SOCIETY

Officers: President: Bro. Justin; Chairman: D. A. Pretorius; Secretary: L. McNicholas.

The Debating Society started off this year with great gusto. At the first general meeting Bro. Justin was nominated President, D. Pretorius was elected Chairman; L. McNicholas, Secretary; and the Committee consisted of C. Schneider, R. Klavansky and I. Shirley.

The first debate, "South Africa should have conscription," was contested between S.M. "A" and S.M. "B", the decision going to the former, but only by a small margin. Further preliminary debates of a political nature took place thereafter but they were not definite within themselves and bespoke of preparations for some special occasion.

This occasion was the outstanding debate against Yeoville Convent. This debate was the reward of negotiations conducted by D. Pretorius and C. Schneider who were also responsible for the enjoyable social evening which followed. Our appreciation of Miss Jean Lithgow's acceptance of our challenge for the debate "Man was better off before the machine age," was only bettered by the enthusiasm of the Convent girls. The Misses Esme Ellwell, Joy Brown and Loyola Andries gained for their side the rare distinction of beating a College team. Their victory was always in the balance and had it not been for their superior elocution, our argument would undoubtedly have won for us the decision.

Further debates took place and "Natives should be armed in a National Crisis," "A second front should be formed immediately" were successfully carried by narrow margins. In these debates R. Klavansky distinguished himself and would have undoubtedly formed the Debating Team with D. Pretorius and L. McNicholas had our foreign policy been extended. It is to be hoped that the good work of the Debating Society will be continued next year.

A MOONLIGHT EPISODE.

By J. G. C. (An Old Boy serving in a Durban Regiment).

Just why people should ask me to write of experiences in the war when so much trash is turned out daily, I can't imagine. Were I a conscientious diarist it is possible that I might have dished up something worthwhile—certainly I would try to better the run of professional scribblers who do not hesitate to give a subtle impression of their own daring and devotion to duty.

What do you want? Action! Hectic battle scenes! Artillery barrages and bayonet charges! Or would you prefer something of the routine, the daily task, the eternal grind? For war is, as someone said: "A succession of boring events punctuated by moments of intense fear." Certainly the boring events occupy ninety-five per cent. of one's time. But that wouldn't go down with the reader—after all he has enough boredom of his own. Let me, then, try to recall some of the less uninteresting moments.

One of these occurred at Bardia last January. Our unit formed part of a force that had taken part in what a war-correspondent afterwards referred to as a "demonstration" against the Northern defences on Dinguana's Day, 1941. We struck more than we had bargained for. All day we lay pinned under heavy machine-gun fire on ground as flat as a billiard-table — and harder! There were casualties that day.

On New Year's Eve we pulled out of the Northern sector to be brought round to the South for the assault on the following night. It was a memorable scene. We debussed in bright moonlight and in bitterly cold weather to the roar of a murderous artillery barrage. The enemy were far from idle as the unending stream of tracers in our direction bore witness. Above the din came the Major's voice: "There's your direction (pointing), fix bayonets as you go."

The effect was miraculous. Men who hadn't slept a wink for three days and nights went like madmen over the ground in extended order. Over to the right flank behind enemy lines a fuel dump went up, probably a direct hit from a shell. We were going too fast and the Major called a halt. As we took cover we heard the word "prisoners" and a column of Jerries marched by under escort. Within a few minutes we had pushed on. One of our fellows was hit as he stood up — only by the grace of God were a hundred missed. Though moving we were a splendid target.

Onward swept the line, irresistible, mad, wild. Someone took up the cry "Geem-ali-o," another yelled the regiment's name while a sixteen-year-old (army age 22), quivering with excitement, his eyes shining, was piping "Yipee."

The tide paused for a moment as it entered a wadi—as if expecting a trap. Then we saw them. Jerries by the score. But the fight was out of them. Day and night they had been shelled, bombed and harassed. Now the climax, an intense barrage (in one day something like 30,000 shells were put over) and the close proximity of bayonets in the moonlight, proved too much. With such docility did they surrender that I asked "Italiano?" and received the reply in fair English and not without a touch of pride in the voice: "We are German soldiers."

Bardia surrendered early next morning. By this time our company was on the edge of the escarpment overlooking the town. Forward of the company were a few men blocking the road, supported by mortar and anti-tank guns. The moon had long since set and the first crack of dawn was appearing. At about seven a car was seen speeding along the winding road. The car was stopped, an Italian Lieutenant and a German Captain stepped out, saluted and informed our officer that they bore "a commission from our general to seek from General de Villiers terms for the surrender of Bardia and outlying defences."

That evening we listened to the news. Bardia, we heard, had fallen. Then the announcer told us how it had fallen. We decided that we must have been elsewhere. Anyway, the Christmas mail and parcels had arrived, so who was likely to worry?

THE MATRIC DINNER.

A spectre from the Revolution finding himself within the portals of the Mansion of the Matric a week before the September break-up would have noted the striking similarity to the days of the National Convention and the Paris mob. The air was a medley of howls, shrieks, threats and protests and there was present that jolly old revolutionary spirit. The uprising was to be attributed to the procrastination of the two Bursary winners in fixing the date of the Annual Matric Dinner.

The junior fags had seen this crisis arise every year and barricaded themselves behind protective desks, determined to resist the oppression of the senior cads to the last man. The period of crisis passed with the announcement of the date. The battleground was the Langham Hotel and the attack on the edibles was to commence at 7.30 p.m., Monday, October 5th.

Long before the onslaught was due to commence the forces began to marshal outside the Langham and the doors were so well blockaded that inmates found difficulty in passing through the human barricade.

In the advance on the objective the boarders galloped bravely in the van, determined to reach their goal or die in the attempt. The continuity and rapidity of the boarders' attack was only interrupted by several toasts but they saw to it that no lengthy speeches were delivered.

"Gentlemen, the King!" was the first counter attack against the ferocity of the boarders' appetite and this was followed by toasts to General Smuts, Quentin Smythe, V.C., and the Bursary winners.

The whole raid was carried out by 9.0 p.m. and we suffered no casualties except for some of the smaller classmates who had failed sadly to imitate the play-boy air of the veteran Matric men.

The undertaking was concluded by a visit to the Colosseum to see "They Died With Their Boots On," a fitting end to a glorious campaign.

A NEW MARIST COLLEGE, JOHANNESBURG

For years the Brothers have been anxious to obtain a College site out of town for the junior boarders of Koch Street and Observatory. Such a place is Inanda. The new College is situated on 21 acres in the northern suburb of Inanda, just one mile from the Dunkeld bus terminus, Oxford Road, about five miles from the centre of the city, and in one of the healthiest and most picturesque parts of Johannesburg.

The first section was built in 1940, and opened for Kindergarten work in January 1941. It is a handsome structure — a model of what a Preparatory Section should be. It is complete with every modern arrangement, and no expense has been spared in the matter of equipment. It embraces Kindergarten, Grades and Standards I and II. It is under skilled superintendence with experienced and highly competent assistants. Pupils are accepted at the age of 4 years. In 1941 was built the Primary Department — a two storey building consisting of eight classrooms and four locker rooms. The floors are all tiled. Windows occupy the maximum amount of space that could be allotted to them. Ventilation and light could not be improved on. Every room has its own electric clock, wireless, and telephone connection with the Principal's office. The boarding department including boiler room, kitchen, dining hall, and dormitories will be completed by December. The College swimming bath, 75 feet by 40 feet, will be ready by the end of the year. The boarding section will be opened in January, 1943 at the re-opening of schools. The school will then be ready for Standards III to VI inclusive. Yearly, other classes will be added till Matriculation is reached.

When the number of pupils warrant it, the College will be completed with more class rooms, a science department and a college theatre to be known as the Frederick Hall.

MARIST BROTHERS OLD BOYS' ASSOCIATION

The following is the Committee of the Marist Brothers Old Boys' Association for 1942:—

Messrs. C. Penrose (Chairman), J. Richardson (Vice-Chairman), J. M. Dall, J. A. Droste, J. Young, M. Alexander, E. C. Aschmann, J. Geddes, (Trustee), D. L. Grace (Trustee), C. H. Holder (Trustee) S. J. Pitts (Trustee), M. Rothkugel (Trustee), and F. O'Connor (Honorary Secretary and Treasurer).

The only function held during the year by the Association was the Forty-first Annual Dinner held at Observatory College on 10th October. A very informal affair, some forty members were present, including: Rev. Bro. Osmond, the Bro. Provincial, Rev. Bros. Justin and Thomas, and a very good sprinkling of the veteran members of our Association.

INANDA PROSPECTUS

This is to notify that the Observatory Boarding Department for boys below Std. V will cease to operate at the end of the current year. These may transfer to our New College at Fricker Road, Inanda, Northern Suburbs. The Prospectus below gives all the information requisite. Boarders now attending Observatory are exempt from the Entrance Fee. Boarders transferring will need to make application to the Principal, Marist College, Inanda. This done, a place will be reserved for the applicant.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT.

This section will be opened at the end of January, 1943. Ample accommodation for boarders has been provided and designed to ensure the comfort and health of the pupils.

All students on entering the College are required to bring a certificate of health. Boys suffering from night weaknesses are not accepted.

Application for admission of a pupil to the College must be accompanied by his last school report, not necessarily for classification, but as an indication of the class of work already done. Each new pupil will be examined and classified by the Principal. Term reports will be sent regularly to parents or guardians.

When an application is made for a boarder a form is sent to be filled in by the applicants. If these decide on the pupil's entrance they must return the application fully signed and £2 entrance fee. When this is received the prospective pupil has a place reserved for him.

TERMS.

There are three financial terms in the year—February, May, September—each lasting 14 weeks. This does not interfere with the usual holidays. All fees are payable by the term and strictly in advance. No reductions are granted except for brothers the first of whom gets 10 per cent., a second brother 15 per cent., both on the pound up to their standard.

The College occupies a healthy position at Inanda, in the northern suburbs of Johannesburg. It is situated on Fricker Road, Rivonia bus route, and is just one mile from the Dunkeld bus terminus on Oxford Road. Pupils are admitted at any time during the year. Fees are charged only from the date of enrolment.

VERY REV. BR. DIOGENE.
SUPERIOR GENERAL OF MARIST BROTHERS
R.I.P.

Panegyric preached at Belmont coram Episcopo Monday, March 16th., 1942.

Corsum consummavi — fidem servavi — in reliquo reposita est mihi corona justitiae.

I have finished my course — I have kept the Faith — there is laid up for me a crown of justice.

—Words spoken by St. Paul.

OUR Superior General is dead — Br. Diogene is dead — over the wires the sad news has flashed to every country where the Marist Brothers give their devotion and their lives to the education of youth.

They are in mourning, for their Father has passed away, their Father who toiled for over twenty years on their behalf and who found his way deep into their hearts.

They are left without his guiding spirit without his loving kindness and they mourn—and we their friends mourn with them—and with them we pray with our whole hearts for the repose of the soul of Br. Diogene.

Is he in Heaven already? We do not know—God's secrets are not revealed to us. We hope and we pray that after all his years of unremitting labour he had not long to wait in the ante-chamber to Heaven—but we know Purity and the Majesty of God and we pray unceasingly that he may enter into eternal rest at once.

It is hard to lose one we love and revere, but it is at such times that the Faith means most to us. It opens Heaven to us — it tears away the veil that Death would spread before our eyes and it keeps us in Communion with those we have lost, just for a time.

A mighty man was Br. Diogene, born in that baffling country which has been and still is the Mother of Saints — but the Mother also (alas) of so much that is bad, of so much that hates God and hates His Church — He was born in France with no little, one gathers, of that solid practical Faith which we attribute to Flemish blood.

What was it that brought him to the Marist Brothers, there to spend his life? Was it the example of those who had educated him? Was it his overwhelming love for Mary which made him wish to bear her name? Was it an utterly unselfish spirit that could not be satisfied save by a lifelong devotion to the interests of others?

I do not know — but this I do know — that he did not spend his religious life in the quiet and seclusion of the cloister — as perhaps he had hoped. They were stirring days when he was a young man, days when France thought that she had had enough of religious teaching and religious teachers and ordered her own sons out of their country if they seemed to love God too much and serve Him too closely.

Brothers expelled — schools closed — how many heart-breaking and crucifying problems does this not involve for those in authority — and Br. Diogene was soon picked out to rule — on his shoulders fell burdens which would have broken the weak.

Already Assistant to the General before the Great War of 1914, when he was still in his thirties, he had work to do against enormous odds, but work that suited his heart, for on it depended the well-being of the youth of those days, of the men of the future.

Then came the Great War, and it found him, as war finds all those who are worth their salt, standing at his post in the North of France — not far from the city of Lille — there he had his own Brothers to guard and protect in those cruel crucial years, and with them even the civil population.

For then came what is to me the convincing proof of the value and the worth of Br. Diogene. Consider the circumstances.

He was in France, the France that a few years before had expelled all teaching Brothers with scorn and ignominy as not fit to remain in the land, the France that was being menaced by an invading army. The region where he lived needed a protector, somebody to speak for them and to represent them — and whom did they choose for their mayor, there in the north of France — for the man who was to look after them — the man who was to parley with the enemy — the man who was to secure for them enough food and all the necessaries of life — whom did they choose? A mere schoolmaster — a despised Brother — a religious — a man clad in the habit of Mary. Their choice fell on Br. Diogene. And surely such a choice marks out what an outstanding personality he was.

No wonder that the Marist Chapter unanimously elected him General, as soon as the clouds of war had rolled away and peace once more reigned over the world — the civil population had found out what sort of a man he was and had given him the highest honour that they could. His own brethren ratified this popular verdict and in 1920 made him Superior General.

Superior General of a vast Religious Teaching Order — an Order whose sons spoke many diverse tongues and owed allegiance to very different rulers. No easy task when Europe was still lying wounded almost to death after four years that had torn it to pieces. No easy task — a task calling for the gifts of a statesman and the virtues of a Saint to organise, rule and develop an Order so far flung.

Br. Diogene undertook this work when his brethren called upon him — and he carried it through. His name will not go down to history, like the names of Clemenceau, of Lloyd-George, of the statesman of the day — but Br. Diogene in his own sphere had to do a work that called for great qualities — for his work was not of ephemeral interest, but work that endures on immortal souls and has an echo, a mighty echo in eternity.

Thank God we are not judged; thank God our life's work is not judged by the noise and the fuss that it makes in this world.

No easy task had Br. Diogene on his shoulders. Nay I shall go further and call it slavery — chained to his desk day in and day out, chained to it probably deep into the night — chained to the interests of his Brothers — ever at the beck and call of others — slavery which endured for twelve years from 1920 till the next election in 1932 — and I can imagine his smile of pure content as he entered into that assembly to have his chains knocked off and to become once more a simple private in the Order of Mary.

But that was not to be — I can see his growing horror, as it became more and more clear that his masters were going to have no mercy — that they were determined to load him once more with the chains of office. We are told in the Southern Cross of his indignant protests, when he saw this honour, this intolerable burden, thrust on him once more. Can you imagine a slave whose hour of freedom has dawned at last, after twelve years of waiting, calmly accepting his chains again without a murmur of protest? Can you not rather imagine him fighting with all his might against a new term of slavery?

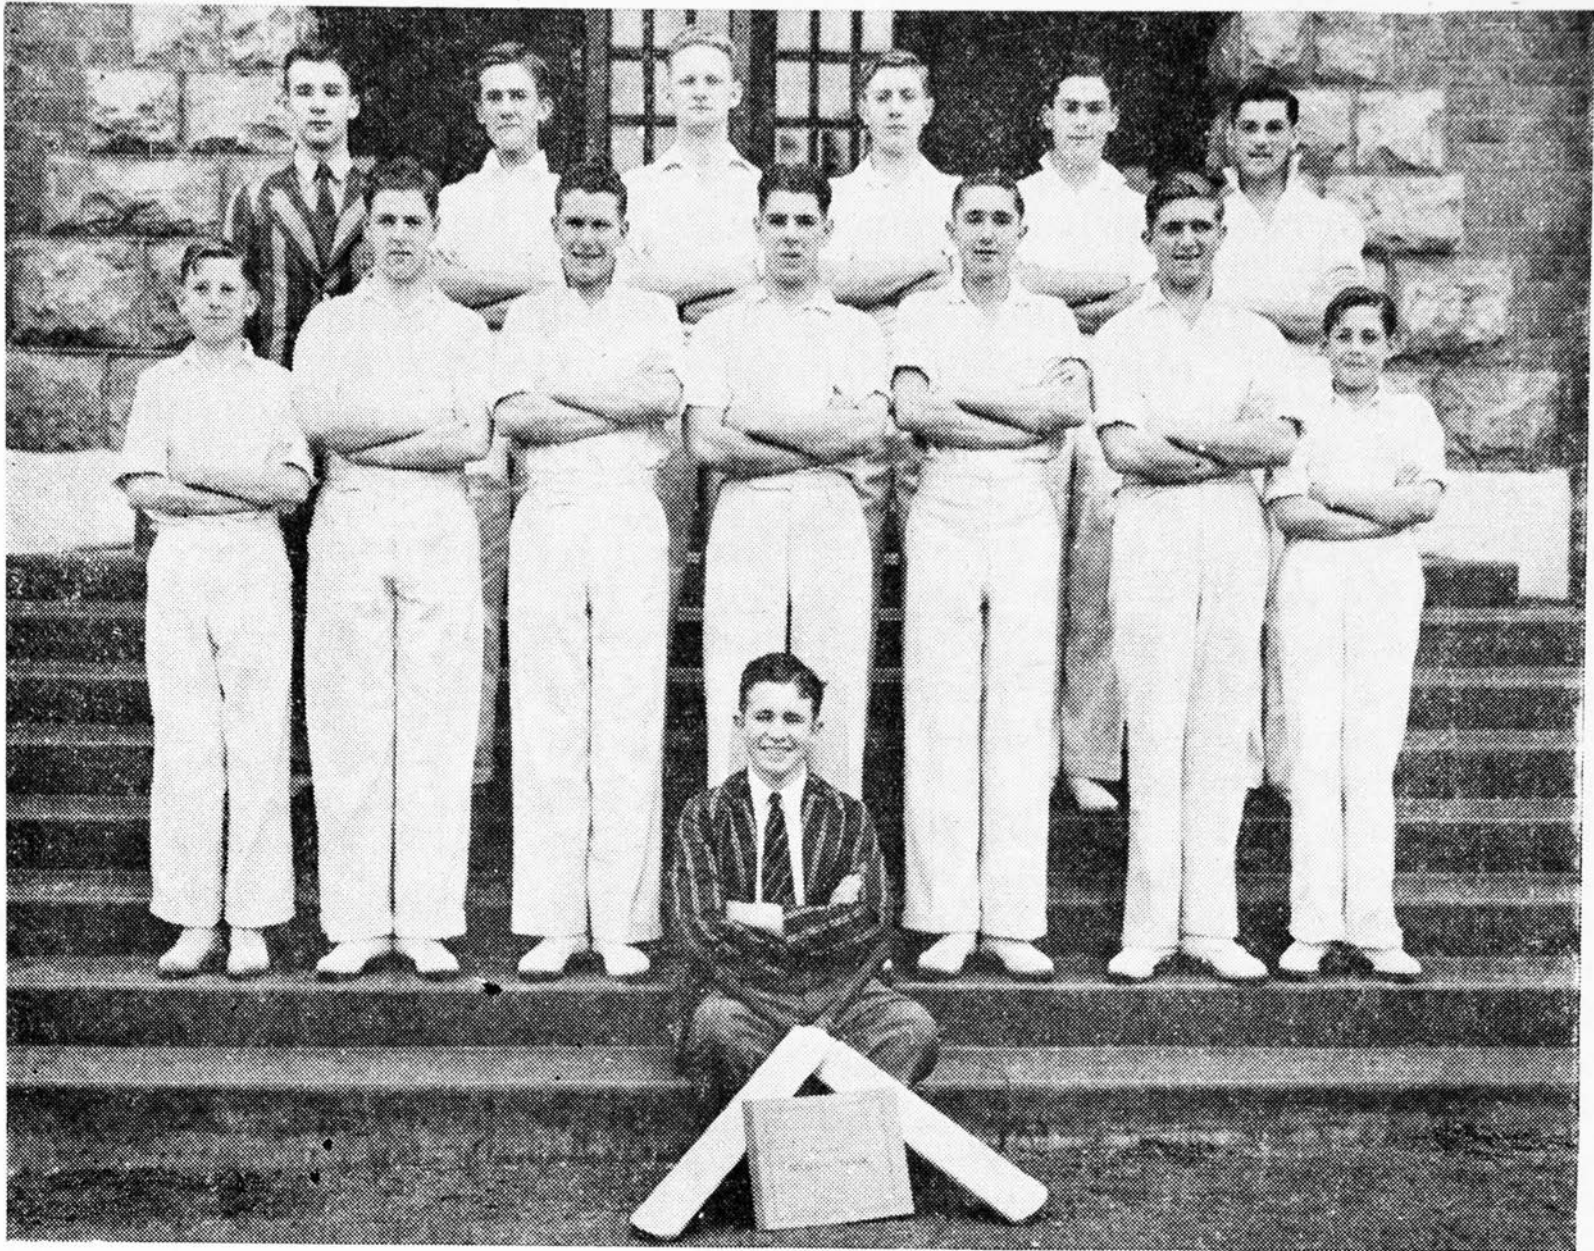

But Br. Diogene must be General once more — God had spoken through the unanimous vote of the Brothers in Chapter — and with new courage Br. Diogene stooped to pick up his shackles and fasten them once more on to his shoulders — until death.

A great honour it was for him — an unquestionable proof of the esteem in which he was held — but a burden, a cross, a real crown of thorns for 22 years.

But Br. Diogene was a Marist — and he was not called a Marist in vain for throughout his whole life, supporting him, encouraging him, strengthening him in every trial was his tender and devoted love of Mary his Mother.

What is a Marist without love of Mary, without that Faith that can move mountains, without a confidence in God that nothing can shake?

And in this spirit he undertook his second Generalate which was to last until his death — General for over 20 years! What a crucifixion!

Lesser men are shaken by trials—and trials and problems and troubles must be the daily fate of one in such a position as Br. Diogene. But the man who is worthy to be Superior General of a great Religious Order rises above such things. His soul is serene. Round about storms may rage, anxiety may hem him in on every side, the very world may fall in ruins — He stands quiet and imperturbable — ever kind — ever affable — ever loving to the poor and to the lowly — ever faithful and devoted to the great vocation that is his.

Is it St. Augustine who compared the Catholic schoolmaster to the sculptor, both intent on chiselling, the one in marble, the other in human flesh, chiselling in those under his care the image of His Lord and Master Jesus Christ.

That is the Marist vocation — to form youths into perfect Christians — to place deep in their hearts a love of Jesus Christ that will surpass all other loves and bring them safely through the world — a glorious work worthy of the ambition of any man. But what of him in whose hands is the formation of the Marist Brothers themselves — who has to train and govern them for the splendid work in hand.

A mighty man must he be who is thus set in authority over them, who is to mould the very moulders of youth.

Marist Brothers who listen to me to-day, sons of Brother Diogene, what am I to say to you?

You have lost your Father. Your hearts are in gloom. Grieve: that is only as it should be — but there in front of you, if I have read Br. Diogene aright, is the model after whom you can mould yourselves — who teaches you to have confidence in time of trouble — to have an Ideal from which never to depart, to love Mary with your whole hearts and the whole devotion of your lives.

It is a grand vocation to be a member of a Religious Brotherhood. You have consecrated your gifts, your lives to God.

You might have made a name in the world — you might have been renowned as doctors, as lawyers, as members of the Press — perhaps even it would have fallen to your lot to direct the ship of State — You left all these things aside — you preferred to be last in the House of God and to give all that was in you to fashioning His children into His likeness and God bless you for it.

Do you wish to give pleasure to the Father you have lost? If so, strive ever more after the Ideal which he set before you — Aye be Saints — God looks for Saints these days much more than He does for Statesmen, as Our Holy Father told us only recently — You can be Saints, swaying, though you know it not, the fates of nations. If you be Saints — and God grant it — you will be living to the full the vocation with which God has honoured you — mighty will be the fruit of all your labours. There is Brother Diogene to point and lead the way for you.

KOCH STREET SCHOOL NOTES.

At the break-up last December, the Principal announced that Mrs. Geddes had decided to take a rest from teaching. He thanked her for her good work at Koch Street and expressed the hope that she would enjoy a well-earned rest.

School reopened on 28th January with Bro. Thomas still in charge, and during the year the roll reached the record figure of 670.

That hardy annual, the St. Patrick's Concert, proceeds of which were in aid of the poor of all denominations, took place on 13th March, and as usual Koch Street took part.

On 23rd June a Requiem Mass was sung for the late Very Rev. Brother Diogene, who had been Superior-General of the Marist Brothers for many years. The Koch Street Choir sang the appropriate parts very well.

On 26th June, the junior concert produced by Mrs. Hardman, was held in the School Hall and realized £58 for the Merchants Navy Fund. The stage was decorated in naval style for which Mr. Sparks kindly lent a ship's bell, captain's wheel and flags. Outstanding among the costumes were those of Jack Lampert as "Bo Peep," Clive Bruyn as "Boy Blue," Roy Jackson as the "Mayor," Allan Tainton as the "Windmill" and Theodore Eckstein as the "Mouse." John Brown, from the Grades, sang cowboy songs, Master D. Avery performed a tap-dance and played the accordion. As well as the producer; Mrs. Hardman, the following deserve mention. Fr. Celestine was the accompanist for the evening, Mrs. Collen brought in £9 from the sale of sweets, Bro. Jordan looked after stage-effects, and Bro. Philip acted as Compere. Well done!

When school assembled on 10th August, Bro. Thomas had to inform the boys that Bro. Blidan had died on the previous day and all were deeply grieved. The Requiem Mass and Funeral were very impressive, and the Marist Brothers have lost a devoted member of their Order. Brother Blidan was born in 1877 and came to South Africa in 1896. He was strong, well-built and full of life and energy. After some years in Johannesburg, he went to Cape Town and afterwards became Principal of St. Augustine's Government School at Port Elizabeth. While there he formed the Cadet Corps which later became one of the best in the Eastern Province and he himself was made a Captain. In 1920 he went to Europe on a visit to his people, and on his return became Principal of the Cape Town School. In 1923 he returned to Port Elizabeth where he did great work. Bro. Blidan was now a Major and during the visit of the Prince of Wales, a detachment of his Cadet Corps acted as guard of honour for His Royal Highness. He returned to Johannesburg in 1937 where hard work began to tell and his health failed rapidly. He worked to the end, however, and after a serious operation he died on the 9th August. Bro. Blidan was a real teacher and a good religious.

R.I.P.

We regret to announce the death of Master E. Harris of Standard 3 who died during the July holidays. We extend our deepest sympathy to his parents and family.

R.I.P.

We regret to announce the death, on 29 September, of Mr. R. Cohen, an old friend of the School.

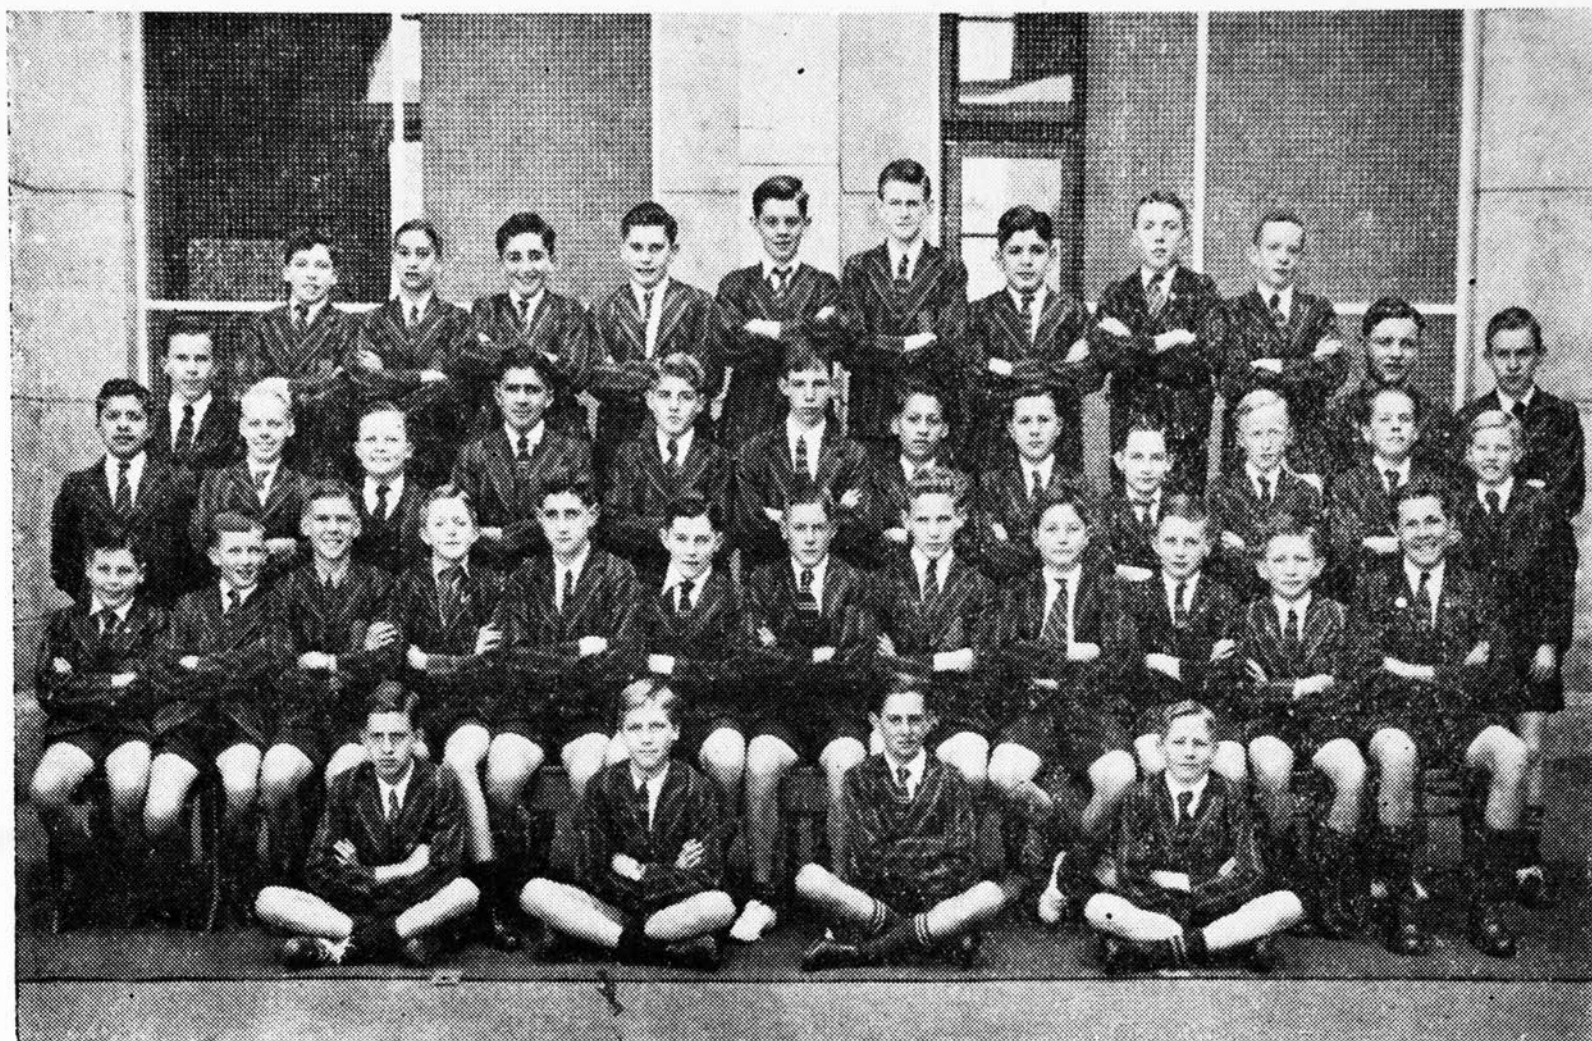

R.I.P.

Mr. Ingle who was for many years the piano-master at Koch Street died early in the year, and to Mrs. Ingle and the members of his family we extend our sincerest sympathy.

R.I.P.

Bishop O'Leary visited the School on 4 September. For the first time, the new monthly cards were given out. Bro. Benedict, who was responsible for designing the new cards, is to be complimented on a brilliant job of work.

On 10 September, Mr. C. Penrose, Chairman of the Old Boys' Association, accompanied by other members of the Old Boys' Committee, paid a visit to Koch Street, and presented the "George Roy" Bursary to Master Oscar Zvanovich.

KOCH STREET SPORT.

INTER HOUSE FOOTBALL, SEASON 1942

This season's series of Inter House Football games were carried out with the keenness usually associated with this competition at Koch Street.

Geddes House attained a notable achievement in ousting O'Leary House from the position they have held for the last five years, and the "Blues" are to be congratulated on winning the Grace Cup, which was a fitting reward for their wonderful enthusiasm and esprit de corps. This is the fourth occasion on which Geddes House has won the Football Championship. Valerian House, the runners-up, have now occupied the second position for four seasons, and the prophets declare that the fifth time will be lucky.

The complete logs are as follows:—

INTER HOUSE FIVE A SIDE COMPETITION

The annual Five A Side tournament played on the Knock Out system usually evokes great excitement. This year was no exception. The tournament was spread over a week and after some hectic games and many periods of extra time, the ultimate winners proved to be Benedict.

The "Bens" certainly deserved their win as their teams produced the best play during the week. This is the first time the "Bens" have secured the King George V Silver Jubilee Trophy and their victory was very popular.

The Principal, Brother Thomas, who presented the trophy at the conclusion of the finals, congratulated the winners and also Geddes House which put up stern opposition by appearing in the finals in three sections.

Results (of Finals):—

- Under 11—Frederick beat O'Leary.
- Under 12—Benedict beat Geddes.
- Under 13—Valerian beat Geddes.
- Open—Benedict beat Geddes.

J.S.F.A. LEAGUES

Koch Street and school soccer are synonymous terms in football circles in Johannesburg. For many a day the Old School has turned out its youthful players in many teams from the Under 11 League upwards. On many suburban grounds the Blue and Gold jerseys have appeared and over the years many victories and many defeats have been recorded. For half a century Koch Street has been "soccer minded." And so 1942 still finds the School figuring prominently in the dribbling code.

For the sixteenth time the Under 13 League has been won, and the old trophy which first came to "Marists" as far back as 1903 is again here. The Under 13 "B", Under 12 "A" and Under 11 "A" teams are highly placed and each has finished as "Runners-up" in its respective section. Our three remaining teams, the Under 14, the Under 12 "B" and Under 11 "B" occupy third place in their log tables. The success of the teams is due to regular practice, keenness and enthusiasm and in no small measure to the devotion of the different masters to the teams under their charge. The Sports-master records his appreciation of those teachers who so willingly sacrificed much of their free time to assist in the training and management of so many teams.

This year's Under 14 was quite a good team but somewhat on the small side. Two very creditable victories were obtained over Queens "A" and Malvern, but the drawn games against Observatory Junior High put the side out of the running in the log. W. Knighton played many good games at full back and was ably partnered by G. Johannsen, who incidentally was given a trial for the S.T.F.A. Under 16 team. J. Munititch, A. de Nobrega and R. Farrar were responsible for the majority of the team's goals.

Most of this team's players and several others who were eligible played in the Nurse Shield (Under 15 Knock Out Competition), but after a replay against Sir John Adamson Junior High they had to yield to the superior weight of their opponents, losing by the odd goal in three.

The 1942, Under 13A was a well balanced team and proved that it was the best in the competition, by winning all their matches in convincing style. They played as a team should play football, and were always in happy spirit either on or off the field.

Practices were always attended; it was pleasing to see them practising new tricks every morning before school began and at it again at twelve. The team completed an unbeaten record by defeating the East Rand Under 13½ Champions, Wit Deep, 3—2.

This team was handicapped on a number of occasions by injuries and illness to regular players, but nevertheless succeeded in finishing second to Observatory J.H., and did better than any other "B" team has done for a number of years. H. Arendse in the forward line scored eight goals, and other players worthy of mention are B. Wilson, the captain, R. Fowkes, B. Simm, B. Conway and G. Short. J. Barnett in goal also acquitted himself very well and gave some outstanding displays.

This team was unfortunate in losing three matches in the beginning of the second round which resulted in it being second in the log. All the players played well on the whole and deserve special mention about the keen manner in which they practised.

The defence was sound and V. Pala was consistent as left back, while the goalkeeper, T. O'Reilly, was always reliable. The outstanding half was B. Cooke, who was good in defence and in attack. J. Agliotti as centre forward showed good form at the beginning of the season and scored ten goals in three matches but fell off towards the end of the fixtures. The two wings were prominent, and these two boys, L. Traub and C. Almeida, show promise for the future.

A number of the players in this team are boarders and will not be available for the Under 13 teams next year but we hope to hear of them at Inanda from time

This team suffered from a lack of scoring forwards throughout the season and would have done much better if it had been able to have a few boys who could shoot. Three games were lost by the smallest possible margin 0—1, and two games drawn. D. Silcock, T. Knighton and R. Lewington were the pick of the players, but one and all were keen and this is the thing which counts most.

Under 11 "A" Team

The Under 11 Team had a successful season and finished only one point behind the section winners, Jewish Government School, which was the one school to secure a win over us.

C. Wilson and E. Pala contributed largely to the team's forty-five goals by scoring 25 between them, the former 13 and the latter 12.

R. Marshall and T. Smith were two other forwards who played well, while B. Silcock and K. Pelsler as backs and N. Ansaro in the goals held the defence satisfactorily. R. Ballman was promoted from the "B" team after a few matches and was certainly not out of his depth.

A number of the players will still be available for the Under 11 next season and their experience will stand them in good stead.

Considering that this is our youngest team and that it was the only "B" team in its section the results were more than satisfactory. A number of the team's players were promoted to the "A" team during the season and though this somewhat weakened the "B", the opportunity rose for several more youthful internationals to be tried out! Only three games were lost but four were drawn, which shows that more often than not we were as good as our opponents. Practice was held in the school yard — a tarred surface—but this did not damp the ardour of the players and enthusiasm made up for lack of inches. The most pleasing aspect of the season has been the steady progress made by the forward line where H. Morgan, F. Fall, D. Nobrega and R. Smith were prominent.

KOCH STREET ANNUAL ATHLETIC SPORTS, 1942

The Annual Athletic Sports were held at the Wanderers on the 25th March, 1942 in fine weather. There was a large gathering of parents and friends and great enthusiasm prevailed during the afternoon over the Inter-House Competition, which was eventually won by Valerian House. Many fine performances were witnessed and a new record was established by O'Leary House in the Under 12 Relay. P. Cox was the outstanding athlete and was declared Victor Ludorum, G. Perks being the runner-up. Rev. Bro. Osmond (Provincial) presented the Floating Trophies at the conclusion of the Sports.

FLIGHT-LIEUT. PATRICK DEVINE, D.F.C., OF THE R.A.F.

From early boyhood Paddy's heart was set on flying. He was a happy-go-lucky lad, almost daredevil in manner and usually acquitted himself well at the College Athletic meetings.

After leaving school, determined that nothing would come between him and his ambition, Paddy bought a motorcycle to enable him to attend early-morning flying instruction — under Captain Halse — at Baragwanath. He made rapid progress and in record time obtained his pilot's A licence. Soon after that he passed Navigation Tests and flying blind, did the return flight to Pietersburg.

In 1938 Paddy found employment at the new Imperial Airways flying boat base at Salisbury Island. This was only a means to an end, and shortly afterwards he sailed to England to join the R.A.F. When war broke out Paddy was a pilot officer and he was sent to Lincolnshire to fly the latest fighter plane, the Spitfire. Then came the fateful Battle of Britain and thereafter he was posted to No. 22 Torpedo Bomber Squadron, and was one of the first to fly the new Bristol Beaufort bombers against the U-boat menace. Later he was transferred to Malta where he did valuable reconnaissance work and took part in many raids over Italian territory, scoring direct hits on many important objectives. In August last year he was ferrying solo a new Maryland bomber from Egypt to Malta in convoy. Separated from his comrades near Bardia and attacked by eight Messerschmitts, he escaped by skilful flying and flew his plane 650 miles across the sea without navigation "fix" and landed safely in Malta.

This was the crowning event of a long period of achievement, and, to quote the words of the official citation when he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross in August, 1941, "outstanding efficiency and high example."
